The Pact Is Signed.
$25,000 for 2,000 Words.
Jersey for Smith Says Hague.
Helen Wills Is for Hoover.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright, 1928.)

THE Kellogg peace pact is signed. What will the United States do with it?

Germany signed first, and Briand, brilliant Frenchman, spoke cordially of Stresemann, the German statesman, and praised Secretary Kellogg, calling Woodrow Wilson Mr. Kellogg's "illustrious forerunner."

Briand supposed the pact was signed in France, "thanks to her constant effort in the cause of peace."

The constant efforts of Napoleon I and Napoleon III were not exactly in the cause of peace. But they represented their own vanity, not the real French people.

THAT peace pact, for the "renunciation of war," is sincerely meant. If it has no strings, attaching us to the League of Nations, it will be acceptable to the American people.

But they will notice that Europe's armies today are bigger than in 1913 before the Great War.

THREE MILLION men are under arms in Europe now; other hundreds of thousands have been called to the colors for training. Swift mobilization is practiced.

France has 686,000 men under arms; Italy 347,000; England 408,000. Germany and Russia alone have reduced—Germany from 800,000 to 100,000; Russia from 1,200,000 to 900,000.

There is plenty of powder ready for the match. This country should think of preparation besides talking of sweet peace.

MR. W. C. DURANT, automobile manufacturer, who believes prohibition a good thing, offers $25,000 for the best essay, not longer than 2,000 words, telling how to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mr. Durant, paraphrasing Abraham Lincoln, wonders whether our "institutions can endure with a citizenship half law-abiding and half lawless?"

The answer is "yes, it can."

The prosperous class has usually done much as it pleased. It doesn't break little laws about pocket picking and stealing. It doesn't need to.

It not only breaks but despises and teaches its children to despise a prohibition law that interferes with its pleasure.

IF lawmakers really meant to enforce prohibition, which they don't mean, they would make purchase of alcoholic drinks a felony, punished by imprisonment and heavy fine, fines to be divided by bootleggers giving information, the informers going scot free.

Respectability is willing to break the law with the aid of a bootlegger, but wouldn't run the risk of being blackmailed by the bootlegger afterward.

PROHIBITION can be enforced if a majority of the people want it. If they don't want it, it cannot be enforced.

Changing a people's habits by law is not easy. The old French king could not even prevent his subjects wearing shoes with toes so long that they had to be bent backward and upward and tied to their knees.

THE mayor of Jersey City tells Gov. Smith that he has already won New Jersey, and will get its electoral vote

Mayor Hague ought to know, for with his organization he has carried New Jersey, electing governors and senators for many years.

HELEN WILLS is for Hoover, will vote for him, and work as head of the sports division in the "Women's Committee for Herbert Hoover."

That announcement offsets two or three large Wall Street men leaving the Republicans to join the Democrats.

If all those that admire the wonderful young California girl vote for Hoover, his plurality will make that of Mr. Coolidge look small.

MRS. COHAN, mother of a famous son, George M. Cohan, died yesterday. Thousands will sympathize with the brilliant and only survivor of the Cohan family who wrote the best war song, "Over There."

Those no longer young will remember that family united as the "Four Cohans," mother, father, daughter and son, happy together and making others happy.

THE Guaranty Trust Company fears injury to business caused by the present high cost of money.

The statement coming from an authority should interest President Coolidge. The interest rate in Wall Street yesterday was 8 per cent. That is usury, and usurers should be jailed.

FINANCIAL institutions, encouraged by the Federal Reserve Board, are openly practicing usury, driving control of the world's money market from the United States to England, threatening prosperity and gouging business men by a deliberate conspiracy to increase interest rates.

IF A lot of workmen formed against their employer such a conspiracy as financial institutions have formed against the business men of America some judge would quickly issue an injunction to restrain them.

But high finance IS the government, to a large extent And there is nothing in sight to restrain that usurious conspiracy.

DENY DAPPER DEATH LETTER

HIS WIDOW, GRILLED, GIVES NO CLUE

Mrs. Harry R. Dapper, widow of the Carrick physician mysteriously slain by a stranger who lured him into the country with a tale of a "sick wife" a week ago, was questioned by county detectives and two assistant district attorneys today.

Mrs. Dapper, still grieving for her husband, whose death has been clouded by a heavy veil of mystery, arrived at the District Attorney's office shortly before 11 o'clock this morning, supported by her father-in-law, Henry A. Dapper, lone witness to the tragedy. Detectives are seeking information concerning the physician's private life, which they hope may throw some light on a probable motive for the slaying.

Acting Chief of County Detectives Harry Cochran declared just before the quiz that he did not wish to cast the least suspicion on any member of the family, but expressed a hope that some trifling detail of the physician's actions the night of the murder, or some seemingly unimportant phase of the young doctor's life might possibly give the detectives some clue upon which to work.

Thus far there has been nothing to help the sleuths who have searched practically every country lane, county road and state highway for miles around Mifflin township.

ASKED ABOUT ACTIONS

Mrs. Dapper was questioned about the physician's actions just prior to leaving home in company with the stranger. He was said to have talked with his wife and requested her to ask a neighbor to accompany him on his errand of mercy to the bedside of the "sick wife" for whom the stranger plead.

A number of other matters pertaining chiefly to the physician's private life were gone into. Among these were the matter of finance and a report that Dr. Dapper had a safety deposit box in a downtown bank. Both Mrs. Dapper and her father-in-law denied this.

Mrs. Dapper was questioned for more than an hour by Acting District Attorney Andrew T. Park, with Acting Chief County Detective Harry B. Cochran and Detective Frank Ritz. At the conclusion of the quiz, the officials said nothing had developed that would aid in unraveling the mystery. The entire case was gone over, and Mrs. Dapper was questioned concerning the private affairs of her husband. She said he never had received threatening letters.

At the conclusion of the questioning of Mrs. Dapper, H. A. Dapper, father of the slain doctor, was

French Police Put Lid On U. S. Feminist's Crusade

(Associated Press.)

RAMBOUILLET, France, Aug. 28.

DORIS STEVENS, American feminist leader, and three others of a group of feminists who appeared at the presidential chateau gates today in behalf of the equal rights movement, were held in custody at the police commissariat for several hours for failure to have their identity papers.

DORIS STEVENS

They were released this afternoon after statesmen who had lunched with President Doumergue had gone. The women had sought a 10 minutes' audience with the President's guests, who yesterday signed the Kellogg-Briand renunciation-of-war treaty. The plan of the feminists was to discuss with them a project for an international treaty establishing equal rights for men and women.

Those held over the noon hour with Miss Stevens were Mrs. Loring Pickering, Fanny Bernard, of France, and Mrs. Betty Gram Swing, formerly of Portland, Ore., and now wife of an English correspondent. They all left for Paris.

SLAPPED, KILLS ONE, SHOOTS ANOTHER

Resenting a reprimand for attempting to tear down barricades in Crucible street, Elliott, last night, and bested in an argument with a man many years his junior, William A. Brown, 70, a contractor, of 1227 Crucible street, returned in a drunken rage, according to police, and shot two men, one fatally. He was wounded by a policeman when he resisted arrest.

The victims are Frank Wall, 75, a private watchman, and James T. Aston, 69, chief inspector of the city bureau of engineering, 1100 Crucible street. Wall is dead and Aston is in a critical condition in the Mercy Hospital.

Brown had been annoying people in the street, according to police, and began to protest about the time taken by city workmen in repairing Crucible street. He proceeded to take down the barricades, police say, when G. M. Zipf, 42, son-in-law of Aston, reprimanded him. Aston and Wall had attempted to dissuade Brown, but to no avail.

When Zipf reprimanded Brown police say, Brown struck the former and Zipf retaliated with a slap in the face. Brown went home but returned a short time later with a revolver and began shooting.

Leaving the two men where he had shot them down in front of Aston's home, Brown started back to his own home and Patrolman Charles Bloomer started after him. As the patrolman approached, it is said, Brown turned the weapon on him, but the officer fired first and Brown received a slight wound in the leg. He is in the South Side Hospital.

Phila. Vote Boosts Smith

First returns from Philadelphia, which show a pronounced inclination for Gov. Alfred E. Smith, enabled the Democratic candidate to increase his slight lead over Herbert Hoover in the straw vote poll in Pennsylvania conducted by the Sun-Telegraph.

Rural returns had somewhat reduced the substantial initial Smith lead in Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania poll today reached these totals: Smith 2,576; Hoover, 2,502.

Returns from Philadelphia show a considerable drift from the Coolidge vote in 1924, when the present straw voters balloted more than 10 to 1 for Coolidge against Davis. They also show a larger percentage of women in support of Smith than Hoover.

The division between men and women in the tabulation to date shows: Smith: Men, 1,449; women, 1,127; Hoover: Men, 1,329; women, 1,173: Coolidge: men, 1,738; women, 1,520: Davis: Men, 211; women, 130: LaFollette: Men, 486; women, 300.

There is a marked increase in the numbers of ballots being returned from various counties in Pennsylvania. The canvass in the state, which is conducted in connection with the nation-wide poll by the Hearst papers to ascertain the sentiment in the presidential contest, indicates that interest in the campaign is mounting as the candidates become active.

PFISCHNER, YOUNGEST STATE SENATOR, DIES

Senator Edward Pfischner, of Millvale, youngest member of the upper legislative house of Pennsylvania, died in St. Francis Hospital at 7 o'clock this morning. A relapse, after it was thought he was recovering from an operation for appendicitis, resulted in his death.

Taken ill Friday in a downtown office, he was rushed to the hospital and the operation was performed Saturday morning. He died so suddenly members of his family were unable to be at his bedside.

Succeeding Cadawallader Barr two years ago, Senator Pfischner was only 27 years old. He was the son of Burgess E. B. W. Pfischner, of Millvale.

While a member of the legislative body but a short time, he had taken an especial interest in roadways and had sponsored a bill during the last session providing for construction of sidewalks on county and state roads to protect pedestrians.

Besides his legislative work, the young Senator was associated with his father as assistant to the president of the E. T. Lippert Saw Company. He was a member of the Masonic order, Allegheny Lodge No. 339, Elks, and other fraternal organizations, as well as the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Millvale.

Besides his father, Senator Pfischner leaves his widow, Alice Horrocks Pfischner; a daughter, Virginia; a brother, Charles, and a sister, Alma.

Funeral services will be held at his late home in Millvale Acres.

LINK CHECK TO MELLON IN VARE QUIZ

W. L. Mellon, Republican state chairman, arranged for the payment of $1,000 to Lawrence Alvino, of the Italian Voters' League, for the dissemination of information during the 1926 Vare-Wilson campaign, Alvino testified before the Senate sub-committee today.

Alvino stated he had immediately indorsed the check to Miss G. G. Trill, head of the stenographic bureau, in payment for preparing and sending letters according to arrangements made in Mellon's office. The check, which was signed by S. J. Topley, was given to Miss Trill by A. E. Brice, secretary to Mellon, Alvino testified.

She brought it to Alvino's pharmacy where he indorsed it, receiving from her a receipt which was admitted as evidence. The authenticity of this receipt was questioned by R. B. Mahany, counsel for William B. Wilson, who demanded that Senator C. K. Waterman, who is presiding, call in experts to determine that the ink was two years old. This Waterman declined to do.

Charles B. Prichard, one of William S. Vare's attorneys, then challenged Mahany to produce his own experts to prove the check was not authentic. Counsel for Wilson contended that either Miss Trill or Alvino should have filed a report at Harrisburg showing the disposition of the money, Waterman demanding that they produce some law to support their stand and later ruled the point at issue out of order.

The printed copy of Charles C. McGovern's report of the controller's office for 1926 was not admitted as evidence when Prichard objected, saying the book is not a true copy of the report as filed with the prothonotary. Counsel for Wilson then withdrew the book until they can establish it as a true copy.

CLEAR AUDIT ANGLE

Discussion of the McGovern book, which is said to differ materially from the original report filed with the prothonotary, came when Controller Robert G. Woodside followed Alvino to the stand. Asked by

Rail Link to Sea Started

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

A steam shovel bit into the earth today starting the cuts and fills which will link Pittsburgh to the Atlantic seaboard with a new railroad trunk line. The gap of 38 miles between the lines of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway and those of the Western Maryland Railway will be closed, forming a railroad system stretching from Baltimore through Pittsburgh to Cleveland and Detroit. Connections with the line will cause it to affect traffic as far west as Duluth, Minn.

The new trackage will extend from Cochran Mills, on the Pittsburgh and West Virginia, to Connellsville, where the line will connect with the Western Maryland. The Wheeling and Lake Erie Railway, which is already linked to the Pittsburgh and West Virginia, will form the western portion of the system.

CONCEIVED BY GOULD

The new line advances a plan undertaken over 20 years ago by the Gould interests who proposed to link the three roads to form a great transcontinental system. After the failure of the original project it lay dormant until F. E. Taplin, chairman of the board and president of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia, began to play an important part in the fight between the great carriers to build stronger systems by consolidation.

The starting of work marks the end of a bitter struggle before the

FOUR ARRESTS FOLLOW BURIAL ALIVE

MONESSEN, Aug. 28.—Two children—girls, one aged 14, the other 13—were held with their parents yesterday on a charge of murder at a coroner's inquest into the deaths and burial of twin babies in a chicken pen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hlatky here.

The jury's verdict was that the babies had come to their death through suffocation. It is alleged they were buried alive.

Neither the mother nor father was at the inquest yesterday. The mother is in the Monessen hospital under police guard, and the father is in the Westmoreland county jail.

Four of the couple's five children, however, were required to attend. They appeared not to understand the intricate machinery of the law.

Milton, 8, gaped wide-eyed when his sisters, Margaret, 14, and Elizabeth, 15 were called from his side and questioned. Agnes, 11, another sister stood stolidly beside him.

There were many questions about the babies Milton remembers only vaguely. He turned to Agnes with a question when his mother was mentioned.

"Mom's in the hospital, ain't she?" he wanted to know.

Apparently, he couldn't grasp that anything was wrong. The twin babies were only a memory like his brother, John, 11, who went away not so long ago. John is in Morganza on charges of robbery.

The wheels of justice turned slowly. Brother and sister huddled closer as the coroner, health officer and other strange men fired strange questions at the two older sisters.

It was all over in a little while, John and Agnes waited rather expectantly, but suddenly Agnes tugged at his arm and said they would be going home.

Going home without Elizabeth and Margaret? He apparently did not understand that, but he went quietly. The two older girls are being held in the detention rooms of the Monessen municipal jail.

Mother, father and children will face the next grand jury at Greensburg in the fall.

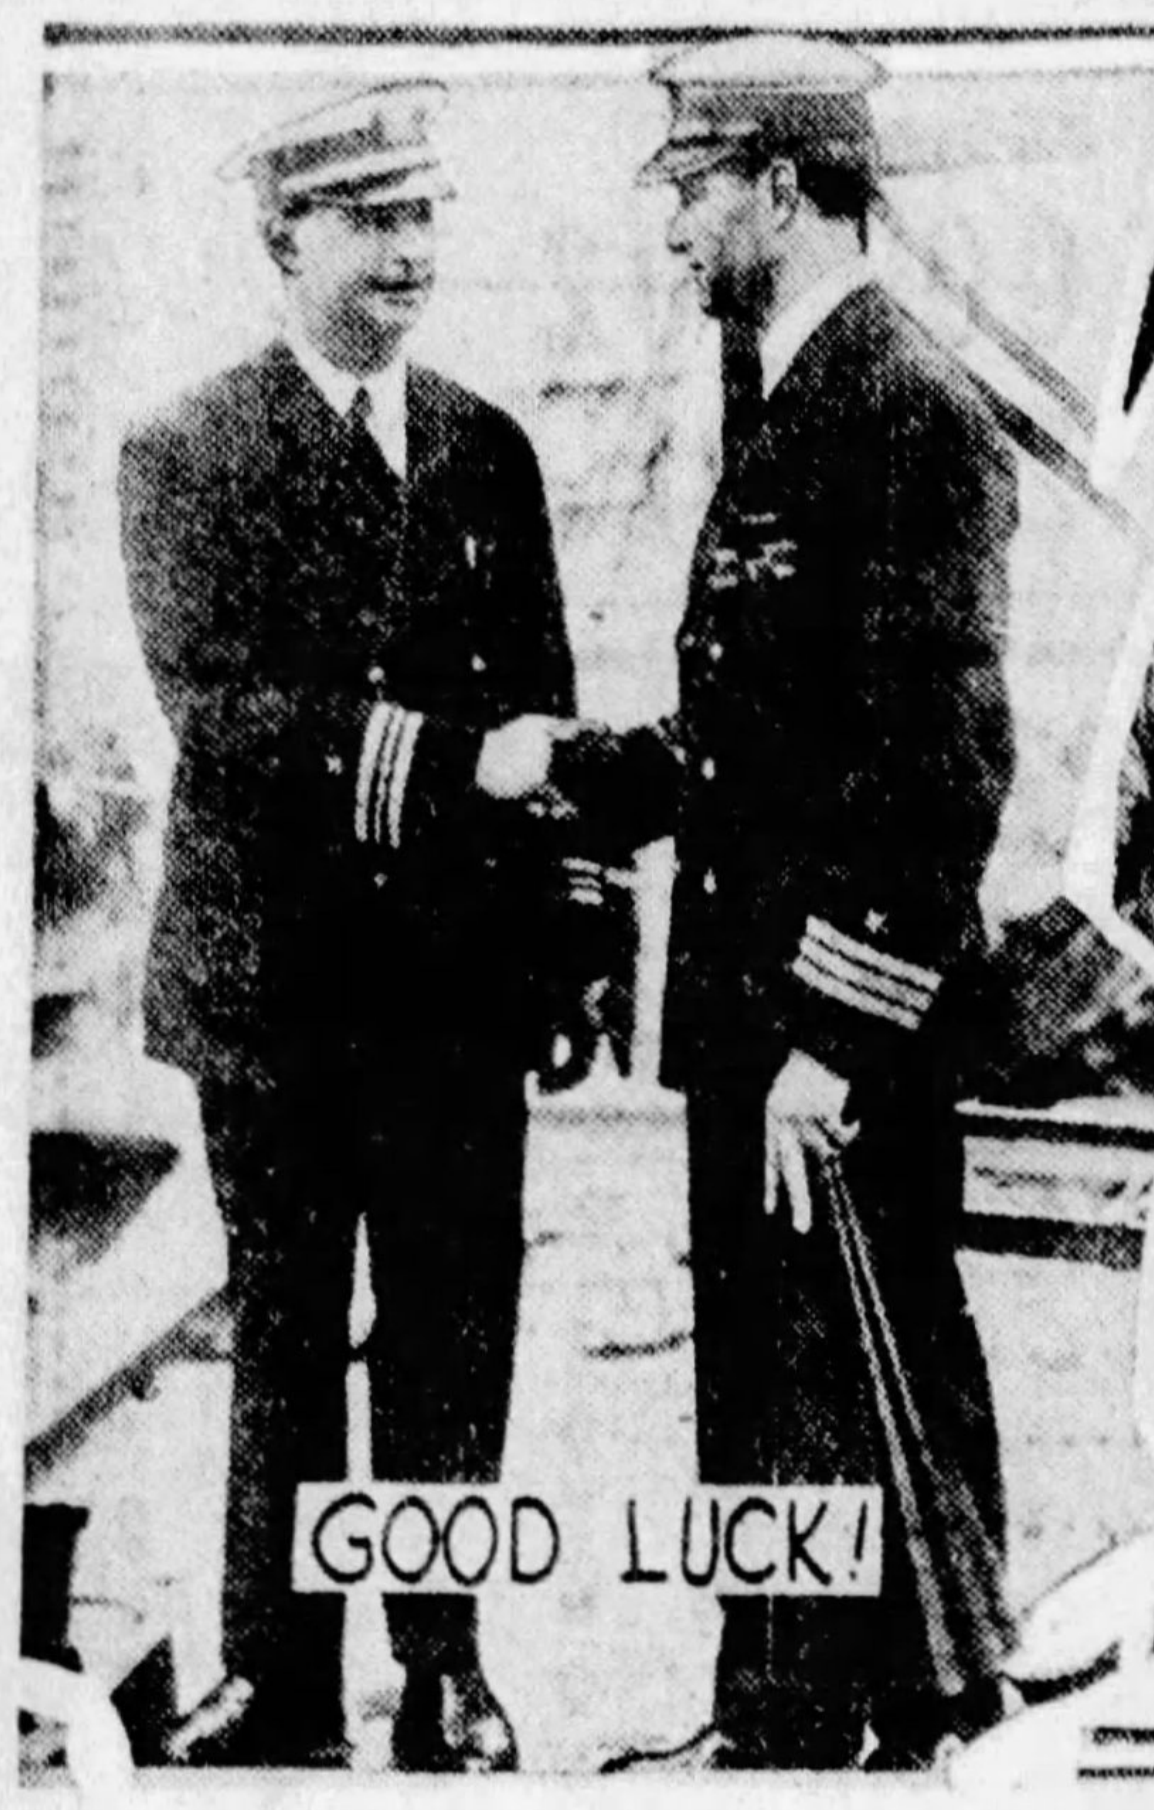
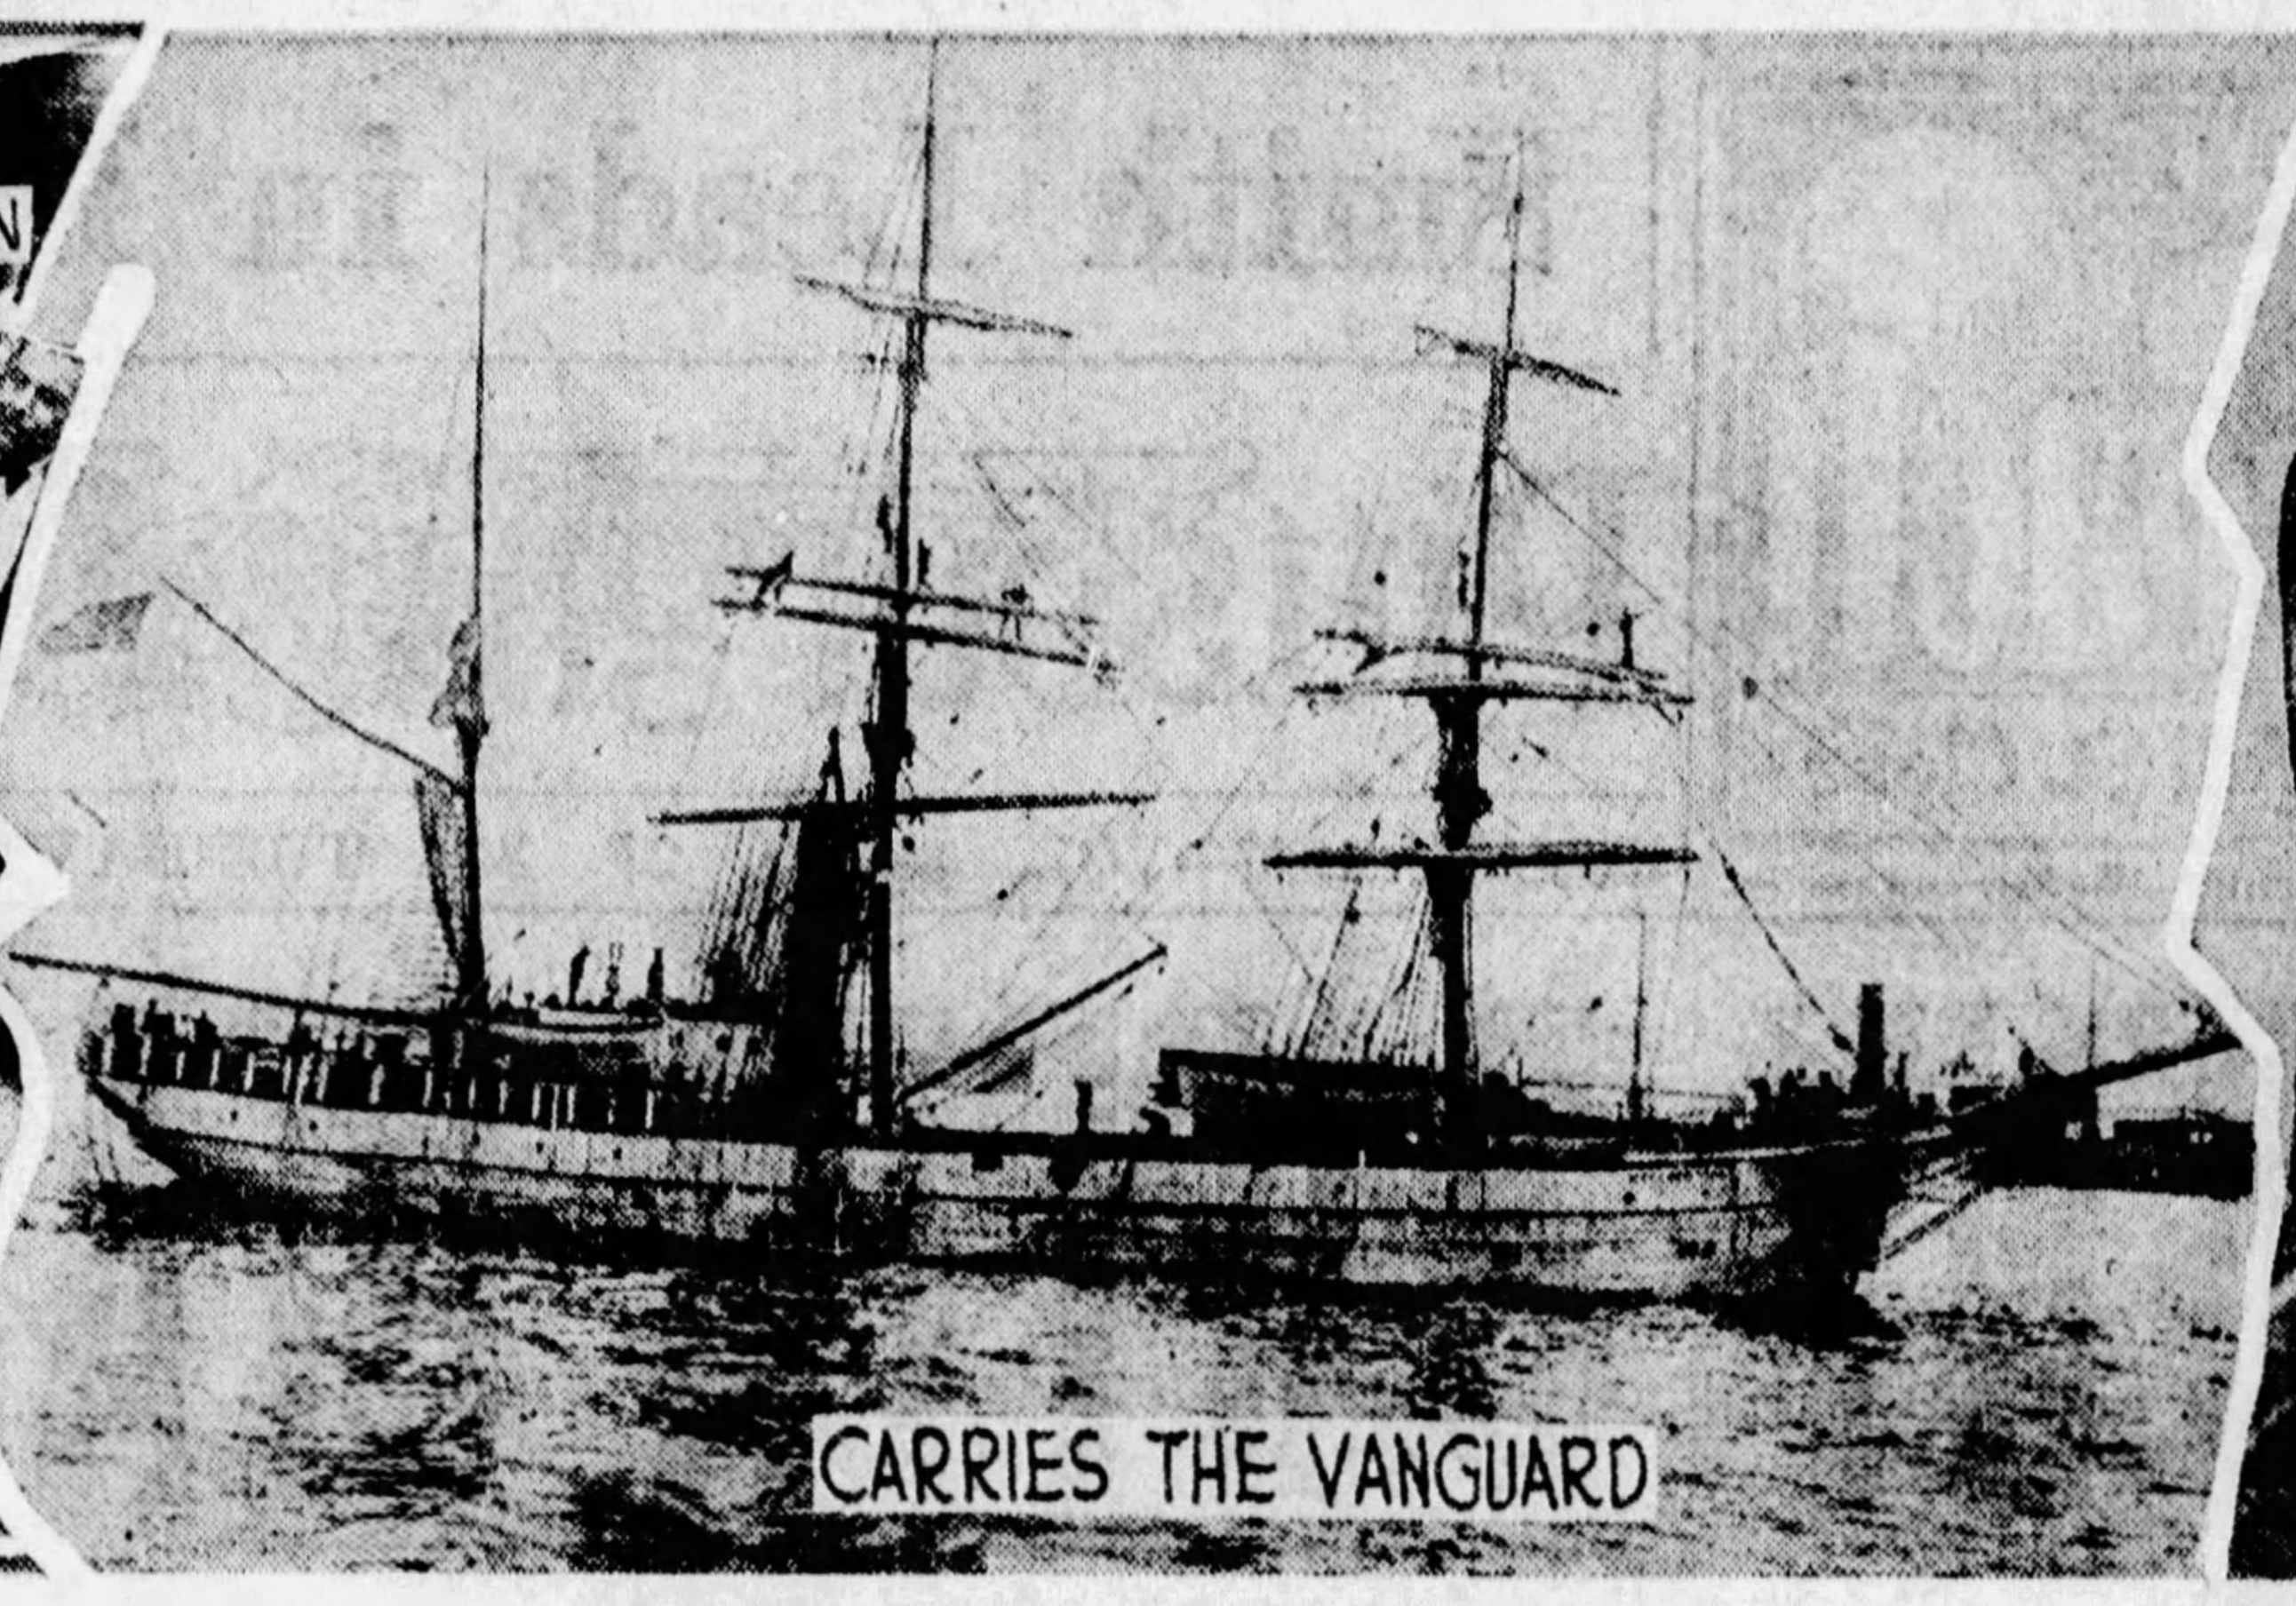
Vanguard of Byrd Expedition -:- Sails the High and Mighty Seas -:- With Erie's First Boy Scout



ERIE'S FAVORITE SON
THEY WAVED BEST WISHES



"SO LONG" TO DAD

THEY'RE OFF!

Most thrilling of all modern lengthy explorations, the Byrd Antarctic expedition is on its way. Here you see Commander Byrd (right) bidding a temporary goodby to Capt. Fred C. Melville, master of the S. S. City of New York, expedition ship.

WITH THE BEST WISHES OF ALL!

When the ship, which is on the high seas today with the vanguard of the expedition, steamed out of New York harbor, there was aboard the proudest young man in these United States—Paul Siple, of Erie, Pa., chosen from all the Boy Scouts of the land, to accompany this search for the South Pole. Erie Scouts saw Paul off and of course his mother, accompanied by Mr. Siple, was there to kiss her 19-year-old son goodby—the last she'll see of him for two years.

THREE STOWAWAYS FAIL

This is the "City of New York," which sailed out of New York for the South, there to be met by Commander Byrd and the remaining personnel of the expedition. Three stowaways were uncovered after the ship had slipped into the waters, the third a young Negro, who resisted appearing until he realized that members of the crew were indulging in a choice article of "dessert"—watermelon! Thousands were lined on barges and along the docks when the most completely outfitted expedition of all time set under way.

AU REVOIR!

C. O. Peterson, one of Byrd's officers, aboard the "City of New York," spends the few moments before leaving with his daughter, Charmaine, and his wife. Charmaine doubtless insisted on numerous reports on conditions at the world's bottom.

VARE LOSES 3,576 VOTES HERE

The recount made by the Senate committee investigating the Wilson-Vare election contest of 1926 has left the contents of 24 of Pittsburgh's 720 ballot boxes still in dispute, according to information received today.

In addition, 1,737 votes have been protested by one side or the other. Of these 1,423 are protested by William B. Wilson, Democrat, who is contesting the election of William S. Vare, while the latter is protesting against the counting of 314 Wilson votes, according to the report.

The information shows that the recount to date has resulted in a gain of 688 votes for Wilson in Pittsburgh and a loss of 3,576 for Vare. The official count was: Vare, 57,756; Wilson, 20,336. The recount gives: Vare, 54,180; Wilson, 21,024.

Approximately a dozen ballot boxes in Allegheny county outside of Pittsburgh still are being disputed. These include, it was said, boxes from Braddock, Homestead and McKees Rocks.

In the county outside of Pittsburgh the recount also showed a slight gain for Wilson and a loss for Vare. However, it was said that even if all of the contested items should be decided in favor of Wilson, the effect would be only to reduce the Vare majority in the county.

Counsel for Wilson, though, judging by their questions at the hearings before the committee, seem to be working in an effort to prove that changes made during the recount are merely indications of wholesale frauds that have not yet come to light.

W. J. O'TOOLE KILLED IN FALL; WAS ENVOY

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 28.—William J. O'Toole, 35, former minister to Paraguay, general manager of the American Coal Cleaning Corporation, at Welch, W. Va., was killed by a fall from a tipple at Welch, according to word received here yesterday. His father, Edward O'Toole, president of the company, is en route to Australia. The family formerly resided in Fayette county.

LINK CHECKS TO MELLON

Senator Waterman if he had brought the records of the investigation of the fiscal affairs of the county conducted by McGovern when the latter was controller, he answered:

"I have brought the testimony given at the alleged audit conducted by my predecessor."

The mystery of the manner in which the Wilson attorneys intended to link the McGovern audit with this election contest seemed to clear when their questions were directed at the payments made to clerks in the office of the county commissioners for overtime work during the 1926 election period.

In answer to queries, Woodside stated that he had paid James A. Routley, as paymaster for the Commissioners' election force, the sum of $6,580.30. At the audit Routley testified that he had paid this amount in varying sums to clerks who worked overtime.

Arthur Stahl, an employe of the Controller's office, testified that he had received $80 overtime for his work in making copies of the specifications and copy of the ballots used in 1926. He made two copies, he said, turning them over to Gilbert Cloonan.

County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, who followed Stahl on the stand, was grilled by David Wallerstein, chief of the Wilson counsel, on the disposition of the records of the ballots used in 1926. Just as Commissioner E. V. Babcock did yesterday, Armstrong testified that the records were destroyed after having been kept one year, which the Commissioners considered the proper period.

"Do you know how many ballots were ordered?" asked Wallerstein.

"No," replied Armstrong.

"Did you ever know?"

"I presume I did at the time," said Armstrong, hazarding the estimate that there were between 400,000 and 500,000.

The examination of Armstrong resolved itself into heated interchange on the question of whether the commissioner knew that Wilson had field a contest against Vare before the record of the number of ballots sent to each district was destroyed.

"When did you first hear of this contest?" insisted Wallerstein.

"The first contest I heard of was when there was an effort to keep Vare out of the Senate beceuase of the money spent at the primary," said Armstrong. "Reed sent a delegation here to get the records. Then another delegation came from your committee."

"I have no committee," interrupted Wallerstein. "Do you mean to say you didn't know there was a contest until you were asked for these records?"

"As far as I can see, there is no contest now outside of you," remarked Armstrong. "The first I knew of it was when your delegation asked for more records. The only contest I knew of before that time was to keep Vare out of the Senate on account of expenditures."

"Then you did know there was opposition to Vare?"

"Sure. I opposed him myself. What's more, we carried the county against him," the witness said, referring to the Vare-Pepper primary.

After considerable wrangling, Waterman fixed the official date of the filing of the Wilson contest as January 8, 1927.

The first witnesses today were John R. Stroble and Louis Golder of the Pittsburgh Printing Company, who testified briefly concerning the delivery of the 1926 ballots to the commissioners.

Intruder Caught by Woman

Shoving Albert Brum, 26, of Church avenue, Carrick, into the basement of her home, Mrs. Ida Hartley, 26, of 205 Spencer street, held him a prisoner until she summoned police and caused his arrest.

Today in Morals Court Brum was held for mental examination.

Mrs. Hartley said Brum, representing himself as a prospective purchaser of the Hartley home, had lifted her bodily upon a sink, while on an inspection tour of the house yesterday.

START WORK ON NEW RAIL LINK

Interstate Commerce Commission. The application for the extension was strenuously opposed by competing trunk lines. Final victory was secured only a few weeks ago, when the commission ruled against the Baltimore and Ohio and Nickel Plate railroads, who sought to reopen the case.

The full sphere of influence of the new route between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic depends on future decisions of the commission. The line of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia is only 60 miles in length, but its strategical position between the Western Maryland and the Wheeling and Lake Erie and its valuable terminal facilities in Pittsburgh may make it the keystone of a gigantic merger in the future.

W. & L. E. HOLDINGS

The Pittsburgh and West Virginia on December 31 owned at market value $789,960 of preferred and $2,726,917 of the common stock of the Wheeling and Lake Erie. Application has been made to the commission for permission to acquire enough additional stock to obtain control. The New York Central, the Baltimore and Ohio and the New York, Chicago and St. Louis each owned about $3,839,700 of prior lien, $493,400 of preferred and $5,597,000 of common stock in August, 1927. These carriers are opposing the Taplin plan.

Plants in the Pittsburgh district which in the past were dependent on a single railroad will be given the benefit of competition by the new line. The Pittsburgh Steel Company and the American Steel and Wire Company are planning to extend their plant railroads in the vicinity of Donora, Monessen and Allenport to connect with the new link. The Monongahela Valley will be served by three competing trunk lines instead of only two—the Pennsylvania and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie.

TERMINAL BIG FACTOR

The completion of the new line will make the Pittsburgh and West Virginia's terminal in the Wabash Building at Liberty avenue and Ferry street an important factor in handling through passenger traffic. The extensive terminal facilities were built when the road was a part of the Wabash system.

The subsequent segregation of the Wabash units reduced the number of trains using the station to only a few a day.

Swindled By Fake Taxers

Hundreds of merchants have been swindled of various sums by fake collectors, representing themselves as being from the Mercantile Appraiser's office. Complaints have been pouring in recently, as September 1, the date on which the taxes become delinquent, nears.

Merchants in the western portion of the county appear to have been hardest hit by the collectors.

The Mercantile Apraiser's office does not employ collectors, and police have been asked to aid in the search for the swindlers. The majority of the complaints are from the smaller merchants.

BUS CHARTER REQUESTED

The Allegheny Motor Coach Company this morning applied to the Public Service Commission for permission to operate a bus line from New Kensington to Pittsburgh. D. B. Blackburn, R. B. Blackburn and A. B. Coleman are the owners of the company. The route proposed is from New Kensington by the Freeport road to Hulton, to Oakmont and into the city by way of Bigelow boulevard.

SEARCH FOR SHARON MAN IN LAKE FUTILE

SHARON, Pa., Aug. 28. — A 48-hour search of Yankee Lake, near here, failed to reveal trace of Peter Petcoff, 22, who is believed to have been drowned there Sunday.

HOOVER ADVISED EAST INVOLVES BIG FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Continuing conferences with Republican campaign managers in the East, Herbert Hoover today was assembling information upon which to base a decision as to the extent he will participate personally in the presidential fight there.

William H. Hill, chairman of the New York State Committee, had an engagement with the Republican standard bearer to supplement the advices given him yesterday by Charles D. Hilles, national committeeman for New York, and Daniel E. Pomeroy, vice chairman of the New Jersey committee.

NEEDS ATTENTION

Reports received by Hoover since his return from the West indicate that the Eastern situation is one requiring attention and his advisers are urging him to go into New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey for at least one speech for each state and more if time can be found for them.

After he has canvassed the Eastern situation, he will be in a position to fairly well map out his campaign up to election time. It is certain that he will take advantage of his swing back to his home in California to vote for making a series of addresses. Whether he will take the Northern route home, through Wisconsin, Minnesota, Montana and Oregon, or the Southern route remains to be determined.

GOING TO MIDWEST

Before that time he very probably will go into the Middle West, speaking at Chicago and some other cities, and also into the Border States, but these addresses are likely to follow those in the East.

Some of his advisers think he should speak in New York and nearby states not later than early October.

WIDOW GIVES NO CLUE

again questioned, principally concerning what happened in the auto during the ride to the scene of the crime.

The elder Dapper's statement that he said to the assassin "You ought to be ashamed to shoot a young man like that," when Dr. Dapper cried out, "Grab him, I'm shot," was gone into at length, but the father insisted that that was his statement as he lunged at the slayer. The questioning of the father also lasted an hour.

CLUES EXPLODED

Two more clues were exploded last night when detectives returned from Washington and Greene counties. The green sedan bearing license 22-037 in which the slayer escaped had been reported seen near Van Voorhiss and also along Ten Mile Creek. Detectives say both tips were mere rumors.

The sleuths are still running down a report received yesterday from Jennie Adams, 13, a Pittsburgh girl, who said she saw the automobile in Jerseyville, Ill., last week while she was visiting relatives there. Police of all Middle West cities have been given descriptions of the car and the slayer and have been asked to seek the missing machine.

The man who called at the home of Dr. Daniel Rechtenwald, Warrington avenue, early yesterday morning and asked him to attend a sick wife really was in search of medical attention for his wife, police say they learned. When Dr. Rechtenwald, fearing a plot similar to the Dapper killing, declined to respond, the visitor obtained the services of another physician, police say.

EX-JURY SUPERVISOR OF MERCER COUNTY DIES

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 28.—Robert W. Fruit, 70, for three terms jury commissioner of Mercer county, died yesterday at the Odd Fellows' Wayside Inn, Grove City. He was a son of Richard Fruit, former sheriff of the county.

I'm An Optimist—Davidson -:- Your Happiest Five Years? -:- The Next Five—McGraw

MISS SOFFEL

DR. DAVIDSON

ANN HARDING

MRS. GILLESPIE

JOHN McGRAW

MRS. JOHN SLOAN

LAW

The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph asked these prominent persons this question: what has been the happiest five-year period of your life? Attorney Sarah M. Soffel: "That is an embarrassing question to ask a woman attorney. I would pick out a year here and there—a graduation year; a pleasant vacation year and the first triumph in professional work."

EDUCATION

Dr. W. M. Davidson, superintendent of schools: "Taking life in five-year periods, the last five have always been the happiest with me. I am an optimist. The world is growing better and life is better and better. I look upon each succeeding year as a higher note in a grand crescendo which I enjoy as a melody of true happiness."

THE STAGE

Ann Harding, stage star: "What have been the five happiest years of my life? To answer that is easy enough. I have been married just two years, so we'll include those two and look forward confidently to the next three. These will make the five happiest years of my life." Miss Harding is the wife of Harry Bannister.

MRS. IRVIN L. GILLESPIE

Mrs. Irvin L. Gillespie: "I have had the usual joys and sorrows and there is no outstanding period that I can call the happiest. It has always been my purpose to live from day to day. The duties of today and the hopes of tomorrow constitute the sum of existence; therefore, today and the days to come, will, I think, be the happiest."

SPORTS

John J. McGraw: "Me happy? Happy after losing three straight to this bunch of Smoky Town ball players? Bad time to ask that question, boy; but looking things over, I'll say that my happiest five years will be the next five because they're going to be scrappier than any I have ever had in the past."

CLUBWOMAN

Mrs. John S. Sloan: "My first four years as president of the Congress of Clubs and the present year in which I am serving as president of the Sarah Sloan Scholarship Club have been the happiest of my life. My associations in the congress during those four years were especially pleasant and profitable."

LEARN ABOUT TEACHING

Allegheny County Teachers' Institute is under way today preliminary to school opening next week. In fact, these two instructors of the younger generation are see leaving Memorial Hall after the first session.

"PRIMPING UP"

Teachers, it appears, are just as human as those who don't teach. The photographer proved that much when he snapped this picture of a comely miss "fixin' up" before Supt. Charles E. Dickey called the meeting to order.

"IF A HAS TWO APPLES"

Here's a tip for the pupils: Brush up on your arithmetic. Your teachers have been getting ample instructions at institute on the teaching of it, a fact attested to by Miss Margaret Dunlap and Miss Helen White (above).

RETURN HAPPY

"We've had a long vacation and we're glad to get back"—wouldn't that be the consensus of this happy quartet? Virginia Schower, Myra Knepshield, Jane McCullough and Margaret Blume. The question is: Will the boys and girls be just as glad?

SENATE O. K. FORECAST ON KELLOGG PACT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—What will the Senate do is the question which interests Washington, now that the Kellogg-Briand peace treaty has been signed.

The answer to it at this time is that there appears to be no reason why the pact should not be ratified promptly, but this view is qualified by the admonition that many things can happen in international and domestic affairs before next winter to change the current outlook.

Fortified by an undeniable public will toward international pacts that will make armed conflict less likely and still absolve the United States from foreign entanglements, the administration is expected to put the full force of its prestige behind the treaty when it is presented to the Senate. The capital view is that there undoubtedly will be opposition from some quarters, but, on the other hand, that the treaty will have many important friends.

In the light of facts as they now stand, Senator Borah seems certain to be in the latter group. As chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, he will be a key man in President Coolidge's request for ratification. The Senator is credited with having been fully informed while negotiations for the treaty were in progress, and thus to have been given the opportunity to present any objections he may have had. His full support, therefore, is counted upon by the administration.

OTHERS WANT TO SIGN

PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—The effect of the signing of the Kellogg-Briand war renunciation treaty was apparent today. Nations in various parts of the world had announced their desire to become parties to the pact.

The original signatures were still wet when telegrams and cables of adhenece by other countries began to pour into Paris. The governments of Denmark, Jugo-Slavia, Rumania and Peru are among those having expressed this wish.

The compact now is open to adherence by all civilized nations. An official invitation to join in the pledge has been handed by the French ambassador to Maxim Litvinoff, Russian Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, at Moscow.

It is expected that at least a year will elapse before the treaty has been finally ratifieed by the original signatory countries whose legislatures must pass on it.

LEAVES $15,000 TO FAMILY

Bequeathing her fur coat and jewelry to a daughter and a diamond ring to a daughter-in-law, the will of Mrs. Clara A. Price, 125 Beech street, Edgewood, disposing of an estate valued at $15,000, was filed today. The document provides $500 and the ring go to Mrs. Elsie Price, daughter-in-law; the fur coat and other jewelry to Mrs. Marjory Morris, daughter, and $1,500 to Edward B. Price, a son. The balance of the estate is to be divided between son and daughter, who were named executors.

HURT IN 50-FOOT FALL RUNNING FROM POLICE

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—Clifford Foltz is in the Ellwood City Hospital with a triple fracture of the right leg suffered when he fell 50 ft. in a stone quarry, after he tried to escape police. He had driven his car through a red light, speeded on and when the car was ditched, started to run, slipping into the quarry.

NOTED BRITISH CHEMISTS HERE

Chemists engaged in industrial research have helped stabilize England's social structure and have assisted in solving the recently acute unemployment problem there.

That it is functioning the same in the United States and will constantly open up new avenues to industry and employment, formed the opinions of three of Great Britain's most noted chemists, who arrived here today with a party of several hundred on a tour of the United States. The group, coming on a special train from Akron, O., are manufacturers and chemical engineers.

The object of the visitors is to inspect several plants in this district and also be see the research and educational institutions of the city.

CITE RESEARCH GROWTH

Three especially noted in their field are Sir Alexander Gibb, president of the Institution of Chemical Engineers; Dr. J. F. Thorpe, eminent organic chemist, and F. H. Carr, also a distinguished chemist. The trio discussed the remarkable growth of industrial research in the United States, for they have toured many of its principal cities, as well as Canada.

Approximately 50 of the party were women, some of them internationally known for their adventures in scientific research. Among them is Miss Kathleen Culhane, of London, who has been credited with being the first to commercialize Vitamin D, a product that, in powder form of very small amounts, may be given to children suffering from rickets. A fraction of a grain holds the properties of quantities of cod liver oil.

A local committee of chemists, headed by Dr. Edward R. Weidlein, director of Mellon Institute, met the English visitors at the Pennsylvania Station. The men re-embarked on a train for Jeannette, to inspect a glass factory there. A luncheon in the Hotel Schenley followed, with a tour of Pittsburgh afterwards.

The women's program included bridge and tea at the Pittsburgh Field Club.

President of Council James F. Malone will welcome the visitors at a dinner tonight in the University Club.

LIEUT. COL. EDWARDS NAMED LINSLEY CHIEF

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 28.—Lieut. Col. A. R. Edwards, of Washington, has been appointed commandant at Linsley Institute, a local military school for boys. Col. Edwards, formerly stationed at military schools in Virginia, has had a varied experience in the Regular Army here and in the foreign service.

SMITH DRAGGED FROM CAR, FORCED TO TALK

By RAYMOND I. BORST.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Gov. Al Smith was resting at his hotel here today after one of the most gruelling experiences of his long political career.

Returning late last night from a week-end in New Jersey, the Democratic presidential candidate literally was dragged from his automobile by a crowd of 10,000 cheering men and women in Newark, pushed half way up the City Hall steps and then virtually forced to make the first public speech of his campaign.

After half a dozen of New Jersey's stalwart state troopers, aided by a score of city policemen, had fought a losing battle with the crowd which swooped down on Smith's machine, the candidate was lifted out of the car, and, before he knew it, was on the City Hall steps in the midst of a crowd of men and women who were screaming:

"Al Smith, our next president."

ADMIRERS RUSH PLANS

The Governor hadn't planned to open his active campaign for the White House until sometime after Labor Day, but his Newark admirers took things in their own hands and there was nothing else he could do.

Smith's speech on the steps of the Newark City Hall was not long, but it was a campaign speech just the same.

In the twinkling of an eye a half dozen youngsters had scrambled up on the back of the Governor's car, and one was so anxious to shake hands with the nominee that he almost crushed a new hat worn by Mrs. Smith.

From that time until the Governor's party reached New York, Sgt. Billy Roy, his personal bodyguard, and his elder son, Al Smith, Jr., rode on the running board of his car. Dense crowds were encountered in the streets of Elizabeth and Perth Amboy, but when Newark was reached the Governor's bodyguard were of no avail. They were powerless to prevent the crowd from swarming into the car.

It was estimated that more than 1,000,000 persons cheered Smith during his week end in New Jersey. Because of the demonstrations accorded Smith in various cities on his return trip, Democratic leaders of New Jersey who previously had predicted the nominee would carry the state by 200,000 raised their figures to 400,000.

PA. ELKS, AT CONNEAUT, OPEN STATE CONVENTION

CONNEAUT LAKE, Pa., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—The annual state convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was opened here last night with 1,000 delegates in attendance from all sections of the commonwealth.

The convention was formally convened with the invocation by the Rev. Martin F. Bierbaum, of Pittsburgh, state chaplain. Judge O. Clare Kent, of the Crawford county courts, and past grand exalted ruler of the Meadville Lodge of Elks, delivered the address of welcome. The response was by S. Clem Reichard, of Wilkes-Barre, state president.

The address of the evening was made by Charles H. Grakelow, of Philadelphia, national past grand exalted ruler.

The first business session is being held this morning.

MRS. ROBINSON

MRS. HOOVER
MRS. COOLIDGE

LEONIA CURTIS KNIGHT

VETERAN POLITICIAN!

From all indications the wives of our presidential candidates are going to get into the thick of it. Says Mrs. Robinson, wife of the Democratic vice presidential nominee: "With my husband I've been connected with politics for 25 years. I'll take part in his campaign, too."

"TO THE LADIES"

Thus far the wife of the New York Governor and presidential nominee of the disciples of Jefferson has filled a retiring part in his preliminary campaign. She did, however, attend the Democratic convention at Houston. Perhaps when Al swings into his speech-making tour he'll take along Mrs. Smith to say hello to the ladies.

MRS. COOLIDGE'S POWER

Past and present—Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Coolidge. Shrewd politicians tell you that Mrs. Coolidge's graciousness and ability to make friends won quite a few votes for her husband when he defeated John W. Davis and added new friends when they moved to the White House. Will Mrs. Hoover, who is accompanying her husband on his tour, be able to do as much? Pittsburghers who met her when they stopped off here Friday were much attracted to her.

VOTED FOR DAD

A widower, Senator Curtis, Republican vice presidential nominee, will have to depend on his daughter, Mrs. Webster Knight. But Mrs. Knight is quite a politician! Massachusetts sent her to the Republican convention, where she voted for her father, and she has made more than one remarkable speech in political campaigns.

"BOSSY" WINS TWIN VICTORY OVER FOES

GETS REVENGE; O. K. ON GAS STATION

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Gillis luck, the luck that swept into this city's executive chair its beloved "bad boy," Andrew Joseph (Bossy) Gillis, only to threaten to desert him last week, was back with him today.

His gasoline station, that persistent bone of contention whose alleged illegal operation last week brought the red-headed mayor into District Court and cost him a fine of $1,140 and 220 days in jail, has been given the official sanction of the City Council.

It was a close vote that turned the trick at a largely-attended meeting last night, but the 6 to 5 poll was sufficient and even "Bossy's" most confirmed opponents admitted their campaign to put Gillis securely in his place had been given a stiff jolt.

It was Gillis' second victory of the day. Earlier, in the same court where he had heard harsh things spoken from the bench concerning his frequent clashes with the law, the mayor had successfully prosecuted one of the chief complainants against his gasoline station.

TURN TABLES.

Turning the tables on Edward M. Coffin, who had contended that the Gillis station violated a city zoning ordinance, the Mayor brought charges of reckless driving against his critic and the court imposed a suspended fine of $50.

Bossy's troubles aren't over yet. Although he has until September or later in court to press his appeal from his fine and jail sentence, he must be present tomorrow at Boston to show why an injunction should not be issued prohibiting further operation of his gasoline business on the grounds that it is a public nuisance. And after that he will have to apply to the state fire marshal for a permit to store and sell gasoline and his road to ultimate success promises to be just as thorny as his opponents can make it.

SEVERER VOTE LAWS URGED

Desiring to bring about a change in existing election laws to deal more severely with violators, the Allegheny County Election Association is conducting a county wide campaign to this end.

One of the changes proposed would make it possible for three electors, anywhere in the county, to have a ballot box opened in any district in the county. Under the present law a box cannot be opened until after three electors of the particular district affected have petitioned the court.

BLOCKHOUSE "THREAT"

AUTO'S ATTACK REPELLED

The Blockhouse property in lower Penn avenue, one of the city's first attractions and all that remains of old Fort Duquesne, was threatened in a mild way when an auto hopped the street and jammed into the iron fence surrounding the property. The driver, William Wright, 30, of 437 Third avenue, was arrested.

ADVERTISING VALUE OF GREATER CITY STRESSED

That Pittsburgh needs advertising more than it needed it in the days when it enjoyed a practical monopoly of the steel industry, unchallenged supremacy in the coal industry; that the Metropolitan Plan, if adopted, will give it an advertising throughout the world which could not be bought with fabulous sums of money were the statements made by Dr. Thomas H. Reed. Dr. Reed is director of research for the Metropolitan Plan Commission.

He spoke at noon today before the Advertising Club of Pittsburgh in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce. On his subject, "The Advertising Value of the Metropolitan Plan," he said in part:

"There was a time when Pittsburgh needed no advertising, when in its abundant supply of cheap coal, it enjoyed a decided advantage over all other industrial communities. This advantage it has lost and lost forever. There are several other localities just as well situated to carry on the industries characteristic of the Pittsburgh area as is Pittsburgh itself.

"If this community is to continue to expand, it must be by bringing into it new and varied industries, particularly that type of industry which serves the population of the immediately surrounding country. For this reason it is important to advertise the consuming power of the Pittsburgh region. This can be done most effectively by securing for Pittsburgh the census rating it deserves. The Metropolitan Plan is the only practicable and feasible project for extending the name of Pittsburgh to the whole of Allegheny county. It will for census purposes make Pittsburgh the fourth city of the United States with a population of nearly 1,500,000.

"At present Pittsburgh's light is hid under a bushel. The world knows the productive power of Pittsburgh, the very name Pittsburgh stands for power, but the world does not know that outside the limits of the city of Pittsburgh, in the surrounding boroughs and townships, there are more people than within the city itself. The world does not know of Braddock, Homestead, Wilkinsburg and Sewickley. It does not know that the Pittsburgh suburbs are more populous and closely linked in industrial activity to the larger city than is the case elsewhere. There is no way that this fact can be advertised except through the Metropolitan Plan.

"It has been proposed to advertise Pittsburgh in the national periodicals. Such advertising is very costly and it does not have the appeal to the imagination of the business world that the simple line "Pittsburgh 1,500,000" in the census record possesses. Census advertising costs nothing and it means more than the best propaganda the cleverest of you can write.

"Furthermore, there is an advantage in calling to the attention of the world that this is a progressive community. The metropolitan plan of federated city government, centralizing certain necessary powers in the metropolitan city, but leaving the rest to the existing local units is a novelty. The mere suggestion that it may be applied here has already attracted world-wide attention. Its adoption will be a world-wide sensation.

The Pittsburgh Metropolitan Plan is already receiving that sincerest form of flattery—imitation. Montreal, Cleveland, St. Louis, Newark and Sydney in far-off New South Wales are already considering its adoption. There is even a hint that the city of Boston is to give its name to the whole of the Boston metropolitan area. If we are to get the full advantage of the advertising opportunity of the metropolitan plan we must take this plan now. We must not allow the constitutional amendment which authorizes it to be defeated and so postpone the plan at least five years. If we do there is a strong prospect that the relative census status of Pittsburgh as compared with Cleveland, St. Louis and Boston will be worse after the first of January, 1930, instead of better. Now is the time, the psychological moment, for this greatest piece of community advertising that the Pittsburgh region can undertake."

DEATH ROLL

Frank Fmizik.

Frank Fmizik, 51, of 1541 Center avenue, building contractor in Pittsburgh for 26 years, died Monday at his home. He was past deputy of Manuel Rose Berman Lodge, No. 226, and a member of the Brith Shalom Order, Mt. Sinai No. 480, Knights of Pythias, the Free Loan Association, and Tifhereth Israel Congregation. Funeral services were arranged to be held this afternoon, with interment in Millvale.

NO PGH. HOME PADLOCKS

FINES EFFECTIVE; WON'T USE MINNEAPOLIS PLAN

Federal authorities here, for the present at least, will not fall in line with those of Minneapolis, Minn., in padlocking homes where the liquor law is violated.

United States Attorney John D. Meyer believes this action too drastic. Under the prohibition act, however, Attorney Meyer explained, federal authorities have jurisdiction to do so.

Where continued and flagrant violations occur the U. S. attorney's office has informed landlords and suggested tenants be ordered to vacate unless they discontinued selling liquor.

Although there are hundreds of residences in this city in which liquor is sold, repeated raids on them and the levying of heavy fines is found to be more effective, authorities say.

The majority of home raids in this city are made by police. The prohibition enforcement department is too occupied with more important violators. Police magistrates fine or hold violators for court.

SUSPECT RETURNED IN 12 AUTO THEFTS

Accused of stealing a dozen automobiles here and selling them in Washington, Thomas Fitzgerald, 38, of Washington, was returned here last night by City Detective John Daly. He was lodged in the Central Police Station and will be arraigned today in Central Police Court. The theft of the automobiles covered a period of two years.

'PROPHET' AND 8 OTHERS ARRESTED IN SHOOTING

Stabbed in the back and shot in the right shoulder during a brawl in the home of Robert White, a Negro, of 1715 Arcena street, early today, George Welsh, 28, a Negro, of 2612 Jones avenue, is in a critical condition in the Passavant Hospital. Police arrested White and eight other persons, including Turney Crumby Bey, would-be prophet of the Arcena Street Moorish Temple, who recently was arrested for conducting marriages, although he could show no proof he was a minister. All are charged with being suspicious persons.

Our Daily Short Story

MADAM'S AMBITION

By BERTHA R. M'DONALD.

WHEN Anthony Wayne returned from abroad with that little French wife of his, every past and gone Wayne must have turned in his grave. Certain it was that all the living Waynes held up their hands, but they also held their tongues. The Puritan blood of their forebears was instrumental in prompting them to make the best of what they deemed a bad situation and to take young Mrs. Anthony to their staid bosoms as much as was humanely possible.

The life of this vivacious little foreigner was anything but beer and skittles among these old-fashioned folk, however. Probably that is the reason she saw fit to assert herself when they put her infant daughter in her arms for the first time. Be that as it may, she smiled wanly and sank back upon her pillows with the whisper, "I shall call her Yvonne and marry her to a title."

This silly foreign name was another thorn in the Wayne side, but they accepted it as they had the other things and called the child Vonnie among themselves.

When Yvonne was 20 her father died. As soon as her affairs were settled enough to make it possible, Mrs. Wayne removed herself, her fortune and her child from the Wayne midst to settle in New York, where she immediately began the quest for a suitable husband for her precious Yvonne.

The beauty of mother and daughter, their considerable fortune and some of the reflected Wayne influence, soon procured for them entrance into the best social circles.

"It is the duty of every girl to marry and found a home," she admarry and found a home," Mrs. Wayne advised, "and I want my own babe to have one so grand that all the world will look up to her. You, my Yvonne, shall marry a title—I have sworn it."

"Title be hanged!" the girl retorted inelegantly. "I'd like more than any thing to please you, Momie, but marriage is so—so personal. Every girl has a right to that much of her future and I don't want any high-fa-lutin title, musty, moth-eaten coat of arms or feudal castle in mine. I want love—real love—and lots of it! The kind that'll go through fire and water for a girl or fight an army. The kind Daddy had for you."

When Lord Percival Birmingham filtered through customs into New York's best "set," Mrs. Wayne felt that her hour had arrived. Lord Percival was young, good looking, reeking with wealth and morals and feudal castles. Also, in so far as she could ascertain, he was still "fancy free."

Vonnie labeled him "stunning and interesting," until she sensed Momie's plan. Then she promptly vetoed the young Englishman as a husband. She continued to go about with him however, because he was a jolly fellow; while Momie put into the background for the time being, the ideas she treasured for a fussy church wedding with her own name figuring prominently in the society columns. Instead she resolved to try finesse. Two fine, healthy specimens like Lord Percival and her Yvonne might develope an honest affection for one another if left alone for a while, she reasoned.

One Saturday afternoon, Lord Percival calling, found Yvonne

HAD TO SCRATCH ALL THE TIME

Large Pimples Affected Face. Cuticura Heals.

"My face was affected with pimples. They were large and red and some of them scaled over, causing a lot of discomfort. The itching and burning were so severe that I had to scratch all the time. I would wake up in the night and start to scratch. They almost set me crazy.

"The trouble lasted a year before I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using them I could see a change. I continued and used approximately four cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment before I was healed." (Signed) William H. Morning, 122 Kelso St., Paxtang, Harrisburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps Her So Much

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I was just completely run-down. I had tired, heavy, sluggish feelings and I could not eat. I was losing in weight. I read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what a good medicine it is, that I started taking it. I have taken eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and about the same in tablet form. This is one medicine a woman should have in the house all the time. I am improving every day and I sure am able to eat. I am willing to answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ELLA RICHARDS, 21 Chautauqua St., N. S. Pittsburgh, Pa.

MADAM'S AMBITION

seemingly out of tune with everything. None of the lectures, theaters, concerts or movies he suggested appealed to the girl.

So they sauntered into the park and wandered aimlessly among the bypaths, finally seating themselves in a rather secluded spot on a bush embowered bench, to rest and talk.

"Do you know," Vonnie began, after a heavy sigh, "to be brutally frank, Percy, I think you are utterly spineless to go about spending money the way you do when you haven't earned a single penny of it."

"Oh—I say!" the young man countered, stung into an unusually tart reply by this unexpected onslaught. "I haven't heard that you've done anything so remarkable in your 22 years on this silly planet!"

"Momie's fault entirely. She doesn't think a girl should do things. She wants me to marry, the sooner the better, but I—well —I haven't found the man—yet."

"Yvonne! Wouldn't I do? You're a peach, old thing, and I—I'd love to have you pour my coffee and—and—"

"No, Percy, you wouldn't do at all. I can't abide the idea of moats and draw-bridges and oak-trimmed, cavernous rooms with secret sliding panels and all the stuff you English dote on. Besides, when I pick a husband I'm going to select him because he's done something just for me—endangered himself — sacrificed — fought for me. I like you—like you a lot, Percy, but—"

Her voice trailed off into nothingness, as she became lost in her own reflections, while Percy sat regarding the toes of his shoes thoughtfully. The shadows were beginning to gather. Vonnie was holding her hands up before her, as though to enjoy the sparkle of her jeweled fingers when the bushes behind them parted and a throaty voice said cooly, "Keep 'em up, lady. They look good to me."

Without warning, Vonnie saw the strange man dropped to the ground from as neat a left hook to the chin as any professional could deliver. There was no shooting. The left hook had also dislodged the man's gun and he was scrambling desperately to regain it. Lord Percy's collar and hat were gone; his face was scarlet and there was fire in his eyes, as sitting astride the felled bandit, he flailed, thrashed and pomelled him until the victim called for mercy. Then, taking Vonnie possessively by the arm, the two of them marched their captive to the nearest police station at the point of his own weapon.

"Oh, Percy!" Vonnie gasped rapturously, when they were on their way home again. "Somehow I've always felt that you had it in you to fight for the girl you loved. You—you were simply superb, sitting there astride that bully!"

On Monday evening, when they essayed to make a certain announcement, Momie, that little French enthusiast, interrupted them to interpolate, "And I shall wear mauve satin with aigretts in my hair and the church shall be all white lilies and fern and—"

"But—Momie!" Vonnie almost shouted. "There isn't going to be any church or white lilies or anything! We were married this afternoon by the funniest little justice you ever saw and now I'm Mrs. Birmingham!"

"Mrs? Ah, but no, my bebe. You may have been united to Lord Percival by a justice, but you've made what I've always sworn I should be, the mother of a lady."

GASSED OVERSEAS DURING THE WAR

Local Man Says Ailments That Followed Were Relieved By Famous Ten Herbs.

"I can truthfully say that Ten Herbs proved a godsend in my case," was the statement of Mr. John Ritchie, 460 Taylor Street, Bloomfield, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store,

MR. JOHN RITCHIE

529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this new herbal compound to crowds of people. "Your medicine gave me relief from indigestion and constipation, with which I had suffered ever since I was gassed overseas during the World War," Mr. Ritchie continued.

"Before using Ten Herbs, food did not digest properly, but would form gas, which made me bloat terribly. I was so badly constipated that I had to take physics continually. My liver seemed to be sluggish. When I would sit down I would fall asleep. Then when night came it would be almost impossible for me to get to sleep. It seemed as though it was my nerves that caused me to roll and toss by the hour. Terrible headaches and dizzy spells would come on me; and I had rheumatism in the legs.

"Since using Ten Herbs I feel greatly improved. I have a good appetite and can eat without the misery of gas or bloating afterwards. My bowels are regular and my liver seems to work properly. Headaches and dizzy spells are things of the past. I have more energy and ambition and do not get drowsy when I sit down. Rheumatism in my legs has been greatly relieved. My nerves are stronger, for when night comes I get a good night's rest. I have been benefited so much that I have induced a relative to try Ten Herbs and I feel sure she will get the same good results that I did. I do not hesitate to recommend your medicine to the public."

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

STRAW VOTE SHOWS SOMERSAULTS IN INDIANA

PLAN SPECIAL EQUIPMENT TO FIGHT "GAS," OIL FIRES

Plans for the more extensive use of a chemical employed by many fire departments throughout the country in combating oil and gasoline fires, are being formulated by Chief Richard Smith, Bureau of Fire.

At present all fire apparatus here is equipped with chemical extinguishers to fight oil and gasoline blazes. Chief Smith believes that such fires could be fought more efficiently if more extensive methods were used.

The chief intends to have a steel hopper installed on every piece of fire equipment to be used in mixing the chemical at the scene of an oil or gas fire. Powdered chemical is to be used in making the mixture. The generator on the equipment will do the mixing and the mixture will be played on the fire through a two and a half-inch hose. A ton of the powdered chemical, according to the fire chief will be sufficient to fight a fire an hour.

"Chemicals I have found in my experience to be the only known agent to conquer an oil or gas fire effectively and quickly," Chief Smith said. "Water only delays extinguishing such a blaze, it is practically useless."

The chemical is the color of licorice and when squirted from the extinguisher or through a hose creates thousands of bubbles. These bubbles, coming in contact with either oil or gasoline, blanket the surface and cut off all supply of oxygen. Without oxygen fire will not burn, the chief explained. It is for this reason the chemical is so successful.

Practically every large industrial concern in the city, which handles oils or gasoline in large quantities, has individual chemical tanks holding 40 gallons on the premises in case of fires.

Chief Smith said the self-mixing hoppers would have been installed by the fire bureau sooner, had it not been for the lack of sufficient funds for the equipment and material.

Why Indigestion Is Unnecessary

Nine out of ten cases of indigestion are totally unnecessary. Excess acid is almost always the cause and quick relief is only a matter of removing this acid, which sours the food and permits the formation of painful gas. You can neutralize this acid instantly, protect the inflamed stomach lining and insure natural, healthy digestion if you take Bi-nesia. Four or five tablets or a teaspoonful of the powder are guaranteed to give relief from distress, no matter how severe, in less than five minutes. Get a 50-cent package of Bi-nesia from your druggist today, use as directed and enjoy the pleasure of eating what you like without distress to follow.

NORTH DAKOTA GOVERNOR DIES

BISMARCK, N. D., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Gov. A. G. Sorlie, of North Dakota, died here this morning.

Death was caused by heart disease from which the Governor has been critically ill for the past three days.

BOY SWIMMER DROWNS IN RIVER AT NEW CASTLE

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Aug. 28.—Thomas Effinite, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barto Effinite, 224 South Liberty street, was drowned yesterday in the Mahoning River, near Montgomery avenue, when he went in beyond his depth. His body was recovered by Emil Durlessor.

SMITH'S GAINS COUNTED, BUT NOT ENOUGH

By CHARLES WHEELER,
Noted Political Analyst.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—How the normal lines of cleavage have been twisted into double bowknots in all sections of the country since Gov. Smith took a healthy swing at the dry protagonists already is beginning to show clearly in the nation-wide straw vote being gathered by the Hearst publications.

Practically all the rules and diagrams by which former national campaigns have been doped out by the experts have been indescribably scrambled.

With more than 350,000 straw votes tabulated, the evidence accumulates that the total vote this year will be so unprecedented as to render doubtful many states right up to the last minute.

With the old rules gone, the only way a fairly accurate conclusion can be based will be to follow the figures as they develop in the nation-wide poll.

As an example of the kaleidoscopic reversals in sentiment since the pre-primary struggle, Indiana is picked out of the cauldron today.

CONDITIONS REVERSED

In the presidential primary, Senator James E. Watson and his cohorts were fought to a standstill by Mr. Hoover. In that recent clash, Watson, who had voted at all times for the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, even in support of overriding the presidential veto, was saved by the rural vote of the state, while Mr. Hoover made his best showing in the industrial centers.

Since Gov. Smith refused to stand for the equalization fee of the farm measure and at the same time forthrightly declared for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, sections of Indiana have turned double somersaults, and the most noticeable contortions center in Lake county.

Here in all the industrial plants, beginning with the steel workers at Gary, Smith is out in front, on the face of the straw vote thus far checked, while rural Indiana is swinging heavily to Mr. Hoover.

In the Lake county sector (Gary) the canvass represents a total eligible vote this year of about 57,000. The 5 per cent basis on which the actual poll is taken, gives the following totals:

Smith, 1,777.
Hoover, 1,867.

If this ratio should be maintained up to November 6, Smith would carry Lake county by a large lead, a remarkable reversal of sentiment since 1924.

The canvassers' reports seem to point a considerable swing of the old LaFollette vote to Smith, as well as a large part of the new and uncharted vote. Further inquiry, the reports show, leads to the conclusion that the wet issue is the lodestone.

In the Lake county straw vote thus far tabulated, Smith is not only running ahead in the men vote, but is getting a big lead with the women preference.

But while the south shore of Lake Michigan district seems to be rarin' for its beer and pretzels, Fort Wayne and Allen county, in close touch with the rural sentiment, shows Hoover running ahead of Smith.

While Gov. Smith's wet stand appears to have taken a pretty good hold on the city folk, the country adjacent is running strongly for the Secretary of Commerce.

And the further the canvassers get out into the rural districts the stronger Hoover seems to be, and it is this vote that the Republicans are relying one to carry Indiana by a large lead on November 6.

In the state-wide percentage column, Gov. Smith shows a large gain over the Davis vote of four years ago, while Hoover figures point to a slump from the Coolidge vogue.

For example, the Hoover vote shows, in aggregate, 52.8, taking the whole territory canvassed, as against 47.2 per cent for Smith. But even this is a big gain for the Democrats, as four years ago Mr. Coolidge polled 65.5 per cent of the vote to 34.5 per cent given Davis. This margin is not enough to overcome the Hoover lead.

Present indications are that Indiana will be much closer than four years ago, when Mr. Coolidge had a plurality of 205,441, but that the state's 15 electoral votes will be returned for Herbert Hoover.

AUTO DRIVER INDICTED IN DEATH OF AGED MAN

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 28.—Milton H. Foster, 30, of Claysville, was indicted on a manslaughter charge by the Washington county grand jury for the death of James Parshall, aged resident of Claysville, who was killed by Foster's automobile, it is charged.

FLOODS RAVAGE GEORGIA

WATER ON THE ROOF

Here is a fair example of the heights to which the unrelenting waters of the Oconee River rose in the recent Georgia floods. This house, near Milledgeville, was one of many caught in the torrents that made thousands homeless.

CLUB IS RAIDED IN DIAMOND SQUARE

Dropping in on a club on the second floor of 4 Diamond square, late yesterday, Federal prohibition agents reported finding ale, whisky and beer behind the bar. James V. Henry, 39, of 3444 Ward street, alleged proprietor, and James Kelley, 42, of Knox avenue, bartender, were released on $1,000 bond each.

Fred and Russell Etter, 58 and 24, respectively, were arrested in a raid on the West View Hotel, in Perrysville road, where agents say they found two pints of whisky.

A saloon in Barn street, New Kensington, was visited after the enforcement officers, they said, watched five half-barrels of beer being rolled in from a truck. The goods and truck were seized. Morris Grilley, 27, of Mt. Vernon, Pa., alleged to have delivered the brew, was arrested as the man in charge of the saloon.

LEVINE BACK IN CROYDON

CROYDON, England, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Charles A. Levine flew his new Junkers plane Queen of the Air to Brussels yesterday, waited there 90 minutes for a new undercarriage wheel, and flew back again to Croydon. He was accompanied by Miss Mabel Boll.

Miss Boll said the trip had nothing to do with Mr. Levine's proposed trans-Atlantic flight, plans for which were not yet complete. In anticipation of the takeoff of the plane for America, a special mile-long runway is being constructed at the airdrome here.

HIJACKERS ATTACK TRUCK IN BEECHWOOD BOULEVARD

Hijackers were at work in Squirrel Hill early today, according to a number of persons who witnessed a gun battle and an attempt to slay the driver of a large truck as it sped through Beechwood boulevard near Forward avenue. Both the truck and the automobile from which the shots were fired were gone when police arrived.

Witnesses say the truck, believed to have been loaded with liquor, was being driven alone at a high rate of speed when suddenly a machine containing four or five men sped along side and the occupants opened fire at the driver of the truck. More than a dozen shots were exchanged, police were informed, after which the machines separated and continued on out of sight.

Father of 14 Dies, Aged 75, Widow In Custody

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 28. (AP.)—Examination of the stomach of James Elbert Wooten, 74-year-old father of 14 children, who died Friday after eating a sandwich at a picnic near Blair, has been started at the state laboratory.

Wooten, police said, attended the picnic at the invitation of his wife and while there ate a sandwich which state police said was prepared by Mrs. Wooten. He died in convulsions a short time later.

PURDUE ALUMNI TO GIVE FROSH PARTY TONIGHT

The annual "Frosh Rush Party" of the Purdue Alumni Association of Pittsburgh will be given at the Fort Pitt Hotel tonight. A number of outstanding high school students have been invited.

Separated Wife and Husband Both Fined

Clarence Bodie, 41, of 1513 Montier street, Wilkinsburg, radio engineer at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing plant in East Pittsburgh was fined $15 and his estranged wife, Mrs. Minnie Bodie, 35, of 714 Mill street, Wilkinsburg, was fined $5, on disorderly conduct charges, when arraigned before Burgess J. R. Langley last night.

Mrs. Bodie is alleged to have gone to her husband's home and refused to leave. A disturbance followed during which police were called.

ERIE COUNTY LAD FREE AFTER ONTARIO KILLING

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Provincial police have decided to file no charge against Eugene Dermanuel, 12-year-old Wesleyville, Erie county, Pa., boy, who, last Saturday, threw a pitchfork which killed Ernest Salmon, English farm boy, near Port Hope, Ont. Police said Dermanuel intended to throw the pitchfork at a wall, but in the excitement of a chase and teasing he missed his mark.

Now! Corns Off in 3 Minutes

New, Easy Way Is Painless

Yes, you can peel them right off, root and all. No soaking. No waiting two or three days for slow, old-fashioned remedies to work.

You simply wet the corn or callous with Shur-Off. Pain stops instantly. Keep it wet 2 minutes. Now you can start taking it off without the slightest trace of pain. Thousands are ending corns this new, easy way—you can do the same by following the simple directions in every package.

Why suffer with corns when Shur-Off costs only 50 cents at any May Drug Co. Store, or any other good druggist? Why go another day without relief?

You Can Have That "Footlight Sheen"

The perfect sheen of the actress' hair is every woman's envy. Do you wonder how they manage those constantly radiant, healthful heads? No sticky, plastered look, but a gorgeous sheen, almost too good to be true.

Edna Wallace Hopper, the widely known actress, in her sixties still appears in the role of a flapper. Because of her wondrous head of hair and her daily stagework, she is most exacting in her demand for the right hair dress. The prepartion she has used for years with utmost satisfaction is now offered to all under the name Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. It is non-greasy, keeps the hair neat and gives it a lovely, natural sheen.

If you have a permanent or wave your hair at home, you will find Wave and Sheen a heal help in setting the wave, particularly after a shampoo. You will have no further worry about unmanageable hair.

Get a bottle today at any toilet counter, 75 cents. Your money refunded if you are not delighted.

Famous for fine interior work, Barreled Sunlight now available in a new form for exterior painting

THOUSANDS of satisfied users of Interior Barreled Sunlight have asked for an exterior paint of the same superior quality.

This insistent demand has been met with the new Outside Barreled Sunlight.

Like its famous companion product, Outside Barreled Sunlight remains white and new-looking long after ordinary paints have lost their beauty and freshness. It is intensely white, has remarkable "hiding power," flows freely and evenly, is durable and even-wearing.

Both interior and Outside Barreled Sunlight are extremely easy to tint. Dealers carry handy tubes of Barreled Sunlight Tinting Colors for tinting small quantities.

"I Will Pay $500 If You Lose 25 lbs."

said my husband to me one day

This is the story a lady told the writer. She accepted the offer, and started that day on Marmola. The cost of losing 25 pounds was $5. The effort was almost nothing. Her profit was $495.

But think what she gained in new beauty, new vitality, new charm. She looked ten years younger, and money can't measure that.

Men and women, for 20 years, have been using Marmola prescription tablets—millions of boxes of them. The results are seen in every circle. Almost everyone has friends who can tell them. Excess fat is far less common than it was.

Marmola aims to correct a common cause of obesity in a scientific way. Its chief factor is now employed by physicians, the world over in treating excess fat. The complete formula appears in every box. Also the reasons for results.

This is done to ward off any fear of harm.

Abnormal exercise or diet is neither required nor advised, but moderation helps. Simply take four tablets daily until normal gland conditions bring the weight down. Full details in every box.

With fat reduction comes other benefits which will make you doubly glad.

Learn what Marmola means to you. Every tablet is worth its weight in gold if it does what it does for so many. And all results come from correcting a condition that's abnormal. A help which has proved itself for 20 years, with such results, such a growing demand, deserves a test.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. Any druggist who is out will order from his jobber.

The Pleasant Way to Reduce

BUGS BAER Says

A CERTIFIED resident of the New York subways went to a dentist. He didn't bite him so it ain't news.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

The registered inhabitant of our associated comforts and detours had a tooth that had been in the family for years.

After he got into the dental chair he made his first mistake.

He opened his mouth.

The dentist then pulled out a sawtoothed buzzer that had been picked up by a souvenir clutcher on the battlefield of Verdun.

Then the tabulated citizen made his second mistake. This error occurred in his singing lessons.

The dentist told him to say, "Ah."

And he said, "ouch."

Looking at the dentist in horror the patient noticed that he was armed to the teeth.

Here is where he made his third mistake. He leaped forth from the chair and challenged the ivory chipper to a duel.

Which is something like challenging a surgeon to an operation.

The dentist did not accept the sealed bid.

Instead, he notified the innocent police that a customer had challenged him to a duel with horse pistols. The police advised the dentist to refuse. There never has yet been a fair fight between a horse and a pistol.

But they arrested the challenger, who not only admitted the crime but was so anxious to fight the dentist that he would let the public in free.

He wanted to go to the mat with the dentist right there. It seemed that the gum scrapper had pushed an umbrella in the patient's mouth and then tried to open it up.

He had also tried to kill the nerve in his tongue and had filled his tonsils with cement.

But even all that is no excuse for challenging a dentist to mortal combat with baseball bats and clevers.

Anything a dentist does to you comes under the head of public improvements.

The only comeback a patient has in the way of retaliation and indemnity is to eat garlic and breathe back in self-defense.

The police straightened the matter out after a struggle. The dentist does not have to fight the duel and the challenger does not have to remove his catcher's mask the next time he consults the dentist.

Transparent Velvet Dresses

A Special Group of Women's Beautiful Afternoon Ones

They are of printed and plain transparent velvets in the fine, rich texture which drapes so successfully and which does whimsical tricks with one's imagination when lights play upon it.

The prints are in tiny patterns such as the Paris openings so strongly emphasized, in combinations of brown-and-gold, brown-and-beige, black-and-white, black-and-gray and blue-and-blue.

In solid colors there is choice of harvest browns, pineneedle green, independence blue and black. Six new models make up the group, which is interesting from both a fashion and a price standpoint.

Fall Nears With Round Of Weddings and Parties

THE nearer we come to fall, the nearer we are to weddings and what goes with weddings—bridges and dinners and dances honoring the bridal party. And in just a few days we shall again have these fall entertainments with us, for autumn isn't very far away really. Just three more days to September 1, remember! And to me the first day of September means the first day of autumn.

I happen to know there are going to be some pre-nuptial entertainments during early September, too. Quite a few folks are planning parties for Elizabeth Dierks, daughter of Mrs. W. C. Dierks, who is going to marry John O'Hara Anderson, son of the James M. Andersons, of Forbes street, on September 12, you know.

Of course we all like dinners and bridges and dances, but variety is stimulating, isn't it? And there will be variety in the entertainments planned for Elizabeth, and one "variety" will be a garden party. I do hope the trees will put on their brightest-hued leaves that day. The E. C. Rothwells, the R. P. Sullivans and Alvin C. Spindler, all of whom live "side by side" in Edgeworth, will be hosts at this autumnal garden party on Monday, September 10, from 5 to 8 o'clock.

The C. P. Billings, of New York, formerly of Pittsburgh, will give the rehearsal dinner on Tuesday, September 11.

And another entertainment will be a breakfast on Saturday morning, September 8, at the Pittsburgh Country Club, I believe. And the hostess will be Mrs. Robert Lee Wilson, of the King Edward Apartments.

WHILE folks are making plans for September events, they are living in the present, as well as in the future as one can easily tell by the number of entertainments in the summer resorts.

Down at White Sulphur Springs a benefit bridge was given just recently for the White Sulphur Community Fund. Mrs. George W. Crawford was the chairman, did you know?

THE Ogden M. Edwards family is still taking a prominent part in social life at the Hamptons. Mrs. Edwards is one of the patronesses, by the way, for the Soiree Russe to be given tomorrow at the East Hampton home of Mrs. Ellery S. James.

I'VE just heard of another wedding planned for September 1. Frances Koenig, daughter of Dr. Adolph Koenig, has named that day for her marriage to Robert B. Davidson, son of Joseph Davidson, of Heberton avenue.

Frances has decided to have a small home wedding that afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. She will have just one attendant, her sister, Evangeline Koenig. Harbaugh Miller will be best man, and Theodore and Arthur Koenig and Dr. Adolphus Koenig, Jr., all brothers of the bride, will be ushers.

There will be a small reception, of course, after the wedding.

HONORING Miss Gladys A. Donahue and Miss Kathryn Till, of the University of Pittsburgh, who are stopping for the summer at Los Angeles, a tea and swimming party were given at the Deauville Beach Club by Phi Chapter of Theta Phi Alpha, national sorority of the University of Los Angeles. In honor of the same guests Miss Emilie Torch, of Hollywood, president of the Los Angeles chapter, entertained in her home with a bridge party.

ALLOJO CHAPTER, No. 233, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a corn roast in the Chapel, Riverview Park, Thursday from 5:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Elizabeth Mawhinney is in charge.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. JACOB FRIEDMAN of Grove street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Friedman, to Samuel Bush, of Brownsville, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bush, of Masontown.

MISS MARIE AUGUSTA WIEDOR, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wiedor, of Noster street, has chosen Thursday, September 30, as the date for her marriage to Joseph D. Fisher, son of Charles D. Fisher, of Burgess street.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. O. M. HEVLEP, of Philadelphia, formerly of Pittsburgh, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Beatrice Harris, to Milton Ball, also of Philadelphia.

CHARTIERS WOMEN'S CLUB TO MEET SEPT. 14

THE fall quarterly meeting of the Chartiers Women's Clubs Association will be held Friday, September 14, in the Congress of Clubs. Mrs. Walter R. Fleming, the new president of the association, left today with Mrs. John S. Sloan, president of the Sarah Sloan Scholarship Club, Mr. Fleming and Mr. Sloan for a two-week motor tour. They will go up into Canada as far as Montreal and Quebec and return through the White and Green Mountains. The Chartiers Association is to concentrate on scholarship work during the coming season, this decision having been made at the last meeting.

jap weasel coats

actual values $685 to $725

These three final days of the Fur Sale will see real action—if values such as these wonderful coats mean anything—and they do.

Choice of Blonde, Mink or Kolinsky Shades

The deep golden blonde coats are striking—the rich shades of brown are especially smart for Fall wear. The pelts are worked straight around or in herringbone effect.

Trimmed with lovely Fox or Plain

Some have large shawl collars—others with the double notched collar and the smaller Queen Anne types. Fox in a harmonizing shade or plain self trimmed.

Jap Weasel is a good wearing fur

The quality of this special group of coats is of the finest grade weasel—deep, luxurious, silky skins of beautiful effect.

$200 less at this Remarkable August Price

And you can make arrangements for a nominal down payment now and take your coat later when you will need it.

members and music will hold the attention of the Wilkinsburg Civic Club women during the season which will open October 4. The opening meeting will, as usual, be president's day and will be in charge of the social committee. Dr. H. Rolfe Brown, of the U. S. Veterans' Hospital, will speak before the club at the November meeting, the December one will be featured by a Christmas celebration, and in January, Mrs. D. M. Paul, who has recently returned from abroad, will give "Glimpses of the Orient." Subjects to be heard later in the season include "The Fine Art of Living," "Ingratitude" and "Pittsburgh as an Art Center." Election in April, the annual business meeting in May and the June outing (on the thirteenth), will round out the year.

THE Dormont Hoover Woman's Club is arranging for a luncheon in the St. Clair Country Club Thursday, September 6. Cards will follow luncheon. Mrs. A. W. Powell, president of the club, will return the latter part of this week from Conneaut Lake where she has been all summer.

Scalded to Death By Fall Into Geyser Pool

CASPER, Wyo., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—George Brown, of Lampassas, Tex., was scalded to death in a Yellowstone Park geyser last Friday, it was learned with the return to Casper of a physician who gave the victim first aid treatment.

Mr. Brown was leaning over the edge of a boiling pool, seven miles north of "Old Faithful," when he fell into the water.

Two sons, who pulled their father out suffered scalds on the arms. The father died shortly afterward.

FIRE COMPANIES PARADE IN WEST PARK TONIGHT

Dozens of volunteer fire companies are expected to participate tonight in a street parade in West Park arranged by the West Park Independent Fire Department. The parade will be held in conjunction with the West Park company's street fair being held this week. Cups will be awarded for the best appearing companies and pieces of fire fighting equipment in line.

LITTLE NEEDED TO SEND MILK FUND PAST $2,000

Wouldn't it be fine if those in charge of The Sun-Telegraph Milk and Ice Fund were to wake up tomorrow morning and be able to say, "Our fund has reached $2,000"?

It has reached $1,989.56 today, so little more is necessary to make it top its second thousand. Probably some good friend will drop a check into the mail today and the fund will have started winging its way into another thousand. But wouldn't you like to be that good friend whose check will help pay for the milk and ice and medicine which the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Milk and Ice Association is dispensing to its 300 mites of babies?

Today's biggest gift, that of $60.50, is from a band of Ridge avenue (Crafton) youngsters who have been doing things for the fund for nine successive years. They are Anna Lee Zercher, Eleanor Scott, Mary Louise Elliott, Janet McKenna, Irma Lawrence, Roxanna Anderson, Dick Morey, Ted Lehew, Meldon Rambo, Jack Heckman, Ralph and Bill Montgomery, Eleanor Gardiner and John Crippen. Marjorie Saul's gift of $2 is accompanied by a delightful little note explaining that she sold two cases of pop, and hoping that "the babies will be happy with her gift." They will, Marjorie need have no doubt on that score.

7 CARRIED TO DEATH IN PLANE'S CRASH

The Prince of Wales — His Story.

Arrives at Oxford to Start University Education and Is Cheered

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

His Royal Highness, Edward, Prince of Wales, heir to the British throne, was born in White Lodge, Richmond, in midsummer of 1894, the son of the Duchess and Duke of York, now King George V. Guilty of much mischief during his childhood days, he was often punished. When he grew older he was sent to Osborne Naval College where he made rapid progress in his studies. Investiture of his title took place at Carnarvon Castle, in Wales. During a visit to France he made a marked impression upon the people of that country.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

EDWARD P.

By WALTER and LEONARD TOWNSEND

CHAPTER VII.

The Prince at Oxford

PRINCE OF WALES

ON OCTOBER 9, 1912, the Royal Family concluded their annual visit to Balmoral and returned to London. Two days later the Prince took his seat in the train at Paddington for Oxford, there to commence his university education. He was accompanied by Mr. H. P. Hansell and Maj. the Hon. William Cadogan (some years later killed in France.)

It was twilight when the Prince arrived in the station at Oxford and as he stepped out on to the dimly-lighted platform he was received with cheers by a small number of people who had obtained special permission to meet the train. Crowds congregated outside the station building, and as Prince Edward, accompanied by the chief constable of Oxford, stepped into his car which had been provided for his especial use during his term, rousing cheers of welcome greeted him.

But what he most dearly wished was that he should be regarded from the outset as an ordinary undergraduate; while at Oxford his one desire was to work hard and be able to meet men on one common level.

For 18 years he had fulfilled every wish of his parents. His character, still plastic, had given him more self-assurance; his trip to France had made possible the introduction into his mind of less conservative and more generous ideas and ideals; religious instruction and parental example had opened his eyes and heart to more than a glimmering of the truth of existence. He was a good linguist and realized that above and beyond race-unity there was need for a wider co-operation between men of all land and climes.

Treatment Ordinary

It had now been definitely decided that Prnice Edward should take up his studies at Magdalene College, Oxford, while his brother Albert, entered Cambridge.

Amidst continued cheering, the Prince was driven to Magdalene, where Dr. (now Sir Herbert Warren) the president, received him in the quadrangle.

The Prince took his first evening visit round the famous college with his tutor who explained the history of the famous buildings. He was awed by the quite atmosphere of traditional learning and illustrious memories.

Complete absence of elaborate display characterized young Edward's residence at the famous university. He was to be treated as an ordinary member and to matriculate as a commoner. No exceptional treatment was meted out to him except the very modest suite of rooms on the north side of the Cloister, overlooking the chapel and hall and the "new buildings." Even his equerry did not reside in the college.

As a military career was already planned for the Prince after his Oxford days, the subjects he studied were modified from the usual course, and he concentrated on history, geography, French, German, English literature, political science and political economy. Despite the modifications necessary in the Prince's education—he had always had to study twice as rapidly as other young men in order to cover the ground in quick time—he attended the ordinary lectures and took his essays to the president. He also attended lectures not delivered in Magdalene—his course of study demanded that he should attend the professorial and intercollegiate lectures delivered by the college tutors.

Allowed Freedom

His Royal Highness has never had any literary ambition; he has always preferred active to passive pursuits. But at Oxford he learned to put together very fair original compositions. Today the Prince often finds pleasure and satisfaction in answering, personally, part of his private correspondence.

He soon acquired an astonishingly good memory both for fact and figures, while later he developed an uncanny "remembrance" for faces; the latter was well illustrated in the Great War when he could greet soldiers whom he had met in France in post-war London, much to their mystification and delight.

The manner of the Prince of Wales' entry into Magdalene was a distant departure from royal precedent, but neither Prince Edward's dignity nor his outlook appear to have suffered.

The Prince was allowed an entirely free hand at Magdalene and for the first time was not seen so much in Mr. Hansell's company. He attended lectures freely with the other undergraduates and dined with them in hall and frequently talked without reserve in the Junior Common room.

With his tutors he was charmingly polite and always attentive. Between the late Sir William Anson and the Prince there sprang up a warm friendship.

Pursuits Varied

The young Prince reveled in this new-found freedom. He met all types of men, from the pro-

EARL SMITH, former Pirate catcher released to the St. Louis Cardinals, who have a better chance of winning the pennant and rewarding players with a world series plum than has the Pittsburgh team, met Donie Bush, Pirate manager, in New York, some time ago. "Hello, Smitty," said Bush. "Hello, Santa Claus," said Smitty to Bush.

All roads leading into Pittsburgh are dotted with the bar-b-q stands. Here the motoring customer partakes of such delicacies as hot ham sandwiches, hot dogs, ice cream, pop, etc. Some of the more progressive stands are going in for fastidious architecture. One such home of the lowly hot dog is designed after the Spanish fashion—or what we believe is the Spanish fashion from the number of Spanish scenes in musical comedies we have seen. Some of the stands are open all night. They are favorite places for the young things and their gentlemen friends—after the ball is over. It is one field that the "chain" idea in America has not ventured into so far. Why not a national chain of hot-dog stands?

SPEAKING of chains, a friend says there is eastern time, central time, mountain time, and so on, but in Woolworth's it is always 5 to 10.

* * *

Noting the number of holdups reported we experimented the other night to see what would happen. We left Pittsburgh late at night and drove to Conneaut Lake. In the whole trip not one man with a blue handkerchief drawn across his chin and a slouch hat pulled down over his eyes was seen. We were prepared for such a thing, too. We had our smelling salts with us.

THERE is one lucky newsboy in the downtown district. Every day he gets his lunch tree. A man who runs a downtown restaurant thought the boy looked undernourished and invited him in to lunch. He got such a big kick out of seeing the lad enjoying the meal that he made his invitation a standing one. And every day the boy accepts.

* * *

There is a Pittsburgh bachelor who maintains a fine country establishment in the vicinity of Wildwood. His house stands in the middle of 12 acres. An office man, he amused himself by reconstructing the house and putting in cement walks. He has spent about four years—that is his spare time—building his present establishment. He was offered $15,000 for his place the other day, and, although a bachelor with no children among his relatives, he replied: "When I go this is going to be a home for crippled chihldren."

And some ladies try to tell you bachelors are hard-hearted.

AND we almost forgot to mention that a part of his amusement on a summer evening is to entertain any skunks that happen to come his way. He says small skunks are the cutest animals living. He feeds them, they come at his call, and go away when he orders them, too. He says skunks are very much misunderstood. We never have felt one way or the other about the skunk, but often we have inquired with the drunken man who in discussing skunks asked somewhat innocently: "What's the big idea?"

RUN ON HOME NOW!

In certain sections policemen earn a tidy little sum by turning out lights in stores. This work saves the owners from returning to their stores in the evening. One officer gets nearly $100 a month on the side.

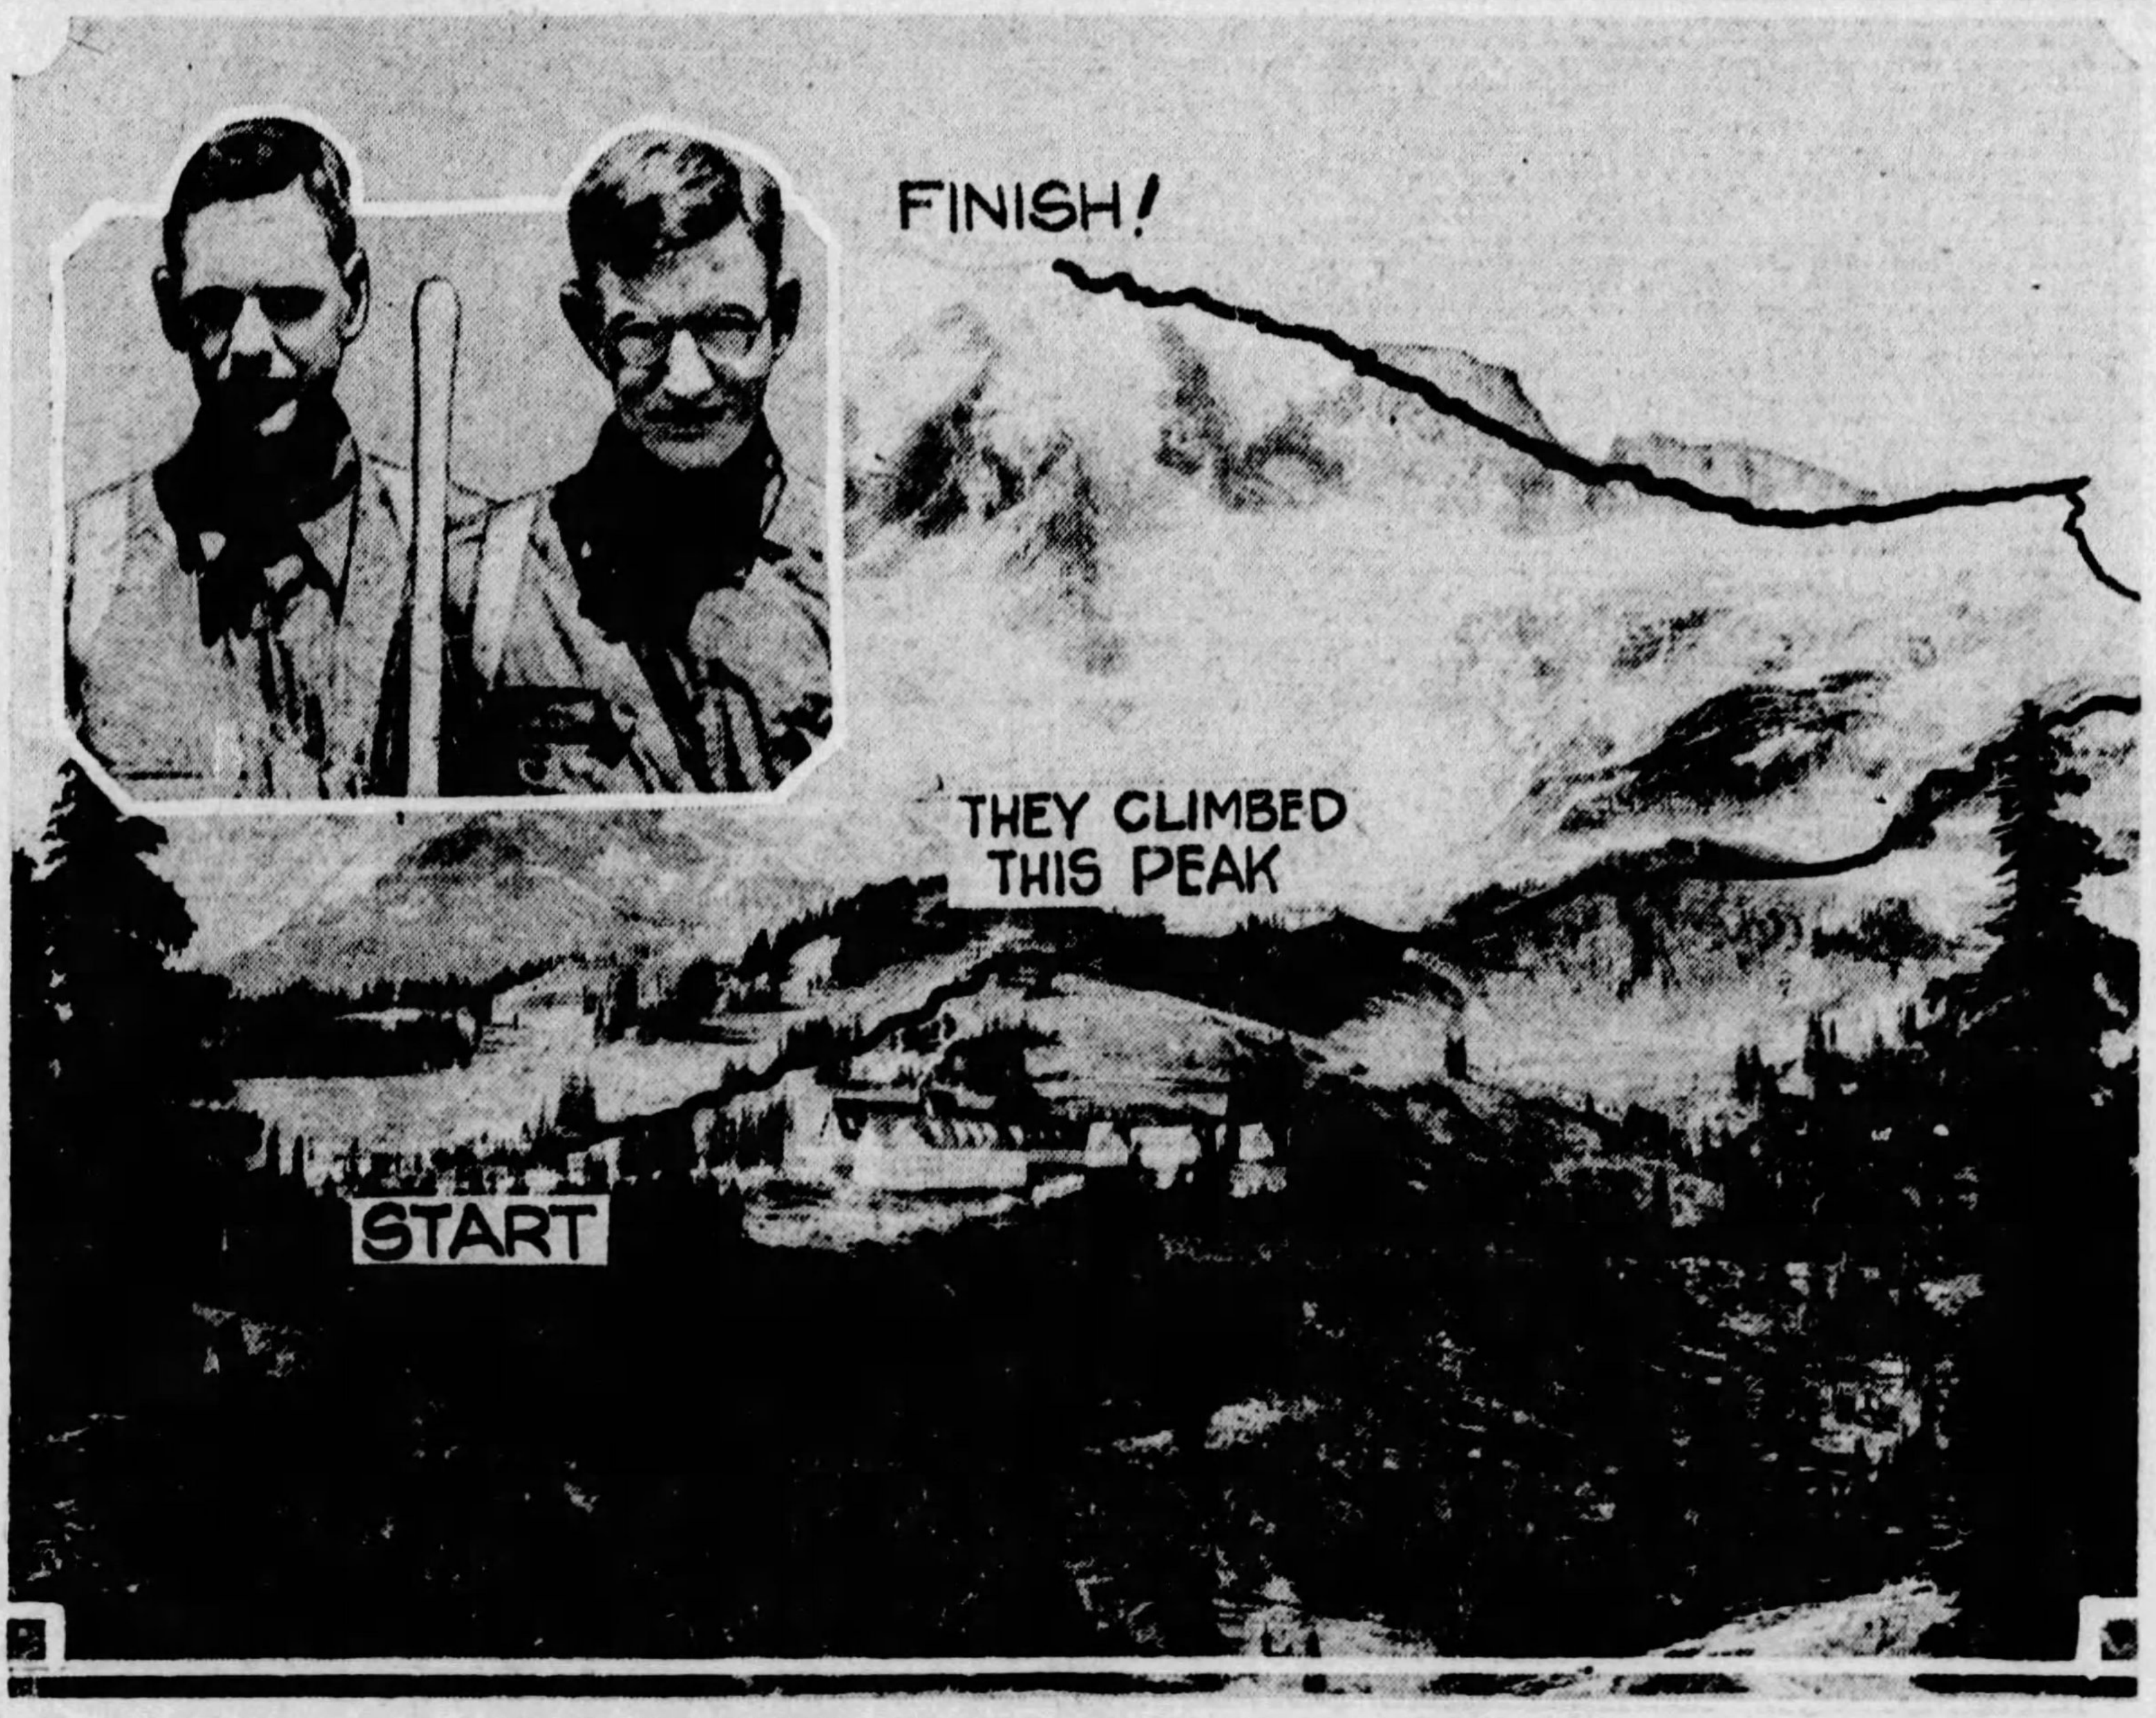
PITTSBURGH BROTHERS SCALE MT. RAINIER!



THEY LEARNED ABOUT CLIMBING ON TROY HILL

Two Pittsburgh brothers have scaled the 14,408-foot summit of Mt. Rainier in Rainier National Park, Washington. H. C. Ihsen and Oscar Ihsen (inset) of Watsonia boulevard, who established climbing as their favorite sport in Troy Hill and later in the Alleghenies, topped with more or less ease this tallest perpetually snow-capped peak in 48 states. Oscar is a draftsman for the Watt Manufacturing Company, his brother a metallurgist for Jones & Laughlin Steel Company.

BLUE LAW ENMESHES 34 SUNDAY WORKING BARBERS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—Thirty-four barbers must appear at an alderman's hearing tomorrow night to answer charges of violating the Pennsylvania blue laws by cutting hair on Sunday.

Union barbers do not want to work on Sundays, they say. So last Sunday six master barbers and a journeyman, accompanied by a constable, raided every open barber shop in the city to obtain information against the offending barbers. Summonses followed. Then the Sunday workers continued with their business.

Barbers shops in other Pennsylvania cities were closed Sundays by the local unions after the State Master Barbers' Association in convention here last April declared against Sunday operation of their shops.

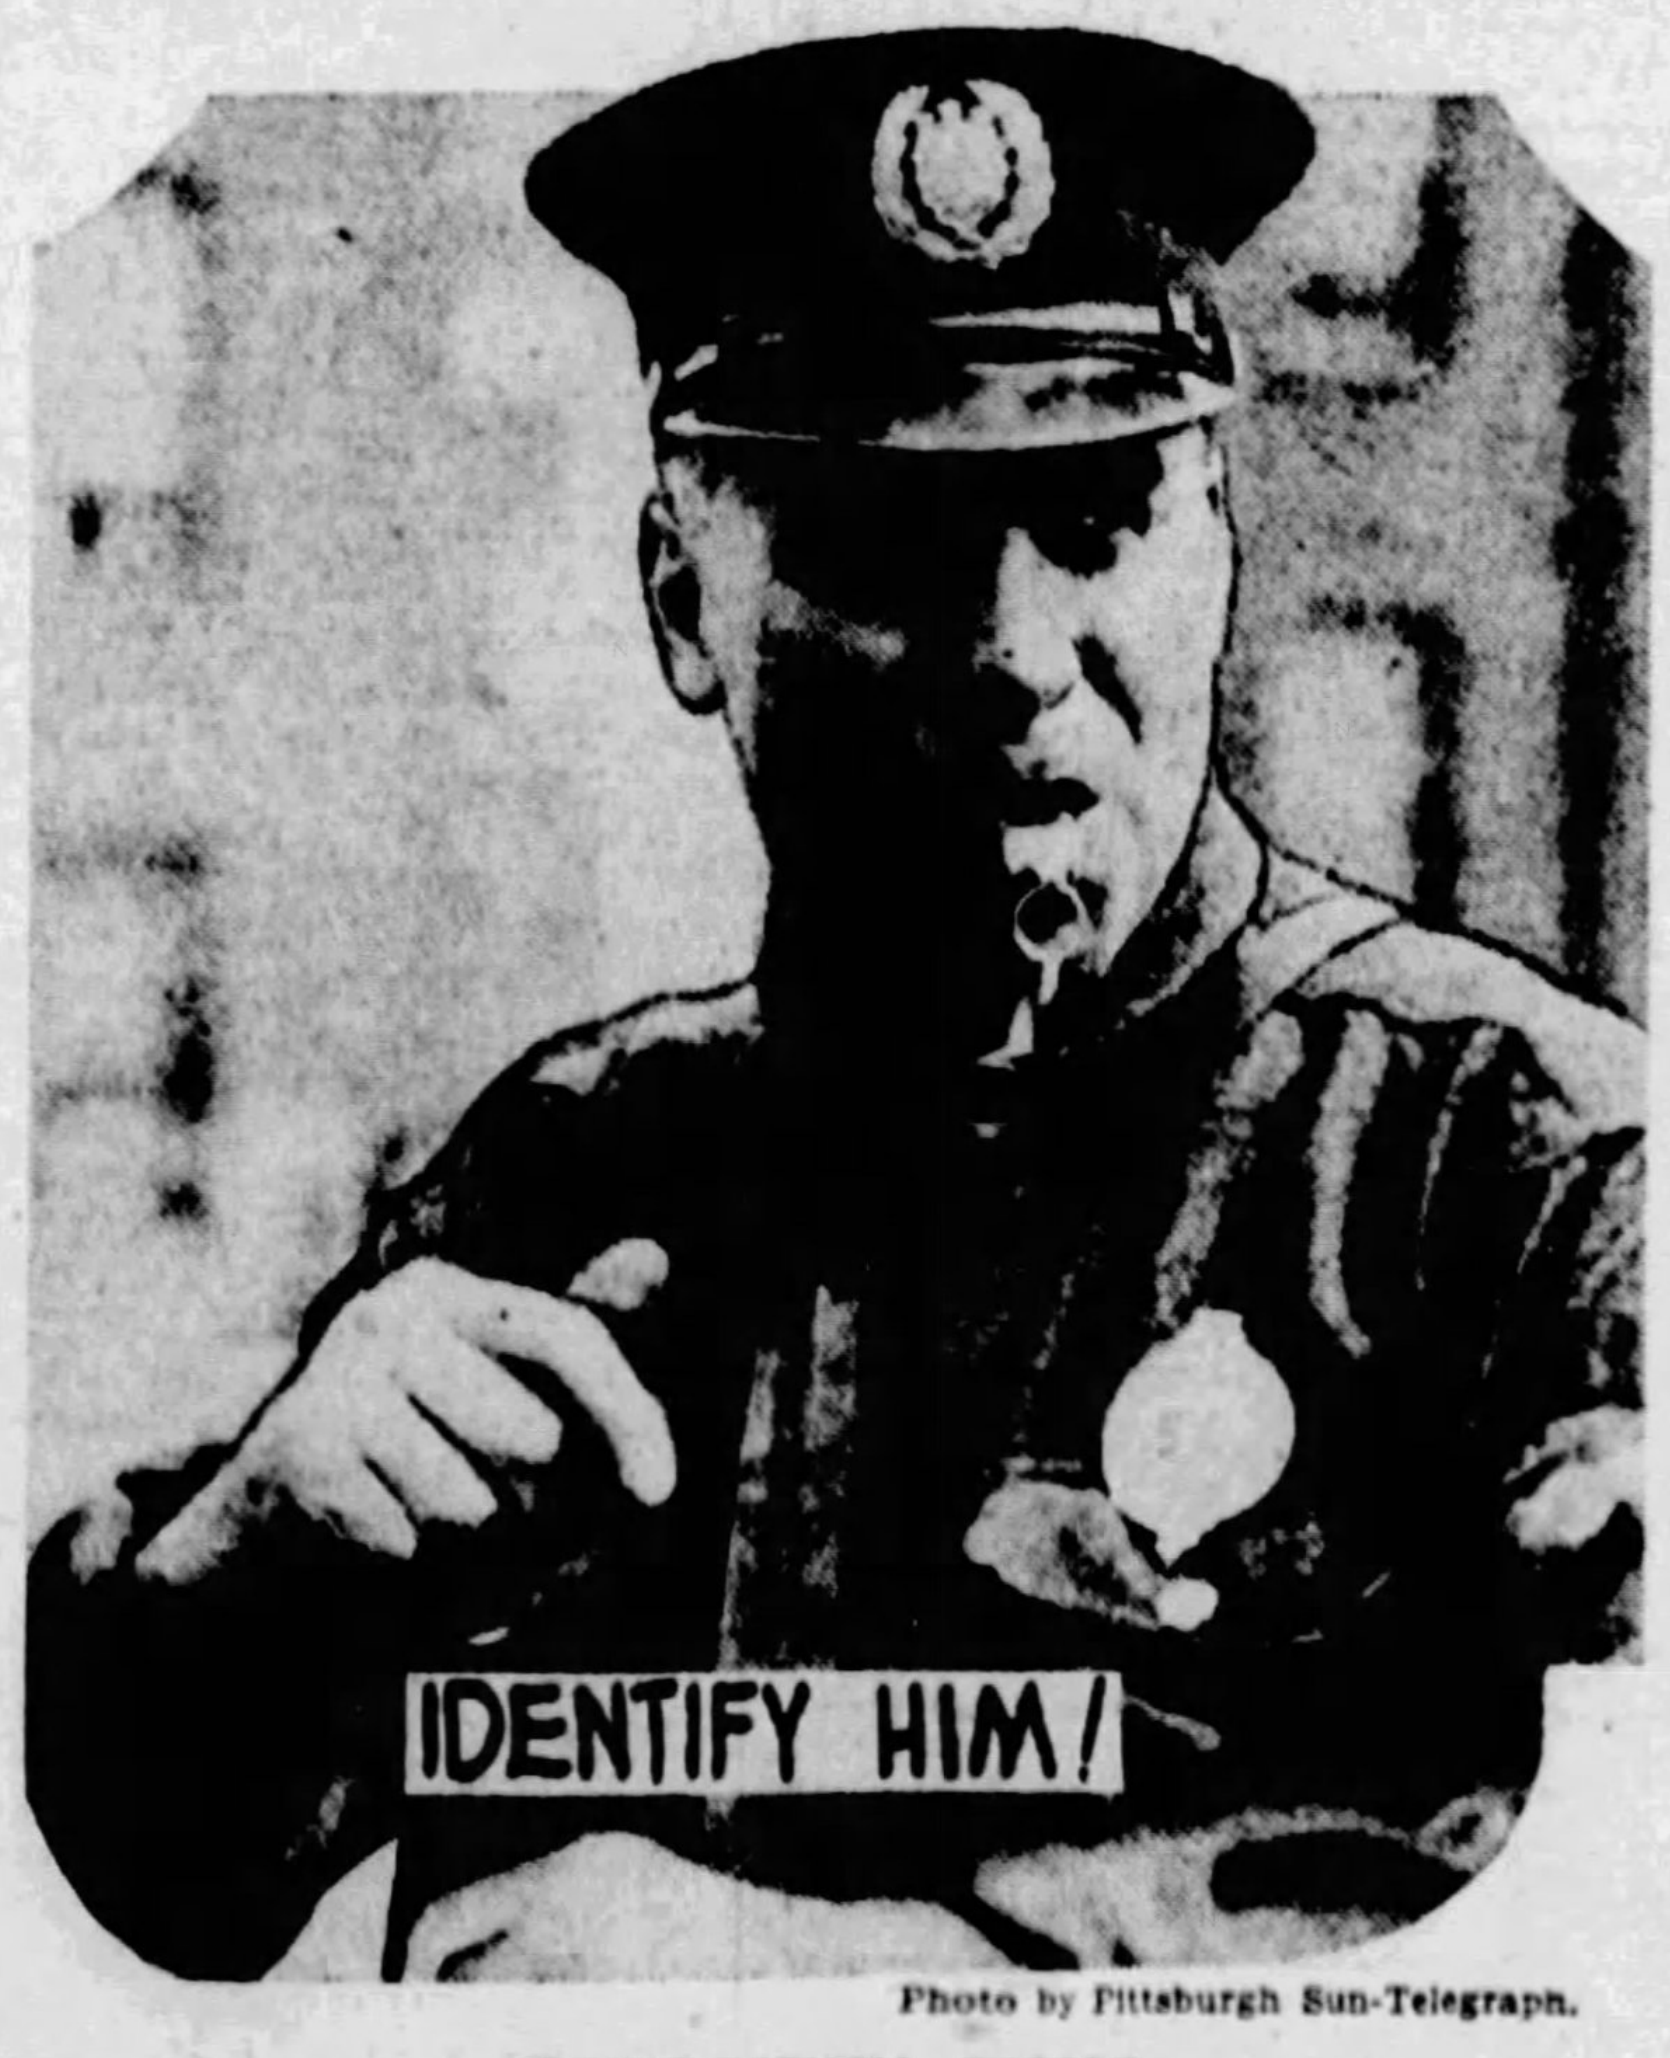
Peter J. Spier, secretary of Chapter No. 369, Association of Master Barbers of America, is the prosecutor in all the cases.

"We don't want to work on Sunday," Spier said. "Those working last Sunday were not members of the union. If the nonunion barbers are allowed to work Sunday we will have to work on that day."

SHERIFF RECAPTURES ESCAPING WITNESS

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 28.—Dan Royer, 76, of Grove City, held at the County Home on court order as a witness in a liquor case, escaped yesterday, but was recaptured by Sheriff Dan Callahan.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR OWN "TRAFFIC COP?"



IDENTIFY HIM!

RECOGNIZE HIM?

Honestly, now, if you were asked, could you tell the name of the traffic patrolman on your corner, the one who speaks to you when you pass by? The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, if you can't, will help you a bit. Each day there is published the photograph of one of the city's traffic officers. Here is one for today. His name tomorrow!

YESTERDAY'S "TRAFFIC COP" WAS LOUIS SCHUBERT, 36, WHO DIRECTS THINGS AT REEDSDALE STREET AND GALVESTON AVENUE, NORTH SIDE. OF THE FIVE YEARS HE HAS SPENT AS AN ARM OF THE LAW, FOUR HAVE BEEN IN THE TRAFFIC DEPARTMENT.

LIQUOR LURE IN HOLDUP

DONORA, Pa., Aug. 28.—A jug of moonshine has taken the place of the old-time gold brick in the up-to-date confidence game. Dante Bortoletti, of Carrick, lost his watch and bank roll when he drove out to a lonely highway intersection at Eldera and waited for a West Virginia automobile guaranteed to contain a great quantity of high-priced liquor.

The car came with its cargo, but the driver, shoving a pistol against Bortoletti's body, took watch and money and drove off without transfering the booze. The victim reported the holdup to the police and Bruno Montti, alleged to have advised Bortoletti to meet the bootlegger's car, is under arrest on a charge of being an accomplice in the holdup.

PENCIL JAB MAY RUIN EYESIGHT OF AUTOIST

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 28.—A pencil point believed to have been jabbed into his eye in an automobile accident, Mark M. Decker, deputy controller of Washington county, is a patient in the Washington Hospital and may suffer the loss of sight. The pencil was knocked out of his pocket and the only explanation is that its point was thrust into his eye when his machine struck a truck in a fog bank.

HURT IN CAR COLLISION, MRS. HURT FILES SUIT

Injured when a one-man street car collided with another street car, Mrs. Ada Hurt, 59 Twelfth street, has brought suit against the Pittsburgh Railways Company for $15,000 damages. She claims that on July 19 a car in which she was riding collided with one at Liberty avenue and Smithfield street and that due care was not exercised.

BANK TREASURER IN WESTMORELAND DIES

GREENSBURG, Aug. 28.—Henry H. Murdock, 77, treasurer of the Barclay-Westmoreland Trust Company, is dead. He was a resident of Greensburg for 50 years, and the last of a family of 12. He was born near Ligonier.

Held for 12 Auto Thefts; Bail of $1,000 for Each

Unless Thomas Fitzgerald, 38, of Washington, can find someone willing to risk $1,000 for each of the 12 automobiles Fitzgerald is alleged to have stolen during the last two months, Allegheny county jail will be his home until the courts get around to hearing his case.

Fitzgerald was arraigned in Central Police Court this morning before Magistrate John Orie on charges of larceny. The magistrate set bail at $12,000.

7 CARRIED TO DOOM IN VANISHED PLANE

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Seven persons, instead of six previously reported, apparently were carried to their death when the Victoria-Seattle passenger airplane vanished Saturday while flying over the waters of Puget Sound.

Advices from Vancouver, B. C., said that N. D. Soveral, 656 Springdale avenue, East Orange, N. J., had purchased a ticket to Seattle Saturday morning. As the plane was making ready to take off for Victoria, a passenger made a last-minute boarding and air service officials are convinced that the man was Soveral.

Search for the plane lagged yesterday as the conviction grew among aviators searching for the ship that the plane had plunged into the sound. Practically every square mile of land on which the plane might have crashed had been covered.

One of the searching planes nose-dived into an emergency field near Washington Harbor yesterday and the propeller was smashed. Neither Lieut. Reginald Bolles, of the Army Air Service, pilot, nor his companion, Ensign Robert Ellis, of the Naval Air Reserve, was hurt.

BEECHVIEW MAN JAILED AS HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER

Steve Luffey, 32, of 1742 Fairacres avenue, Beechview, was arrested early today at his home, accused of being the "hit-and-run" driver who sped away yesterday after damaging two automobiles in Carson street near Fourth street. Two parked automobiles were badly damaged by the driver, the police report stated. Luffey is charged with violating the automobile laws.

Dies

SENATOR PFISCHNER

State Senator Edward Pfischner, of Millvale, youngest member of the upper legislative house of Pennsylvania, died in St. Francis Hospital.

Decorated

CLAY MEYERS

As a reward for commercial services in promoting good will between America and Belgium, Clay Meyers, ready-to-wear merchandise manager for the Joseph Horne Company, has been decorated with the Order of the Crown of Leopold by the Belgian government. The ceremony took place at the Belgian embassy in Paris during the recent meeting of the Garment Retailers' Association of America when Meyers and three other officers of the organization were honored.

CLUB RAIDED IN SHOOTING

Arrested in a raid on the Silver Leaf Social Whist Club, 1715 Arcena street, last night following a shooting, Robert White, Negro, alleged proprietor, was sentenced to the workhouse for 60 days, and Jesse Braxton, 24, of 1713 Arcena street; Aldridge Taylor, 24, of Youngstown, O., and Henry Morgan, 21, of 12½ Crawford street, all Negroes, were ordered held for court by Magistrate A. D. Brandon. Thirteen other Negro youths nabbed in the raid were discharged.

Three were said to have been wounded in the gunplay, but Braxton was the only victim at the hearing. He could not tell whether he had suffered a bullet wound or injured a finger getting out a window when the trouble started.

BELIEVES SHE IS HEIRESS

Mrs. Nora O'Connor Peterson, of Ligonier, this morning notified the Missing Persons Bureau she believed she is a relative of James Francis O'Connor, who died recently in Nebraska leaving $20,075,000. Her communication was forwarded to Mrs. A. Fontenal, Oakdale, La., who is conducting a search for the heirs. Mrs. Peterson said she is a grand-daughter of William O'Connor, whom she believed to be a nephew of the deceased. James Francis O'Connor moved to Pittsburgh in 1830 with three other brothers.

FINED FOR TAKING CAR AND ATTACKING OWNER

Accused of stealing an automobile and attacking the owner when overtaken while driving away, Stanley Gorg, 23, of 33 Uxor way, was fined $25 in South Side Police Court yesterday. The machine was stolen from in front of the home of Richard Nash, 24, of 1918 Sarah street, the owner. Nash followed the machine to Twenty-second street, where he is said to have been attacked.

Will Rogers Says

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 28.

My good friend, Mr. Durant, offered $25,000 for the best suggestion as to the enforcement of prohibition. I would like to grab off that $25,000, then I could pay Hearst that five thousand Coolidge layed down on me for.

Here is my plan: Have the government pass a law making it compulsory for everybody to drink. People would rebel against it so that they would stop drinking.

That's a funny thing about American people. Tell 'em they must not do anything, and they will die twice or do it.

If I win, I will drive nothing but a Durant car.

Yours, WILL.

HALF WIVES by Winifred Van Duzer

Alan Insists That Ione Must Not Worry About The Budget

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Ione Farr, just out of high school, gets a position with Max Weimar, a music publishing house in New York. Her chum, Marie Karey, is engaged to Palmer Elliott, a young lawyer, whom she later marries. She is always holding up as a model Ione's married sister, Jenepher, who has a small son and also holds a fine position in a smart New York shop. Benz, Weimer's office manager, takes Ione to Tin Pan Alley, where she meets the famous song writer, Wolfie Speed. Ione falls in love with Alan Blake, an accompanist, and they plan to be married as soon as Blake can support her. She is inclined to be jealous of Fluff Harwick, a new girl in the office. She feels that Jenepher is proving that a wife cannot hold down a job and run a household and do both successfully. She tries to be nice to Fluff, but the latter repulses her and she has her first quarrel with Blake on account of her. At Marie's house for dinner they learn all about a 50-50 marriage. Benz makes further plans to advance Ione. He tells her jobs are not handed out through friendship but ability. Alan is made branch manager for his firm and gets a raise. He urges Ione to marry him at once. Ione insists, however, on giving her employer notice and the day is set for the wedding. Alan arrives and finds Ione in her bridal attire awaiting him. After the wedding they visit Alan's folks. The following week they return to the city and hunt for an apartment. Their first meal at home is very pleasant. Fluff Hardwick is made Alan's secretary, but Ione tries not to be a suspicious wife. In order to keep within her budget, she tries laundering.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXII.

THE gingham apron was splashed from top to bottom; little rivers of suds wriggled down it and went running into the old bedroom slippers Ione had put on.

There was a streak of bluing across her cheek and the steam had ruffled her hair so it covered her head with shining, black ringlets.

She snatched Alan's shirt—it was the striped one with the turndown collar—to her throat and held it there while soapy water poured from it, wetting her to the skin.

There it was again—the sound. A key turning in the lock. Lanny. Coming home this morning of all times in the week—oh, that was luck for you!

Now she'd have to explain. Tell him she'd fallen down on the housekeeping job; make him feel that he wasn't getting by.

On an impulse she kicked the kitchen door; it swung shut as he stepped into the corridor.

She did not answer his call, hoping distractedly that he might find whatever he had come for and hurry away, thinking her out.

But the night before Alan had left an envelope on the kitchen table where he thought he would be sure to find it in the morning. He had returned for this; now he rushed over and pushed back the door.

She stood there facing him, white and alarmed, with the water streaming down her from the shirt and steam like veils floating all around. She tried to speak but her throat was tight.

He halted, gazing in astonishment; now he came into the dripping room, staring and bewildered.

"You didn't answer, Ione? Oh, you're washing my shirt? What makes you do that? You didn't send the laundry—got a woman instead?"

She began to cry miserably—snatched off the apron and threw it aside; started, all soaking as she was, to run past him. But he caught her and pressed her face down against his arm.

"What is it, Io?"

"You'll be hurt, Lanny? Oh, you will? Truly, I only wanted to help. You see it was the extra roast we had last week—and I thought—ther's not much laundry, really—and just this once—" She finished in a gust of sobbing, feeling herself a woful failure.

He led her into the other room and waited while she put on dry things. Then he made her sit beside him on the divan, gathering her hands all swollen and red with suds, kissing them.

"You're dreadfully hurt, Lanny? You're mad with me, maybe? You see I didn't know you'd be coming home; I thought just this once—"

"That's all that hurts, Io. We must work together, mustn't we? You didn't trust me enough. We expected to be poor. We'll look back on it some day when we have the moon and a star, won't we? Can't you smile now on Lan?"

"Oh, you're the wonderfulest!"

"Because I have you. Listen now, Mrs. Blake; you're to play no more wash-board solos—you hear? Little hobby of mine, it is. And there'll be some extra dollars every week from now on.

"I don't need all the money we've been keeping out for myself. Don't know what to do with it anyway; would probably lose it or something. That's about all, isn't it? O. K. little boss?"

She protested. She didn't want him to feel cut down and deprived; they owed it to him that he should have a few dollars spending money. Why, he'd seem positively henpecked with no more than carfare!

But he laughed and declared he wouldn't feel married unless he could have his way. And when she gave in she experienced for the first time the proud little yearning maternal feeling that all happy wives at some time or other turn upon their husbands.

While she scrambled eggs for their lunch he put on the gingham apron and wrung out the clothes that were in the tub.

"And you'll be sending them to the laundry soon as they're dry. You hear me, Mrs. Blake?"

She giggled and dropped a curtsey and pretended to be very humble.

So the bills were met for a week or two.

And then it was her nineteenth birthday.

She was determined to say nothing about it. He would wish to make her a gift and they both would feel downcast because such a blithesome thing to do was out of the question. Anyway, she asked herself gaily, what was a birthday in a lifetime?

But Janey never forgot. That was why Ione jumped up from the breakfast table to answer the doorbell that May morning. She brought back a box covered with postal directions; Alan opened it and lifted out a great seven-tiered cake, all rose icing and stuck with nineteen tiny candles.

"The darling! Janey's made it herself. Lan—think of it! Oh, and look here—" digging into the box. "Virginia ham and cloves! And strawberry tarts and spiced pears—we'll have a party tonight!" Dancing with excitement, like a very little girl.

He said, puzzled, "You didn't tell me it was your birthday, Frills?"

"Well, now. Do you know I'm getting that aged I'll soon not be having birthdays at all! You'll come to my party, Mister Lon?"

"Yes, thank'ee kindly. And do I get a kiss for every year? In a hurry—"

Such a time as she had making ready for her first "party!"

Bringing out the embroidered linen set; the rose-rimmed china. Rushing down stairs to buy pink candles for the silver candlestands Eddie Benz had given her; polishing the silver tray for the cake.

All very beautiful it was, waiting for them there. And poignant someway. A thing always to be remembered.

She put on the sapphire velvet; the evening was cool enough for that and she loved the creamy tints it brought to her skin. And she brushed her hair so it shone like black satin and rouged her sweet lips till they were like a red, red rose.

"If I were any happier," she said to the star-eyed girl in the glass, "I just couldn't stand it!"

CUPID AND THE PRETTY WIDOW

Drawn by Nell Brinkley

"He's No Respecter of Dead Love"

CUPID rushes in where consolation fears to tread. He whistles and looks at the sky, lays his campaign plans, and chuckles to himself in a knavish way. All this at one end of the marble bench which holds at the other the slim black figure of a pretty widow. Drooping lids she has, rainy blue eyes and pearls on her lashes. "Nothing—oh, nothing—can reach this malady of mine. There was only one man in all this world and—I had him!"

And the sovereign of "sighs and groans," maker of them and healer of them, hugs himself, and surveys the landscape. And he puts back his head and laughs soundlessly at the sight of men—men—men—nice ones—decorating it in every direction.

Cupid is an unsympathetic chap. He is like an artist. Once through with a picture—his creation—he loses interest in that one. And immediately begins to grow excited over the dream of another!

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

THE SUPER-AMORIST

"I AM the only woman he ever REALLY loved! The only woman who understands him!"

* * *

That is what a least three attractive young women solemnly and emphatically declared, when a popular New York novelist got his picture in the newspapers, through the suicide of a fourth pretty young woman.

* * *

THAT is the easiest thing in the world for any woman to believe, if a man will only let her! All a man has to do in order to be a complete success as a lover, is to start a woman's imagination working, and then refrain from doing anything to interrupt it.

HELEN ROWLAND

Nearly every normal girl can recall at least four or five men, in whose lives she fondly believes she was the "one and only real love." Believing the thing she WANTS to believe about a man is one of woman's greatest specialties. Kidding herself is her favorite pastime!

* * *

The fine art of making women love you, as every skilled amorist knows, consists of concentrating the eyes, heart and attention on one woman—at a TIME. In making her believe that she is the only woman in your life!

* * *

That is positively all it takes to be a great lover! And it's SO easy! But, alas, so few men will take the time or the trouble to specialize in love, these days; they all want to be general practitioners.

* * *

A one-woman man is almost as hard to find as a dynosaur or a corset, or an honest buckwheat cake; and even a one-woman-at-a-time man is rarer than real Chippendale.

* * *

But the super-lover, today, yesterday and forever is the one who knows how to concentrate his whole mind and soul on the particular woman he happens to be looking at, talking to or kissing. No matter how many changes of heart he may have, the woman of the moment is "the only woman in the world" for him!

One love at a time, and that done artistically, is the secret of his success.

No woman relishes the thought that she is only one of a crowd in a man's affections. That his heart is like an excursion train, in which there is always room for one more. She can forgive a man for ceasing to love her, if he will only leave her VANITY in tact.

* * *

Next to the knowledge that she is loved, the most thrilling feeling a woman can have is the conviction that she HAS BEEN loved, thoroughly and completely.

* * *

The super-amorist who can have three sophisticated, modern women, each feeling positively that she was "the only woman he ever really loved" may be a gay deceiver—but he certainly has his points!

Horoscope

Wednesday, August 29.

ALTHOUGH this will be a day of initiative and enterprise, according to certain inimical influences, there will be positions of hazard and seething conditions calling for prudent management and business acumen in order to avoid the shoals. The money must be wisely handled and a state of turmoil due to the mutual aspect between Mars and Saturn, two major malefics, should be treated with equanimity. There may be some delays and a sudden change.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year calling for wise management. It will be an active year, with the energies under high stimulus. But money should be handled prudently and tumultuous conditions should be calmly met and manipulated. Change and delays are presaged.

A child born on this day may be active and resourceful, qualities needful to assist it to quell unrest and tumult. It should also have economy and thrift instilled.

Madge Copies the Character Taken From the Miniature

LILLIAN bent over the queer marks upon the thin paper which we had taken from the secret compartment of Eleanor Lincoln's miniature, and after inspecting them carefully, shook her head at my question.

"I haven't your memory," she said. "It seems to me I've seen something resembling them before, but I'm no code expert. If Allen Drake were here now."

"It was when he was here before that I saw marks like these," I said, my excitement steadily mounting as the memory of a terrific struggle and a wonderful victory came back to me. "Don't you remember the man who called himself Smith and the plot against the Government—"

"Against all governments," Lillian amended. "There was nothing small about that lad."

"I know," I said impatiently, "and don't you remember that we found a thin paper like this all covered with—

"With characters from some dead language or other," Lillian interrupted excitedly, "that you were able to work out because you once had studied those old inscriptions with some decayed old professor who'd forgotten anything had happened since the time the characters were cut in the stone. Of course, I remember. You don't mean to tell me that these are the same sort of characters!"

"They are Sumerian, certainly," I returned, "but of course it would take days, perhaps weeks of work, to decipher the code."

"But how long would it take you to copy it line for line, dot for dot, just as the thing stands there?"

I looked the paper over carefully.

"To copy and check, about an hour," I estimated.

"Get at then, pronto," she commanded. "Do you want me here, or would you rather I held the fort downstairs and insured you against interruption?"

"Downstairs, if you don't mind," I told her smiling.

"In other words, get out and make it snappy," she said as she moved toward the door. "But I'm not proud, and this is manna straight from Heaven. Let me know as soon as you're through. I want to send off a code message."

That she was tremendously excited by the discovery of these characters used several years before in a code, which masked the secret plans of an especially diabolical set of plotters against the government, I saw clearly. But my excitement transcended hers. The deciphering of that code for Allen Drake had been the most signal triumph of my secret diplomatic work.

I could not believe that the characters before me had anything to do with a plot such as the others had masked. If our theory concerning the identity of Eleanor Lincoln were true, she would be the last person in the world to be in possession of a code connected with a revolutionary plot. But I had great faith in Lillian's hunches, and she evidently expected surprising and valuable revelations when I should decipher the meaning of the characters.

That was a long way off, I told myself sharply, as with pen and paper I set myself to the task of copying the characters. Mine is a single-track mind, and I knew that if I permitted it any speculation upon the meaning of the characters my copying might not be accurate. So I forced myself to consider only the exact reproduction of the lines and dots upon the thin paper.

Purposely I had named twice the time that I needed, for I wished to make two copies that I might always have one in reserve while working upon the other. And when two copies were made and each checked three times for errors, I locked them away in my desk, folded the paper exactly as it had been done originally and inserted it again into the cavity at the back of the miniature. Then, with a word to Lillian and bearing the chain pendant and miniature in my bag, I had Jim drive me again to The Larches. I intended to run no risk of dropping that bag until I had restored Eleanor Lincoln's treasure to her.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Royal S. Copeland M.D.

U.S. Senator From New York

Shaving Brushes Source of Danger

THERE are many ways to die, and man is not given his choice among them. He must accept his fate no matter what form it takes. Because there is no dodging that fate, however, it does not follow that "what is to be will be." Such fatalistic philosophies have brought many to an untimely and unnecessary end.

DR. COPELAND

The span of life is gradually being widened and premature mortality lessened. The scientists are showing us more and more how to live; how to prevent infection; how to escape disease. One important factor that is adding to the sum total of America's unprecedented prosperity today, is the greatly lessened loss of productive time of the worker through illness, which his better knowledge of bodily hygiene has taught him.

But we still have much to learn.

We still do many hazardous things because we are ignorant of the fact that they are hazardous. Because the day-by-day news reveals little of the many lives that pay for that ignorance, we unconsciously indulge in these practices, little dreaming how they are fraught with danger to our precious bodies and lives.

Take the matter of the common lather brush for example. For years scientists have warned against its use. Its thickly tufted knot offers an ideal breeding ground for germs. The barber shop is not the only place where this germ carrier exposes you to danger. Your own brush, by reason of its exposure to dust and dirt, is a potential disease carrier. Barber's itch and other serious skin and blood diseases are traced directly to germs that propagate in the shaving brushes.

The deadliest of diseases communicable by the shaving brush is a fatal disease, yet always preventable.

Fastidious as we are in this modern day, isn't it rather remarkable that we submit to the common shaving brush and mug? While it may well be that comparatively few cases of disease are transmitted in this manner it cannot be denied that it is an act which gives abuntant opportunity for trouble.

Even through brush and mug are actually boiled for each customer—a thing that is rarely done, even in the best shops—that is not enough to overcome the objection to their use. Nobody would accept a common toothbrush, no matter if it had been boiled for an hour. Why, then, should he submit to the common shaving brush?

Not because of the remote danger of getting anthrax, nor because of the prospect of catching barber's itch or some other skin or blood disease, not alone because of the possibility of physical contamination, do I plead for a change in the manner of soaping the face for shaving. I do it because there is a more sanitary, a more cleanly, a more decent process of lathering.

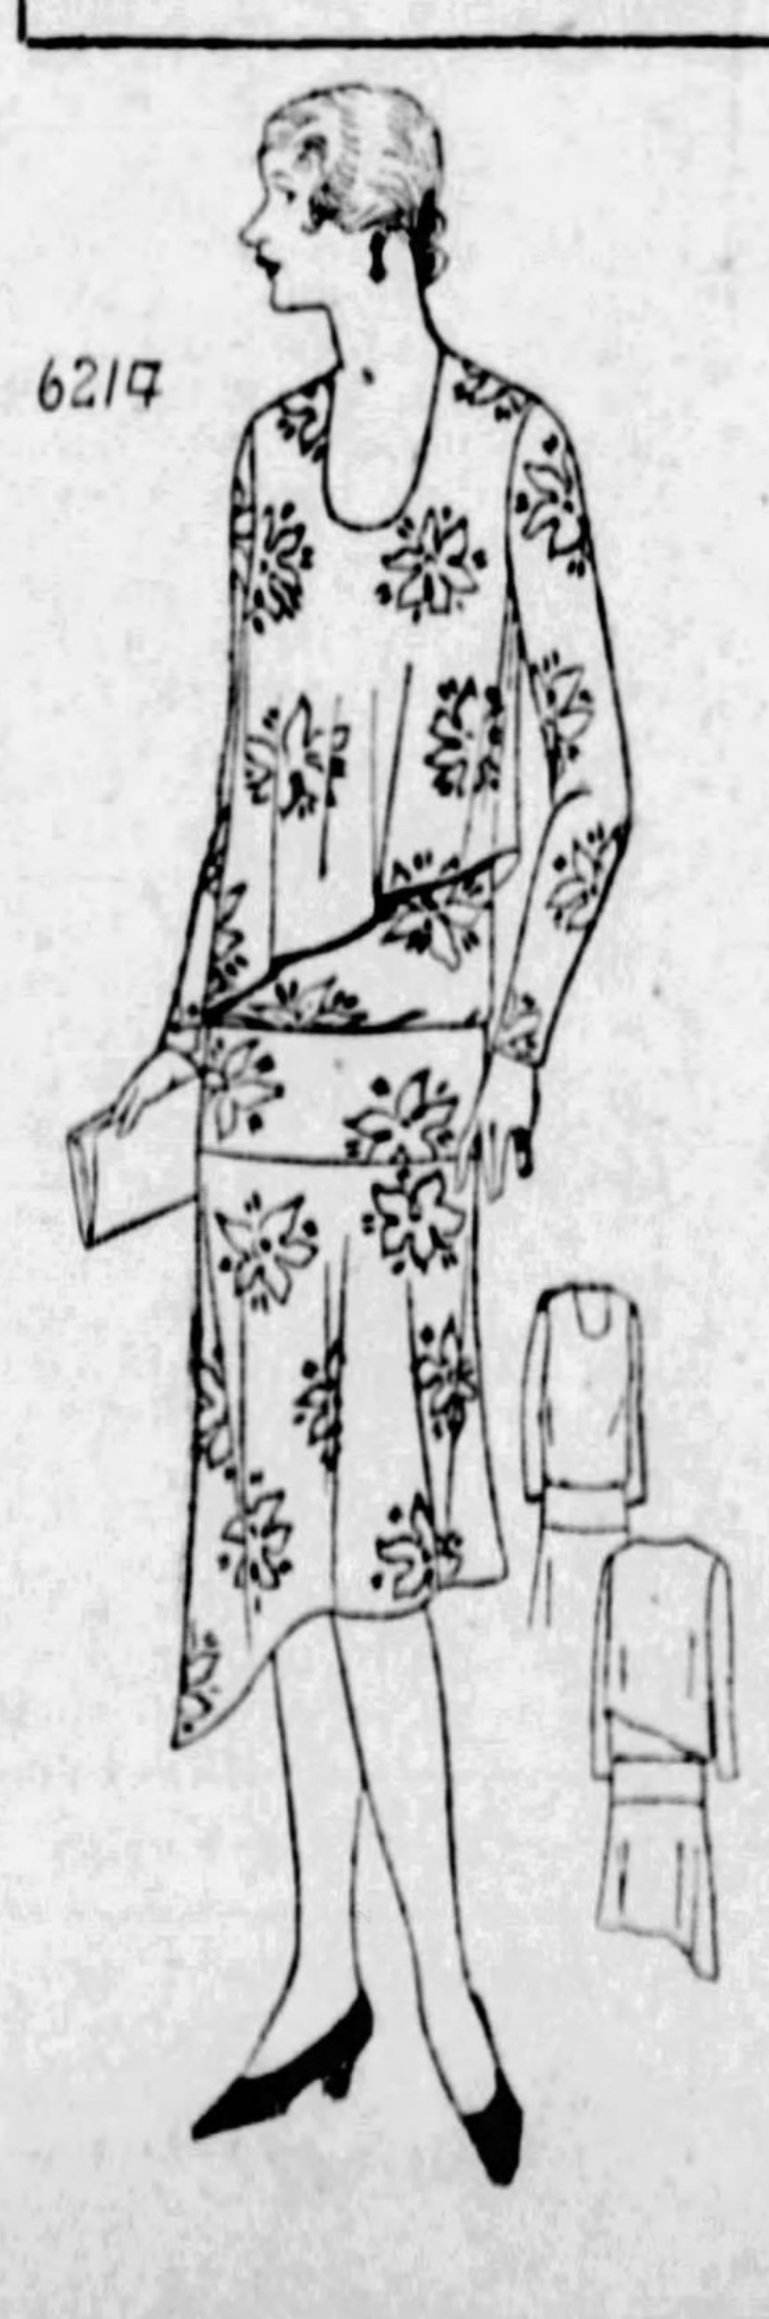
The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern



A STYLISH DESIGN.

Very smart and unusual is this artistic model. It makes an excellent afternoon dress in printed chiffon over a flesh color crepe slip. It will also be attractive in polka dot silk, and is equally pleasing in georgette or satin.

The pattern is cut in five sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. To make this charming model as portrayed in the large view for a 38-inch size will require 1 yard of 32-inch lining for the underbody, and 5⅝ yards of 35-inch material for the dress. If made without the bolero, 4¼ yards of 35-inch material is required. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fulness extended is 2½ yards.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Prince of Wales
His Story

vincial scholarship student to the wealthy, cultured men from the great public schools.

An attempt to curb his freedom by the students themselves was frowned upon by Edward. The story is told of the little party at which the Prince had agreed to attend on the strict understanding that there were to be no speeches. As the dinner was drawing to a close one of the students called to the Prince for a speech. The cry was immediately taken up, only dying down when the honored guest rose to his feet. The noise subsided but the Prince waited, tapping the table with his fingers impatiently, until there was complete silence. "I wish you fellows wouldn't make such a fuss!" the youthful orator declared and then continued his meal amid a somewhat awkward silence.

The pursuits in which the young Prince indulged when study hours were over were many and varied but were not of the "strenuous" order; he recognized that his slender physique could not take a fair chance against such giants as studied with him, and he contented himself with shooting, motoring, running with the beagles, riding to the hounds with his equerry, playing golf, tennis, polo and association football. Not a little of his time was devoted to the O. T. C., in which he took a great interest. Though the Prince was occasionally seen on the river, he had not the satisfaction of rowing or "coxing" home Magdalene. After arduous practice at "soccer," Prince Edward won a place in the Magdalene second team. The Prince found much enjoyment in polo at Oxford and acquitted himself well. On fine mornings he would be up and doing good practice in the Port Meadow. Later, he kept half a dozen polo ponies at Oxford.

STAGE AND SCREEN ACTIVITIES DETAILED IN PICTURES AND GOSSIP ABOUT PLAYERS

Nixon Players in Final Week—Comedy Is Offering in Pitt—Romantic Dramas Dominate Local Screen

Harriet Craig Paying Homage To Goddess of Materialism in Nixon Players' Goodby Gesture

By CLARENCE E. GRUNDISH.

THE goddess of materialsim is enthroned on the Nixon stage this week. But she begins to totter toward the final curtain of "Craig's Wife," which, incidentally, is the season's farewell gesture of the Nixon Players.

The drama, you may recall, is George Kelly's ironical portrait of a phase of modern life—the selfish wife. It parades before us Harriet Craig, a worshiper of material things. Her entire scheme of life is the acquisition of a house. It is her goddess; not a home. She has fine furniture, beautiful draperies and exquisite bits of statuary. Soft cushions grace her chairs. But all of these things are idols to be fussed over, looked at—never disturbed. In fact, what she has is a museum—all very attractive to the eye; but all very difficult to live in.

And—as a sort of secondary interest—Harriet Craig has a husband. She finds him a convenience. There is money beckoning the little blank pages in his check book.

The Harriet Craig that Marguerite Merrill gives in the current production has some traits that recall the rasping wife Chrystal Herne created in the original drama—seen here several seasons ago. And like Miss Herne, Harry Bannister's leading woman makes effective the episode in which the wife scans the audience—peering through imaginary windows for a glimpse of her husband.

Mr. Bannister, as the "romantic fool" of a husband, who finally gets heroic and smashes a prize statuette for no other reason than he doesn't like it, acquits himself rather well. Naughty Mr. Craig—he not only smashes the valued ornament, but tosses cigaret butts all over the deep carpet. No wonder the housekeeping Kathryn Card—with a mental portrait of Mrs. Craig—calls on heaven's protection as she gathers the debris into a dustpan.

A character you wi" enjoy is Helene Gregg's Mrs. Frazier, the widow neighbor next door, who raises roses for sentimental reasons. Poor Mrs. Frazier, self-confessed "grandmother at 50"—and then she titters and the audience laughs.

The cast also includes Ruby Perrott, Fred Sullivan, Sara Floyd, C. Russell Sage, Norman Porter, Edgar Hemming and Virginia Williams.

Miss Williams is a graduate of the Carnegie Tech drama school—with professional experience. She was in the New York production of "The American Tragedy" and has had a year of stock in Harrisburg. She appeared once before with the Nixon Players—in "Meet the Wife."

The drama holds interest throughout—there's just a touch of mystery, and the lines come brittle. Much of the wit is sharp, ironical.

At the end, the house built upon the sands of materialism begins to totter around Harriet Craig. There's a sort of hopelessness about her, pacing through a now lonely house—crushing white roses in nervous fingers. And somehow, you feel sorry for her. Sorry, too, for the symbolic white roses that drop, petal by petal, onto the floor.

TALKING PICTURE IS CURRENT IN REGENT

While Dolores Costello is adding to her screen fame with her "Glorious Betty" portrayal in the Stanley this week, her sister, Helene Costello, is figuring prominently in the Regent. Helene is featured in the cast of well known players who are in the current Regent film, "Lights of New York." This picture has a synchronized score and spoken sequences. The story tells of two small town lovers, who, in quest of adventure and fortune, brave the perils of the Big Town. And both get in wrong. There's lots of thrill-creating atmosphere in the production — scenes of the Broadway, the big crowds, the night clubs, the water front and the underworld, Cullen Landis is the hero. Other performers are Gladys Brockwell, Mary Carr, Wheeler Oakman, Eugene Pallette, Robert Elliott, Tom Dugan and Walter Percival. A comedy film and news pictures are on the bill.

"IT'S A BOY" IS IN PITT

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

"It's a Boy," the presentation of the George Sharp Players in the Pitt this week, is admirably produced. It is genuinely funny at times. But the play is not as good a choice as many of the companny's other offerings this summer.

The prologue undoubtly made a hit, but the tense wait for the arrival of a baby is a strained form of humor—however extreme the conduct of a nervous husband, a frightened mother and a matter-of-fact father-in-law maybe.

After the birth of the son the pleasure-loving wife, played by Olive Meehan prevails upon her husband to accept an offer to sell his business and to take a position in New York. Insatiable desire for pleasure and finery cause the wife to neglect her baby. At the end of a year the young husband finds himself jobless and in debt. He learns that the position was merely bait to lead him to sell out.

As usual Mabel Kroman is remarkably funny in the role of a self confident girl who wants to "gold dig" without being burned. Gus Forbes gives an excellent performance as a stubborn and simple-minded old father.

The final realization of their foolishness results in a reformation of the wife. The curtain falls, as curtains always do, with the couple starting out anew—to lead a life devoted to the welfare of their son.

Although there are many bright moments in the play, the old story of the wicked influences of the big city is too worn a theme to present many dramatic possibilities.

ASTOR-HUGHES IN GRAND

Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes are co-featured in an interesting romance of circus life, "Three Ring Marriage," in the Grand this week. Miss Astor portrays a girl of the West, who falls in love with a circus performer. She leaves her home and follows the circus so as to be near her hero. And in the end, as in all good movie romances she gets her man. The picture is rich in tanbark ring atmosphere—clowns, acrobats, bareback riders and pink lemonade. The cast includes Alice White, Lawford Davidson and Yola d'Avril. Hatte Althoff, with sister Edith, Monsieur Georges, Eluru Handeon and Coppy Gordon, in song and dance and a bit of acrobats, vied with the feature film for aproval. News notes, comedies and orchestral presentation and organlogue completed the bill.

THESE PLAYERS PROMINENT -:- IN CURRENT -:- DRAMATIC PRODUCTIONS

Olive Meehan has the leading feminine role in "It's a Boy," comedy drama being presented in the Pitt.

Fred Sullivan is one of the Nixon Players saying farewell in "Craig's Wife" in the Nixon this week.

Conrad Nagel portrays Napoleon's brother, Jerome, in "Glorious Betsy," current Stanley photoplay.

John Barrymore is the star in "Tempest," a romance of Russia, now showing in the Penn.

BETSY CHARMS IN STANLEY

A romantic chapter from history—the love between Betsy Patterson, belle of Baltimore, and Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon, is unfolded in "Glorious Betsy," current Stanley photoplay. The picture proves a glorious drama of romance, enhanced by its Vitaphone orchestral and vocal accompaniments. Dolores Costello is seen as Betsy and Conrad Nagel appears as the gallant Jerome. After a speedy courtship in America, the couple are wed. Then, in the midst of the honeymoon, Jerome is ordered to France. Tragedy follows. Betsy isn't permitted to land in France. And a closeup shows Jerome taking leave of Betsy, believing the separation is only for a day—until tomorrow. Months of imprisonment follow for Jerome; lonely days in America for Betsy. But finally tomorrow comes—when the movie makers turn history upside down and bring on the happy ending. And you're glad that tomorrow comes, for Dolores arouses sympathy as Betsy and you want to see her happy. But it is too bad it wasn't allowed to come without the last-minute dialogue sequence that turns out a bit disappointing. The Vitaphone records Dolores' voice as being quite "heavy." Not like the voice you'd associate with the charming Betsy—or the alluring Dolores Costello. The supporting cast is good. Pasquale Amato does a good job as Napoleon. "Freeborn's Frolics," featuring specialty artists, is the stage attraction.

DRAMATIC SKETCH SHERIDAN FEATURE

Walter Newman and his company of legitimate players present a dramatic sketch — a farce comedy — as the topline attraction in the vaudeville bill which opened yesterday in the Sheridan Square. The photoplay is "White Pants Willie," a comedy starring Johnny Hines. It is a screen version of the humorous story by Elmer Davis. Georgie Hunter, in a rapid-fire line of humorous chatter, is another feature of the vaudeville. He won applause with his Al Jolson impersonation. Pierce and Pierson present a combination song, chatter and dance act. Animal performers are featured in "Circus Follies," which entertains grownups as well as children. Perez and Marguerite do some comedy juggling. An organlogue and news pictures are on the bill.

"MARRIED LOVE" IS OLYMPIC ATTRACTION

Dr. M. Sayle Taylor's production, "Married Love," is being continued in the Olympic. Again this week the performances are for women only.

PENN STARRING BARRYMORE

The overthrow of Czarism in Russia furnishes even more dramatic incidents than the French Revolution. The guillotine of Robespierre decapitated its victims one at a time. But the machine guns of the Red leaders of the Russian revolution made wholesale slaughter. And in the same proportion there seems a greater field for literature and the drama based on the unhappy end of the Muscovite aristocracy. "The Tempest," a United Artists picture, depicting the loves of a royal princess and a peasant officer being shown in the Penn this week, is an example of the opportunities for the dramatization of the Revolution of 1917— and it is splendidly done. It gives John Barrymore a role of exalted melodrama that rises to the pinnacle of screen characterization. Camilla Horne and Louis Wolheim, his leading support, show the same appreciation of important parts. It is a great picture. The stage show, directed by Teddy Joyce, is up to the standard of the Penn's presentation. The cast includes Ed and Morton Beck, Horton Spurr, Harry Loose, Helen Packard and Paul Keast. The Penn orchestra and organist Dick Leibert contribute their share to a pleasing entertainment.

AMUSING BILL IN HARRIS

There's quite a clever and amusing bill of vaudeville being offered in the Harris the first three days of this week. Headline acts are being presented by Gaby Leslie and company and Bob Reilly and company. The former unit entertains with a rapid dance revue, while the latter aggregation opens with a playet, involving confused identities, and ends with a display of terpsichorean talent. But dancing, by no means, dominates the bill. There's a lot of comedy and numerous musical moments. Boggs and Weston mix some G. A. R. sentiment with modern day atmosphere in an amusing manner. They have a humorous line of chatter and they dance a bit, too. Boyle and Harkins comprise another team that is there with the laughs. Their performance includes song numbers and nonsense. Jean and Jeannette entertain with a musical act, in which the accordion, saxophone and violin are put to work. The show gets a lively opening, with Roth and Drake, "wisecracking" high in the air. The photoplay is "White Pants Willie," starring Johnny Hines. The bill includes an organlogue and news pictures.

ACADEMY PRESENTS "FRENCH MODELS"

Viola Elliott and her "French Models" are the attraction this week in the Academy. The show has been rewritten since last seen here, and it offers a variety of new features. Producer Joe Perry has provided elaborate scenic equipment. Miss Elliott is seen in "The Dance of the Seven Veils," which is presented with special effects. She app[illegible]n several vocal numbers a[illegible]ing "St. Louis Blues." C[illegible]fe, June Palmer and E[illegible]s also sing. Jimmie Le[illegible]l Jimmie Gerard are seen [illegible]alian characterizations and comedy sketches.

COMEBACK

Heimach is a former southpaw pitcher for Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics and the Boston Red Sox, who was shunted to the St. Paul club of the American Association and rescued from the bushes recently by Manager Miller Huggins to help the New York Yankees stem the tide as their once big lead began to fade before the rush of the Mackmen. He won his first start, 7-1, against the Red Sox, but has had a little tough luck since, bowing, 5-2, to Chicago, and losing to the Indians, 3-2, and to the Browns, 3-1.

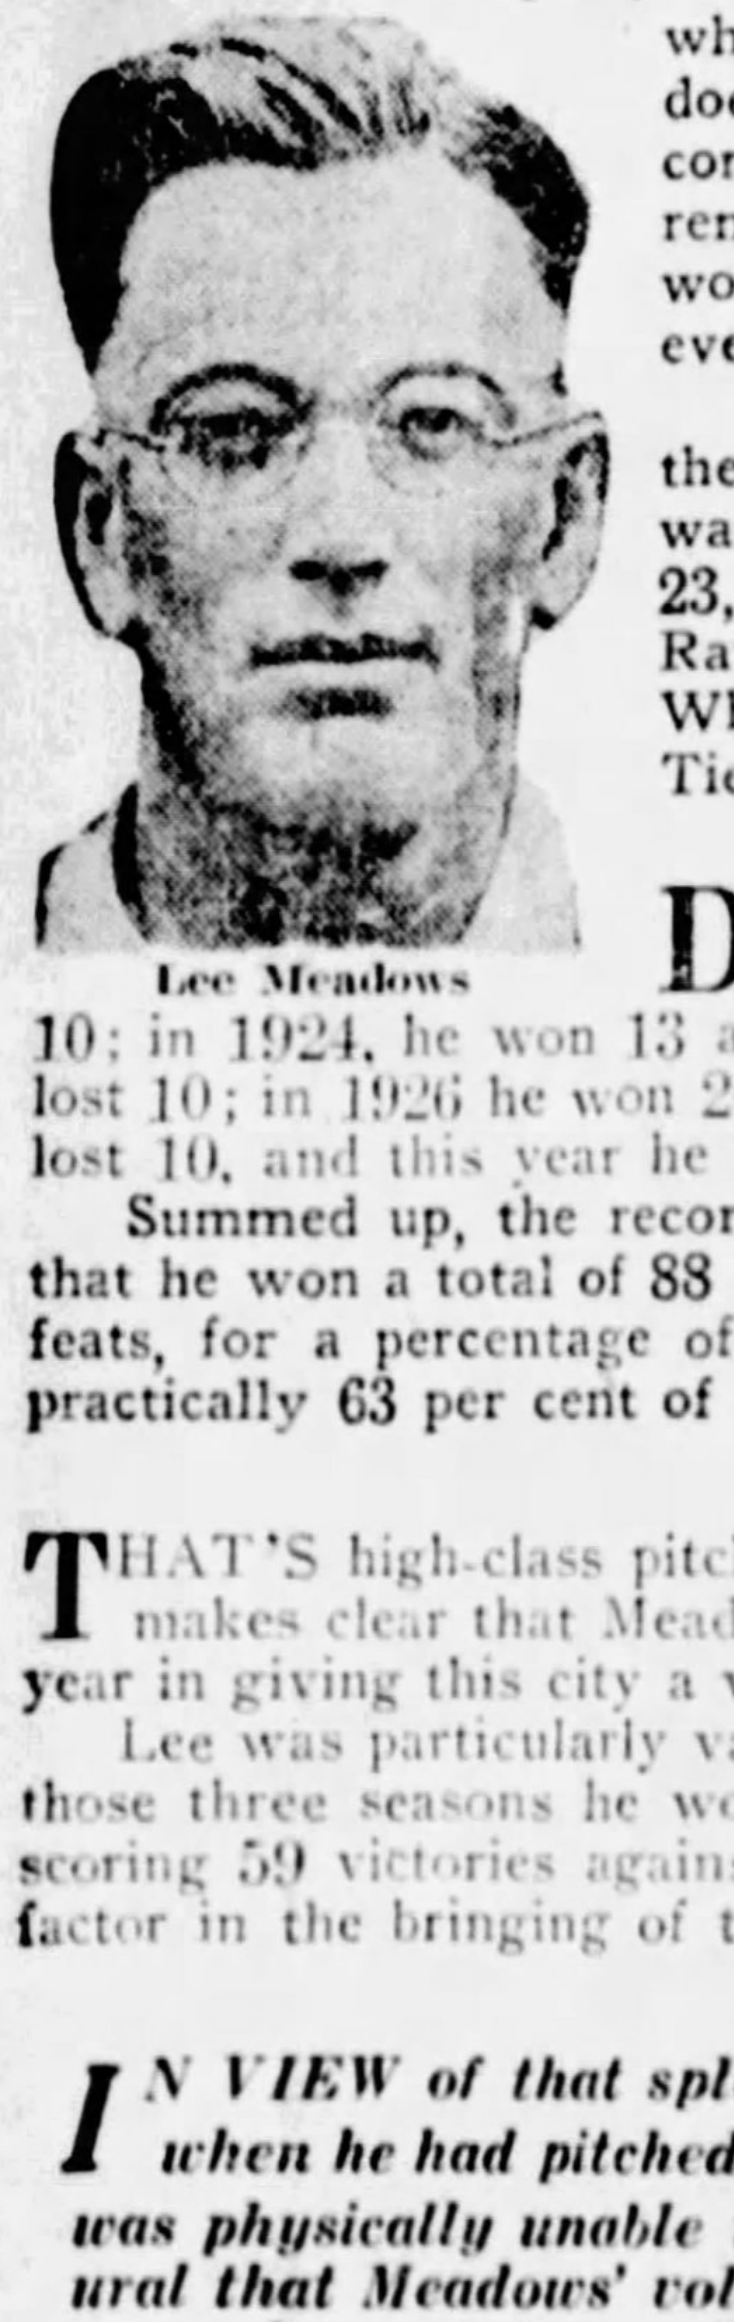
Fans Regret Passing of Meadows After Fine Record Here—Bucs Have Played .700 Ball In Last 50 Games—Must Not Hold Phils Cheap—Vance Discusses Strike-Out Pitching..

THE passing of Lee Meadows from the Pirate picture is sincerely regretted by the fans of the district. He has been of little use this year, it is true, but they have not forgotten what he did in the past, and even if he does not return to the local club for a comeback effort next spring he will be remembered as one of the hardest working and most faithful pitchers that ever wore a Pittsburgh uniform.



Lee Meadows

Meadows did much for the Bucs and the city's baseball interests since he was obtained from the Phillies on May 23, 1923, along with Infielder Johnny Rawlings, in exchange for Pitcher Whitey Glazner, Infielder Cotton Tierney and $25,000 in cash.

DURING the remainder of the 1923 race, Lee won 16 games and lost 10; in 1924, he won 13 and lost 12; in 1925 he won 19 and lost 10; in 1926 he won 20 and lost 9; in 1927 he won 19 and lost 10, and this year he won one and lost one.

Summed up, the record of the bespectacled flinger shows that he won a total of 88 games for Pittsburgh against 52 defeats, for a percentage of .629, which means that he won practically 63 per cent of his engagements.

THAT'S high-class pitching, any way you look at it, and makes clear that Meadows played no small part year after year in giving this city a winning team.

Lee was particularly valuable in 1925, 1926 and 1927. In those three seasons he won exactly two-thirds of his games, scoring 59 victories against only 29 defeats, and was a huge factor in the bringing of two pennants to Pittsburgh.

IN VIEW of that splendid service, which ended only when he had pitched himself out for the Pirates and was physically unable to go any farther, it is but natural that Meadows' voluntary retirement should cause general regret among the fans. He goes out with their best wishes and sincere appreciation of work well and faithfully done.

BY TURNING the tables on the Reds yesterday behind Fred Fussell's pitching, their 35th victory in their last 50

BUCS CAN TIE WITH REDS FOR FOURTH

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

BACK from Cincinnati where they had a 50-50 break in two games with the Reds, the Pirates found the Phillies at the scene of battle when they reached the Oakland sector this morning. Indeed, the Quakers enjoyed a real vacation in Pittsburgh, they having arrived at noon yesterday after finishing up their season's tasks in St. Louis.

The Pirates were aware today that they were one game worse off as compared with the Cardinals than when they left for Cincinnati Saturday night. The Redbirds won their two games in the two days, the Pirates losing one decision to the Rhinelanders.

If the Bucs can take both eonds of today's double bill with the Quakers, they will rest tonight tied with the idle Cincinnati Reds for fourth position.

Donie Bush and his players finished on the singing end of a 9 to 4 count in their last game of the season at Redland Field, but on the previous day they were trimmed on a closer decision.

Carmen Hill is all set to challenge the Shottonites in the prelude, and as Burleigh Grimes was slightly injured through being struck with a ball in Cincinnati, it is likely that Joe Dawson will get the slab ticket in the second fight.

Manager Shotton of the rival team stated this morning that Ray

Wronged Tilden, Charge

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Samuel Merwin, author, today issued a statement criticising the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association for barring William T. Tilden, II, for violating the player-writer rule. Merwin is a friend of Tilden's and a close follower of tennis. His statement follows:

"It seems to me high time for somebody to speak up with a little plain sense on this Tilden business.

"The spectacle of an over-solemnized body of tennis officials in conclave, charging, fulminating, spreading personal calumny like nothing on earth but a school of cuttle fish emitting sepia, is disturbing to honest sportsmanship and distressing to the sense of humor.

"Mr. Tilden is accused of writing for the press. What of it? He writes interestingly and well. With pen and racquet he has done more for the game than any other player or group of players that ever lived. Probably the old British leisure-class notion of amateurism will never work out in terms of the American temperament. But taking the sport as we find it, I doubt if there is one among them all, players, and 'officials,' who approaches Bill Tilden's fine and enthusiastic amateur spirit, or one who has so wholeheartedly, or at such cost to himself, given his best to the game.

"The present conflict appears, to the reasonably well-informed observer, to be misleading. It isn't honestly, a question of amateurism. That, in America, is a subtle and complicated problem which the gentlemen of the U. S. L. T. A. have never comprehensively faced. It is, I should say, politics, that curious initial attack, carefully

COMOROSKY IN BUC FOLD

Adam Comorosky, Pirate outfielder recently recalled from Indianapolis, reported to Manager Bush here today.

Comorosky will be available for duty in today's Pirates-Phils double bill and is certain to replace Brickell in left field should the Phils send a southpaw to the mound in either for the two fights.

LOCAL SOCCER LEAGUE TO MEET TOMORROW

The second meeting of the Pittsburgh District Soccer League for Saturday clubs will be held at the secretary's office tomorrow evening. With Pittsburgh Celtics and the Pittsburgh Rovers as champions heading the list, there is every reason to feel that a wonderful league will be formed.

This is the second meeting of the loop and the secretary wishes to close it at this session. All managers should come prepared to post forfeits so that the campaign can get underway early in September.

Paired with Mrs. Wightman, Miss Wills triumphed in the doubles, 6-2, 6-2.

FIELD CLUB CADDIES WIN WEST PA. TITLE

No One Seems to Want to Dig the Phillies' Cellar

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER.

THE John Latta Jamison memorial plaque, emblematic of the Western Pennsylvania club team caddie championship has been removed from the Schenley Park clubhouse and hangs today on the walls of the Pittsburgh Field Club, where it will remain for another year.

It was placed there yesterday by the Field Club caddie team the members of which scored a fine 351 to win the first honors in the annual tournament over their home links. They replaced the Schenley caddies as champions, the latter finishing in sixth place.

The Field Club team was composed of Jack McGahn, who scored a 49-46—95; Vin Siarrano, with a 42-40—82; Al Ferrero with 42-44—86, and Paul Krystopolski with 44-44—88.

Behind the Field Club quartet, in second place, came the Oakmont team with a 357. Then came Beaver Valley with 359, Edgewood with 365, Westmoreland with 365, Schenley with 372, Fox Chapel with 375 and South Hills with 377. Kahkwa was ninth with 378, and Greensburg tenth with 383.

The best individual score of the day was recorded by Johnny Paskiowski, of the Fox Chapel team, who went around in 75, a truly fine score. The remaining Fox Chapel players were unable to break 90.

Henry Caves, of Oakmont, turned in the second best score, an 81. Vin Siarrano, of the Field Club, had an 82, as did Fred Oneretta, of Schenley. Al Ferrero, of the Field Club, had an 86.

Oakmont might have copped the honors had not Howard Lane experienced a bad day and taken 102.

The results follow:

Pittsburgh Field Club	351
Oakmont	357
Beaver Valley	359
Edgewood	365
Westmoreland	367
Schenley	372
Fox Chapel	375
South Hills	377
Kahkwa	378
Greensburg	383
Shannopin	387
Longue Vue	392
Montour Heights	393
Thornburg	398
Alcoma	403

TOURNEY IN SEMI-FINAL

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 28.—Edward McLeod, defending champion, will meet J. R. Curran and Richard Seibert will play D. A. Oseman in the semi-final round in the championship flight of the Washington County Golf and Country Club's annual title play, following the completion of the first round of match play yesterday.

SETS COURSE RECORD

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 28.—Mrs. Edith Chaney set a new women's course record at the Washington County Golf and Country Club when she scored a 42 for nine holes here yesterday; she beat her own record, a 44, made last year. Her card follows:

Out ......7 3 6 6 7 4 6 4 5—48
In ......5 4 5 5 6 5 4 3 5—42—90

HAWLEY MAY QUIT GREEN

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Because of the increasing pressure of his radio manufacturing business, Jesse Hawley may give up his football coaching duties at Dartmouth this fall, officials of the Chicago Dartmouth Alumni chapter have reported.

HANOVER, N. H., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Harry Heneage, graduate manager of athletics at Dartmouth, has confirmed a report from Chicago that there was doubt whether Jesse Hawley would be able to return to Hanover this fall as coach of football.

It is always true that Amoco Motor Oil won't mix with water

Probably as long as you can remember you've heard that "Oil won't mix with water"--and accepted it as the truth. But it's not entirely true! Some motor oils readily form an emulsion with water--and the lubricant becomes a curdled mass of sludge. And right then and there it ceases to be a lubricant and becomes a source of danger to your motor.

But change that old saying by adding a couple of words! Make it read--"AMOCO Motor Oil won't mix with water"--and then it's a fact! No matter how much water accumulates in your crank case--due to condensation or atmospheric moisture--lubricating qualities of AMOCO Motor Oil will not be impaired. That's one more reason to mark up in your memory why you should be using AMOCO Motor Oil!

Sparky Credited With No-Error Record

CINCINNATI, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Sparky Adams, peppy little infielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has set what local baseball writers believe is a modern record for accepting successive chances without a slip-up.

When the last man went out in the ninth inning of the Pirates-Reds game in Cincinnati yesterday, Sparky had hung up his one hundred and seventy-fourth successive chance.

held back until President Collom and Chairman Wear were out on the high seas, could not fail to disgust those who knew even a little of the conditions. There are men, no longer in power in the United States Lawn Tennis Association, who would relish resuming the reins. It is fun to run a show, and, as all of us know who have looked into the relationship between business and publicity, it it is far from unprofitable.

"As it stands, those of us who follow and love the game may not have the pleasure of seeing the beautiful Tilden strokes in tournaments this year because a group of over-excited committeemen have got into the mud and sunk beyond their depth.

"Oh, for a better sort of sportsmanship in the U. S. L. T. A. and oh, for a sense of humor."

KEEN INTEREST SHOWN IN BRIDGEVILLE RACES

Keen interest is being shown in the two automobile races scheduled at the famous Bridgeville Speedway, one of the best half-mile board tracks in the country, next Monday afternoon (Labor Day).

The Keystone Recreation Corporation, sponsor of the track, has arranged an attractive program of two races, the main event to be of 75 miles and the consolation affair of 25 miles.

Director Coslow, who is receiving entries, announces that the best drivers in the Tristate district have been enrolled and the qualifying trials promises to be productive of some keen competition.

SPENCER WINS FEATURE IN STRAIGHT HEATS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Spencer, the leading money winner among the 2-year-olds last season, has become the champion 3-year-old of the trotting world by winning the classic Hambletonian Stake at the New York State Fair. Spencer, with Billy Leese in the sulky, made a show of his field and won in straight heats thereby enriching his owner, David M. Look of New York, to the extent of $45,000.

BRAVES WIN

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Shut out for seven innings, the Braves rallied for four runs in last two innings, defeating Toronto, 4 to 1, in an exhibition game.

NOTES of the BOXERS

K. O. CHRISTNER of Akron and Joe Sekyra of Dayton, heavies, headline a card at the Taylor Bowl, Cleveland, tomorrow night. Babe Herman meets Johnny Sacco, of Buffalo, in the semi-final.

Joe Dundee's welterweight title will not be at stake in his 10-round bout with Young Jack Thompson, Negro star of California, at Comiskey Park, Chicago, tomorrow night, as the articles call for Thompson to come in at 148 pounds, one pound over the class limit. Thompson is a good puncher. He has knocked out Russie LeRoy and Eddie Dempsey, among others.

Pete Nebo and Dominick Petrone will top off a program of 50 rounds of boxing at a special Labor Day show at the Atlantic City speedway next Monday afternoon.

FIGHT RESULTS

At San Francisco—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion of the world, knocked out Armand Emanuel, seven rounds.

At New Castle, Pa.—Young Firpo won by a technical knockout over George Perotta, 3 rounds; Frankie Rio defeated Monte Sirko, eight rounds; Jimmy Belmont defeated Walter Dickerson, six rounds; Ray Crawford defeated Otis Williams, six rounds; Elmo Clark and Harry Miller drew, four rounds.

At Chicago—Tuffy Griffiths defeated K. O. White, 10 rounds; Ernie Owens defeated Tony Williams, eight rounds; Jack McCarthy defeated Louie Lavelle, six rounds; Sandy Garrison defeated Norman Brown, six rounds.

At Cincinnati—Howard Mitchell defeated Dick McDonie, eight rounds; Lon Lovelace and Harry Kreindler drew, eight rounds.

At San Antonio—Kid Adams defeated Billy Kane, four rounds.

At Little Rock—Milton Manguna defeated John Kelstein, 10 rounds.

At Louisville—Paul Allen defeated Jimmy Hackley, 10 rounds.

At Philadelphia—Al Gordon defeated Joey Williams, eight rounds; Midget Fox defeated Tommy Wilson, eight rounds; Al Coulon and Lou Tecco drew, six rounds.

At Buffalo—Art Weigand knocked out Joe Boland, six rounds; Freddie Mueller knocked out Joe Stone, 10 rounds; Harry Fuller knocked out Dave Cook, two rounds.

At Elizabeth, N. J.—Roberto Roberti knocked out Joe Savage, two rounds.

At Newburn, N. C.—Add Warren knocked out Pete Angeles, 1 round.

At Lakeland, Fla.—Willie Norwood defeated Urban Solero, 10 rounds; Leon Barnett and Tiger Hull drew, 10 rounds.

At Atlantic City—Benny Bass knocked out Tony Russo, 2 rounds.

At New York—K. O. (Phil) Kaplan knocked out Jack Palmer, 6 rounds; Benny Touchstone knocked out Paul Hoffman, 4 rounds; Herb Green won by technical knockout over Cechione Castoni, 5 rounds.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

by HARRY KECK
SPORTS EDITOR

CONSIDERABLE indignation has been expressed among the friends of the Misses Susan Laird and Josephine McKim, Homestead mermaids, who recently were welcomed back home from the Olympic games, because this pair was removed from the American team in the final heat of the 400 meters relay race after having helped to set a world record in the trials.

Just how it was possible to make substitutions in the personnel of a team after the trial heats had been contested is something that is not easy to explain, and the girls were asked for their side of the story upon their return home. Naturally, they were reluctant to speak of the matter, but, on urging, stated the details of the switch and as a result their friends still are awaiting a satisfactory explanation from the A. A. U. and Olympic authorities.

ACCORDING to the girls, they were told on the morning of the final that they would have to race it out in a trial against time with the two other members of the relay team in the trials, the Misses Eleanor Garratti and Albina Osipowich, and, after the test, they were informed they had made the slowest time and would have to drop off the team to make room for Misses Adelaide Lambert and Martha Norelius, both of New York, in the final. The team of Norelius, Lambert, Osipowich and Garratti then went on to win the final, and, so far as the authorities were concerned, that was all there was to the incident. But not so with the friends of the Homestead girls. They want to know why Miss Lambert, who made the team as a backstroke swimmer, and Miss Norelius, who was to compete exclusively in the 400 meters free style, were placed on the relay team just in time to snatch the glory at the expense of Misses McKim and Laird, after the latter pair had worked their way through the final trials over here and then had been members of a record-breaking relay team in the trials over there.

It is a queer case. John T. Taylor, of Pittsburgh, secretary-treasurer of the Allegheny Mountain Association of the A. A. U., was the manager of the American team. He places the responsibility for the switch on Coach William Bachrach, of Chicago. What I want to know, aside from the question of unfairness to the two Homestead girls, is whether it was considered fair of the United States to send two fresh swimmers in as members of its team against the quartets of the other nations in the final? How was that end of it arranged?

FAST HEATS FEATURE 27TH WARD PROGRAM

The boys stayed on their feet at the open air boxing show of the Twenty-seventh Ward A. C. on the North Side last night, not a knockout or knockdown being registered in any of the six fine bouts.

In the feature bout, a 147-pound battle, Young Bretch of the home club defeated Carl Montebanno, of the Braddock Library Club in three fast rounds. The summary:

112-pound class — Sam Paris, Willow Club, defeated Tony Marino, Duke O'Hara Club, three rounds.

U. S. STARS ADVANCE TO 2ND ROUND

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—The eight seeded pairs in the national doubles tennis championship tournament have advanced to the second round here on the courts at Longwood Cricket Club, all but one without great opposition.

The exception, Jean Borotra and Rene De Buzelet of the French team survived yesterday only after they exhibited for almost three hours what probably was the brightest play which will be seen during the tourney.

After quickly dropping the first two sets, 4-6, 4-6, to Edward Higgs and I. C. Collins, of England, Borotra steadied and the Frenchmen saved the match by taking the third set, 6-3. They won the fourth set after 22 games and the fifth, 10-8.

Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, of the French Davis Cup team and winners of the Wimbledon doubles championship, toyed with Kenneth Appel and Ted Burwell in a three set match which went 6-2, 6-2, 7-5.

Lott and Hennessey disposed of H. H. Hyde and Amos Wilder, both from Hartford, Conn., 6-2, 6-2, 6-1, without exerting themselves.

R. N. Williams II. and Watson Washburn, the veterans seeded third in the domestic group, remained in the tourney by setting back Brooks Fenno and Sam Ewing, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1. The fourth seeded American pair, W. W. Ingraham and A. W. Jones defeated Karl Kamman and C. Barnes, the Missouri Valley doubles champions, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

WALKER STOPS A. EMANUEL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, made an impressive entry into the light-heavyweight ranks last night when he scored a sensational knockout over Armand Emanuel, San Francisco, in the seventh round of their 10-round bout.

A short right hand to the jaw as Emanuel came in dropped the San Francisco boy for the full count after he had just regained his feet from taking a nine count.

A crowd of 20,000 persons, bringing the gate receipts to an estimated $50,000, attended.

Seats on Sale For Labor Day Double Bill

Reserved seat tickets for the two big holiday baseball games at Forbes Field next Monday (Labor Day), in which the Pirates will grapple with one of their pennant rivals, the Chicago Cubs, were placed on public sale today at the usual agencies. They may be obtained at 608 Wood street, the Grand Theater Arcade, and 6025 Penn avenue. The sale will continue throughout the week.

The morning game will begin at 10:30 o'clock and the afternoon contest at 3 o'clock. Two large fan turnouts are anticipated.

LONG'S SPORT COMMENT

games, the Pirates drew a step nearer to both third and fourth places, as the Cubs meanwhile were losing to the Cardinals.

The Bucs, therefore, are only one game below fourth position and only two games below the third notch.

Fred Fussell

FURTHERMORE the advantage of both the Cubs and Reds over the locals exists entirely in the "Won" column.

All three clubs have suffered the same number of defeats, and the Bruins and Reds are ahead of the Pirates merely because they have played more games than Pittsburgh and won them.

BUSH'S battlers will have a chance to overcome that advantage later in the schedule, during which they will play four games more than the Cubs and two more than the Reds. Home for two games with the Quakers today and a single tomorrow they may be able, by playing their hardest and refraining from holding the Phils cheap, to help their own cause to some extent before getting a crack at the Cardinals Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is hoped that Burleigh Grimes will be ready for the latter series, as it is a blow to the Bucs to have the spitball star out for even one turn.

DAZZY VANCE, fairly prominent as a strike-out artist himself, does not share the opinion expressed by some baseball men that Bob Grove is following a harmful course in "bearing down" as he did last Thursday, when he fanned five Cleveland batters in a row on 17 pitches.

Vance not only scouts the theory that the strain will take something out of Grove's hurling arm and shorten his career, but contends that if the star southpaw of the Mackmen can build up an impressive strike-out record he will be in a position to command a much larger salary for the reason that he will be a drawing card.

"THAT way of pitching does not shorten a fellow's career," said Vance. "Seventeen years ago, when I was in the Nebraska State League, a scout looked me over and promptly turned me down. Said I wouldn't last two years the way I pitched. But here I am, still able to get by. I met that chap a few years ago and reminded him of what he had said. He came back with some remark about baseball scouts not being infallible.

Dazzy Vance

"In 1924 I pitched against Cincinnati and struck out Sammy Bohne, Bubbles Hargrave and Eppa Rixey on nine pitched balls. If I remember rightly, one of them fouled a pitch. Some of the folks thought then that I was taking too much out of myself, but apparently I wasn't.

"FANS want to see you fan batters when they know you are in the habit of doing it more frequently than most pitchers. The average pitcher who can win 20 games or more is considered good and draws a fair salary. His stipend probably will run between $12,000 and $15,000. But the fellow who wins his 20 games or more and in addition can give the fans an occasional thrill is worth that much more. They don't pay Babe Ruth a huge salary just because he can catch flies and hit well. In that respect he is not better than lots of outfielders. It's his homers that bring home the bacon and it's strikeouts that will do the same for Grove."

Sammy Mandell

SAMMY MANDELL, lightweight title holder, would have plenty of work on his hands if he desired to fight his way through the entire list of battlers who aspire to his crown.

There are more contenders or good prospects in the lightweight class than any other, as shown by the following list, counted off by a veteran observer: Jimmy McLarnin, Joe Glick, Tommy Grogan, Manuel Quintero, Billy Wallace, Jack Berg, King Tut, Freddy Mueller, Stanislaus Loayza, Bruce Flowers, Lope Tenorio, Phil McGraw Joey Kaufman, Jackie Fields, Baby Joe Gans, Billy Petrolle, Louis (Kid) Kaplan, Eddie Wagner, Lew Kirsch, Babe Herman, Harry Cook, Eddie Elkins, Jimmy McNamara, Jackie Pilington and others.

WILDER JOINS TUNNEY

LONDON, Aug. 28.—(INS.)—Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, who returned from Dublin last night, joined his friend, Thornton Wilder, American novelist, today. Tunney and Wilder plan to leave for Paris on Saturday or Sunday. Later they will go to Avignon for a combination pedestrian and motor tour through the maritime Alps.

PIRATES

HURST OUT OF GAME

The Quaker front will be somewhat changed for the series in Pittsburgh owing to the injury sustained a few days ago by First-baseman Don Hurst. Hurst has been sent home to receive proper treatment. In his absence, Fred Leach, clever leftfielder, is filling in at the first sack. Cy Williams has been ushered into outfield duty in the emergency.

Hot times are in the offing for the Oakland Orchard. The double-header of today will be followed by a single game with the Quakers tomorrow. The departure of the Phillies will mark the noisy approach of Skipper Bill McKechnie and his fast-going Redbirds. The Cardinals will help to furnish the excitement in the last three days of the week.

Fred Fussel pitched the Pirates to victory yesterday in Cincinnati. The sole lefthander of the Pittsburgh roster was solved for 14 hits, but when a pitcher allows that many bingles and only four runs he generally is delivering a smartly pitched ball game. And Fred is nothing if not smart on the mound.

LUQUE BEATEN

Among the Reds taking the count was Senor Adolfo Luque who was shelled off the hill in the sixth inning. Peter Jablonowski took Dolf's place on the slab, but the Pirates broke out again in the eighth for two tallies.

Grantham's three-bagger and Traynor's single on top of a walk to Paul Waner gave the Pirates two runs and a fat edge at the outset. In the third the Bucs added three more, partly on account of loose play in the Red infield. The Pirates were reaching Luque in the sixth when he was derricked.

Fussell kept the numerous Red hits scattered in such a way that the Rhinelanders could not get any big rallies under way. The Hendricksmen scored single tallies in the second, sixth, seventh and ninth.

TOLEDO PRO WINS

CANTON, O., Aug. 28.—(AP.)—Julian Blanton, of Toledo, led a field of 60 professionals yesterday in a 36-hole medal play competition at Brookside Country Club, winning the Buckeye pro championship by two strokes, and taking honor position among the five players who will represent Ohio State in the national pro tourney at Baltimore this fall.

No more tenderface

Now! LIFEBUOY Shaving Cream

...its double-dense lubricating lather soothes, heals—ends tenderface

HERE'S a new kind of shaving cream that ends tenderface in two distinct ways.

First—its lather is so soothing and healing that it ends all burning and smarting.

Second—this lather is not only of double-dense consistency, but is so penetrating and compact that it completely lubricates the skin. You get the quickest, smoothest shave you've ever known.

Most shaving irritation is due to friction — the rough scraping of razor over skin. Only complete lubrication can end this friction.

Ordinary lather cannot lubricate completely. It is too light and frothy. Lifebuoy Shaving Cream lather, however, being double-dense and highly penetrative, hugs the face so closely that a thoroughly lubricated shaving surface is formed. You get a marvelously clean shave —without tugging, pulling or friction—yet your razor scarcely seems to touch you.

Moreover, this new shaving cream contains the same protective ingredient as Lifebuoy Health Soap. Keeps skin clear, smooth, healthy.

Lifebuoy Shaving Cream lather is also remarkable for its lasting qualities. Stays fresh and moist until the end of the shave.

Local Labor Difficulties Hide Fact That Industrial Disputes Are Decreasing With Fewer Men Affected.

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

WITH coal labor troubles in our back yards for more than three years we have lost sight of the fact that employers and workers are learning to live in the same world without cutting each others' throats.

Whether improved personnel relations are due to general prosperity or to better mutual understanding is difficult to determine, but the fact remains that capital and labor are nearly at peace.

THERE were fewer industrial disputes in 1927 than in any of the 12 years during which the Department of Labor has kept statistics on the subject. Last year there were 734 disputes compared with 1,035 in 1926 and 3,789 in 1916.

In 1916, 1,599,917 employes were involved in disputes against only 349,434 in 1927. The figures cover disputes involving six or more workmen over a period of one day or more and no distinction is made between strikes and lockouts.

DURING the 12 years covered by the figures there were five industries which were the chief offenders in industrial troubles. The coal industry was one. The others were the building trades, clothing, metal trades and textile industries.

From 1916 through 1927 there were 4,279 disputes in the building trades, 3,483 in clothing, 3,126 in the metal trades, 1,956 in textiles and 1,903 in coal mining.

THE fact that employes have fared better than the employers recently may be the explanation of the reduction in the number of strikes. In 1927 235 disputes were decided in favor of the employes, 169 in favor of the employers and 129 were compromised.

Whether it has been prosperity or whether strikes in previous years have gained satisfactory advantages for the workers, labor and capital have few grievances.

INCIDENTLY, little is now heard of the fear of socialism which was rampant a few years ago. Prosperity and short hours have laid the industrial dissatisfaction to rest which worried corporations in 1920.

The radical agitator has poor ground in which to sow his seed, when most workingmen own cars, are paying for their own homes and even own stock in the companies which employ them.

From time to time the increase in the use of modern machinery, which throws men out of work, is bewailed. Mass production is not a danger from the standpoint of labor although labor has attempted to stop this natural economic development.

THE introduction of labor saving devices have temporarily thrown hundreds of men and women out of work. There is no logical refutation of this statement. But in the long run labor has benefited as much as capital from this mechanical age. Where there have been hardships for isolated groups the eight-hour day for labor, as a whole, would be impossible without modern machinery. While machinery has thrown hundreds out of work it has made better wages and shorter hours possible for thousands.

These higher wages and the increased leisure have taken up much of the slack in the surplus supply of labor. They have contributed to the development of the automobile, the motion picture and other industries which have created new jobs undreamed of a few years ago. Modern machinery is solving the problem which it is creating.

HIGHER MONEY PUTS DAMPER ON STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—High money rates had a restrictive effect on trading in today's stock market, but speculators for the advance retained control of the price movement. New leaders were brought forward in the amusement, chemical, food, metal, motor accessory and public utility groups. Early gains ranged from 1 to nearly 6 points, with more than a dozen issues lifted to new high levels. There were several soft spots scattered throughout the list.

Call money renewed at 7½ per cent, as against 7 yesterday, and held steady at that figure throughout the early trading despite the calling of about $15,000,000 in bank loans. Bankers revised their maximum estimates of Labor Day currency demands from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000.

Revival of activity and strength in International Nickel, which soared near 6 points to 108½, the highest price on record, was one of the day's features. Biscuit shares continued to anticipate increased earnings as a result of the lower wheat prices, National Biscuit extending its early advance to 4½ points while Loose Wiles attained a new peak at 66½, up 2½. Fleischmann and American Beet Sugar also eclipsed their previous 1928 high prices.

New stock of the Consolidated Gas Company, which recently declared a 100 per cent stock dividend, was admitted to trading, running up from an opening price of 74 to 77. The old stock closed yesterday at 148. R. H. Macy, selling "ex-rights," opened at 134 and quickly mounted to 140¼, while the "rights" moved up from 247 to 259. Motor Products, U. S. Rubber first preferred, Stanley Company of America, Adams Express and Commercial Investment Trust sold 4 to 5 points higher.

General Motors and Radio failed to participate extensively in the upward movement, but held firm around yesterday's final prices. General Electric rallied on the resumption of heavy buying in that issue, and U. S. Steel common touched 153 for the first time since last April.

Jersey Central broke 11¾ points to 300 and showed little recuperative power. International Harvester and Freeport Texas each fell about 5 points and Loft was able to make up only part of its early 4-point drop.

Demand sterling touched a new low level for the year at $4.84 13-16.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Weakness in Liverpool was reflected in wheat prices at Chicago in the opening trade today, quotations at the outset falling from ⅛ to ⅝c below Monday's close. Scattered selling was attended later by further moderate reactions, while the corn market firmed up, opening steady at yesterday's closing figures to ⅛c higher. Oats and provisions were fractionally lower.

Early selling in the wheat pit was influenced by the lower prices in Liverpool, where reports of favorable harvest weather was a factor. Forecasts of showers in Canada, with possible damage to the new crop was not substantiated. Private advices from Winnipeg discounted the likelihood of frost damage, declaring the crop was 80 per cent made a week ago, and more than 40 per cent of the crop was already cut. Hedging sales were beginning to be felt, but after the weak start some of the losses were regained. Trade was slow and in narrow limits.

September corn was again in the foreground today, advancing about a cent over the previous close in the early sales. Thunder showers were looked for over much of the domestic corn belt today. After a slow start, oats exhibited a firm undertone and rose more than a cent for September delivery. Some attention was paid to shipments of 1,115,000 bushels of oats from here to eastern and Canadian points.

Some of the losses in wheat were wiped out by noon, but the market was still ¼ to ½c lower, with corn up 1¼ to 2⅛c, outs 1¼c higher and provisions 2c higher to 2c lower.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP.)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 2 points. Some selling was reported on the relatively easy showing of the Liverpool cables, but it seemed to be offset by buying on unfavorable weather and crop advices, and prices steadied up to 18.69c for December, or about 6 to 8 points above yesterday's closing quotations during the first few minutes. The spurt of buying on the talk of boll weevil weather in the belt and complaints of crop deterioration soon subsided, however, and the market was quiet at the end of the first half hour, with prices a few points off from the best under some southern selling and realizing. Private cables said that there had been Bombay selling and hedging in Liverpool, but that the offerings had been absorbed by trade calling and prices there rallied after the local opening.

The market firmed up on continued unfavorable crop advices from the South including reports of severe deterioration in some important producing sections of Mississippi. Prospects for further showers in the eastern belt were also a factor on the advance, which carried December up to 18.91c or 29 points net higher. The market was a few points off from the best but steady at midday.

LONE STAR GAS SPURTS IN LATE TRADING HERE

UNION STEEL CASTINGS DISPLAYS FIRMER TONE

Prices were steady to firm again on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today, but volume of business continued light and most of the trading consisted of small-lot transactions, with the dealings fairly well scattered through the list.

Union Steel Casting moved up a full point from its previous price, reflecting the generally better tone in steel and heavy industrial stocks in all markets. Standard Sanitary sold again around 36½, but was steady at that level. Standard recently has been rather heavy but very little stock has come into the market. Since the split-up of the old shares (three for one) the dividend rate has not been changed and it is expected an upward revision will be made when business improvement reflects itself in the earnings reports. Standard is currently paying the equivalent of $5 a share on the old stock, the rate in effect for the past two years.

Fuels did not get started until late in the session, but early bids and offers indicated a firm market for these issues.

Arkansas Gas preferred came into the market today at 7¼ comparing with yesterday's high of 7½. About 1,000 shares were handled at 7¼, after which the trading petered out. A block of 1,000 of the common was sold at 2⅞. Lone Star was quiet around 52¼.

Central Ohio Steel Products preferred changed hands at 90, the first time the stock has appeared in the sales list in more than a month.

Lone Star Gas developed sudden strength in the late market when buying orders for a few hundred shares uncovered a noticeable scarcity of stock for sale around current levels. Traders pointed to the rise of more than a point on the small transactions as indicating the "touchy" situation existing in Lone Star.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Biscuit Merger Rumored.

A 7½ per cent opening rate on call money disturbed the stock market again today, but the bulls on the special issues maintained their courage and sent their favorites higher in many instances. Food stocks and steel issues were in urgent demand at times. National Biscuit displayed pronounced strength along with the other baking and biscuit stocks. Loose Wiles has been moving ahead for several days, but National Biscuit joined the procession only yesterday. Gossip in the Street is that National Biscuit will form some sort of affiliation with Loose Wiles, possibly a merger, and that Fleischmann will enter the transaction also. Interest in the possible exchange in a National-Loose Wiles Biscuit combination centers, of course, in the terms. Some observers expressed the opinion that one National Biscuit might be exchanged for three Loose Wiles. Federal Trade Commission objection might arise, the Street thinks, but observers point to the many other biscuit and baking companies as constituting enough competition to permit the amalgamation of the National and Loose Wiles.

Loose Wiles Biscuit.

Sales of the Loose Wiles Biscuit Company for the first six months of 1928 are understood to have run 5 per cent in volume ahead of the corresponding period of last year and net profits also somewhat larger than a year ago. There was a little falling off in July, but this was largely seasonal and business outlook for the balance of the year is considered good. Loose Wiles has had a pretty steady growth and in the past few years its sales volume has increased on the average about 5 per cent each year. Company took over the Peerless Baking Company here last year. This is rather an old factory, but occupies a fine site and it is planned to put up a new building. This probably will not be done within the next year. Indications are that earnings of Loose Wiles may approach $4 a share on the 500,000 shares of common stock outstanding, before allowing for preferred stock sinking fund requirements. In 1927 earnings were $3.18 a share of common before sinking fund deduction. The common stock was increased last year through a four-for-one split up and a 25 per cent stock dividend. In 1926 earnings were $13.55 a share on 80,000 shares of common then outstanding and in 1925 they were $10.39 a share.

Technical Reactions.

Experienced observers believe that any stock market unsettlement which results from the September 1 settlements will be confined to technical area. When ever the market has enjoyed an advance of anything like the proportions recently seen, it has never been known to turn about immediately and start down again. Hence, setbacks over the next week or so appear likely to be of minor character, with many stocks working into new high ground while the general list engages the corrective processes. Business conditions continue notably sound, with the fall trade movement steadily expanding. Strength in the commercial situation encourages important holders of stocks and makes it improbable that substantial liquidation will be induced by credit uncertainties.

American Sugar.

Favorable earnings prospects for American Sugar this year have stimulated discussion of common dividend resumption. This is believed in informed quarters to be a likely possibility for the early part of 1929. However unsatisfactory 1928 may prove to be from the standpoint of Cuban sugar producers, from all indications the refiners will have no special cause for complaint. Due in part at least to the influence of the recently organized Sugar Institute, conditions in the sugar refining industry have been materially improved this year. American Sugar Refining Company has been having a good run of earnings and stands to earn around $7 a share on the $45,000,000 common stock this year. This estimate, of course, presupposes a continuance of normal conditions in the sugar market. Realization of these earnings will stamp 1928 as a year equal in results to 1926, when the company earned $7.08 a share on the common, only to drop down to $1.49 a share in 1927.

Cuba Bans Restriction.

A Havana dispatch says it is learned definitely, although unofficial word is lacking following a meeting of the sugar defense committee, that no restriction of sugar in Cuba will be ordered next year. Believed, however, grinding will not be permitted before January 1.

Sugar Melt Declines.

Sugar Institute reports total melt of 15 United States refiners from January 1 to August 18 amounted to 6,456,187,374 pounds against 7,446,358,798 pounds the same period last year.

Aggregate Rail Net Up.

The first 32 railroads to report July earnings had net operating income aggregating $50,252,000 compared with $44,591,000 in July of last year, an increase of 12.7 per cent. Gross revenues amounted to $262,988,000, against $260,181,0000 last year, an increase of 1.1 per cent. The reports generally compared favorably with last year, although the majority of the totals for the seven months periods were less satisfactory, reflecting the low returns in the early months of this year. The western and southwestern roads, notably the grangers, turned in the most satisfactory figures. The heavy movement of winter wheat particularly favored the Atchison, the Texas and Pacific, the Frisco and the Rock Island. Among the eastern carriers, the Baltimore and Ohio was able to show some improvement through curtailing expenses. The southern roads showed less favorable returns, although the Southern Railway system showed a slight gain in net, while gross income was less.

Crude Oil Output Jumps.

Daily average crude oil output in the United States for the week ended August 25 was 2,481,063 barrels, an increase of 16,858 barrels over the previous week, according to the Oil and Gas Journal. Light oil output increased 17,526 barrels.

Certain-Teed Products.

Directors of Certain-Teed Products meet on September 5, when it is expected they will declare the regular quarterly $1 common dividend, as well as the usual preferred. Prior to the June meeting, apprehension existed in certain circles over common dividends, due to poor first quarter earnings, but the management then dipped into surplus to make the payments. Although second quarter earnings continued unsatisfactory, the situation improved with the start of July and the outlook for the rest of the year is brighter. Prices in the roofing division were adjusted upward late in May and since have been stabilized at a level permitting the company a greater margin of profit on its large volume of business.

Surplus Freight Cars Decrease.

Class 1 railroads on August 15 had 241,258 surplus freight cars in good repair and immediately available for service, according to the American Railway Association. This was a decrease of 15,954 cars compared with August 8.

New Building Declines.

The total of new construction started in 37 states east of the Rocky Mountains last week fell to $11,274,100 from $123,780,300 in the previous week, F. W. Dodge Corporation reports. The total to date this year, however, amounting to $4,439,903,400, is almost 4 per cent ahead of the first eight months of 1927. The daily average of contracts let since the first of the year is now $22,311,100, compared with $20,853,000 in the first eight months last year. The largest job contracted last week was the straightening of the Chicago River at a cost of $2,800,000.

Big Gas Deal Under Way.

Following the recent conference of gas men at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., steps are actively going forward for the formation of a mid-western and western utility holding company, to be incorporated under the laws of Delaware, composed of interests of the Lone Star Gas Corporation, Ohio Oil Company and Prairie Oil and Gas Company. Present plans indicate this will take its place among the country's large natural gas corporations. The Lone Star Gas Corporation is not interested as a corporation, but some of the important officials of Lone Star are interested to a big extent.

May List Montecatini.

Plans are under way to apply to the New York Stock Exchange for listing the capital stock of the Montecatini Mining and Agricultural Company, Inc., one of the largest industrial enterprises in Italy. It is believed in Wall street that the listing would make an important addition to the small group of foreign stocks now dealt in on the exchange.

Gulf Hits Texas Gusher.

All records scored by any well in West Texas are reported to have been broken by the Gulf Production Company No. 13 Yates in the Yates pool of Pecos county, with a measured flow of 2,756 barrels of oil in 30 minutes. This is at the rate of 123,648 barrels a day. Following the test the well was pinched in, as a result of the proration in effect in the pool.

Pittsburgh Coal Output.

Pittsburgh Coal Company last week established a new record high production level in more than three years when output of its mines in the Pittsburgh district was 220,309 tons, as compared with 191,445 tons in the previous week and the former record of 215,625 tons in the week ended July 28. Average number of men at work last week was 8,520, compared with 8,015 the week before.

Internal Revenue for Year.

Total internal revenue collections for fiscal year ended June 30 were $2,790,535,537, according to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Total is a decrease of $75,147,592 from the 1927 total of $2,865,683,129. Income tax receipts make up approximately 78 per cent of total receipts in 1928, against 77 per cent of total in 1927, and miscellaneous taxes account for 22 per cent in 1928, against 23 per cent in 1927.

Canadian Pool Fixes Prices.

The Journal of Commerce says: "Announcement that reduction to 85 cents will be made in the initial price farmers delivering wheat to the Canadian pool will receive, against $1 last year, removes another item that was regarded as likely to bring pressure on wheat futures."

Too Much Competition.

The Iroquois Electric Refrigeration Company, a subsidiary of the General Asphalt Company, announced that the business of that company will be terminated as of December 31, 1928, and that it will dispose of its electric refrigeration activities and other assets in that line to best advantage. Relinquishment of this undertaking is due to a conviction that the high cost and low competitive selling prices prevailing in this industry do not indicate early and satisfactory returns, and even ultimate financial success is not so close at hand. The "Big Three" in the refrigeration field are General Electric, General Motors (Frigidaire) and the Kelvinator Corporation.

Mack-White Rumor Again.

With both White Motors and Mack Truck showing strength, the street again revived talk of a consolidation of the two companies. Fact is there has always been something going on in this connection and it is supposed to be getting lively again. Renewal of activity in Mack at rising prices was an outcome of the conclusion arrived at by its market followers that it has as yet failed to measure up to the improvement shown in its second quarter earnings. A stale short interest has been outstanding in Mack Trucks for some time and it took little buying to start it on a vigorous spurt.

To the Employees of Gimbels Department Store

EIGHTY-SIX years ago the great chain of stores of which yours is a part had its humble beginning in a peddler's pack. Eighty-six years ago, Adam Gimbel, the founder of Gimbel Brothers, laid aside the peddler's pack he had carried from door to door and opened his first store—a little one-room affair—in Vincennes, Indiana.

From this one-room store in a little Hoosier hamlet has grown a group of six great department stores, located in four great cities. From a one-man business has grown a staff of 25,000 workers. This, in brief, is the history of Gimbel Brothers, your employers. It is one of the most inspiring stories in all the records of business enterprise.

Pittsburgh is proud to have a Gimbel store. We venture to predict that in the years to come, the Pittsburgh unit will continue to grow and eventually become one of the outstanding stores in the Gimbel group.

To the 2,500 employees of the Pittsburgh store, the Mellon National Bank extends a cordial invitation—an invitation to make use of any of the bank's facilities of which they may stand in need; to open an account; to seek the advice of the bank's officers on investments; to make use of the safe deposit service. Regardless of its size, the Mellon National Bank welcomes your account. You will find a checking account a great personal convenience.

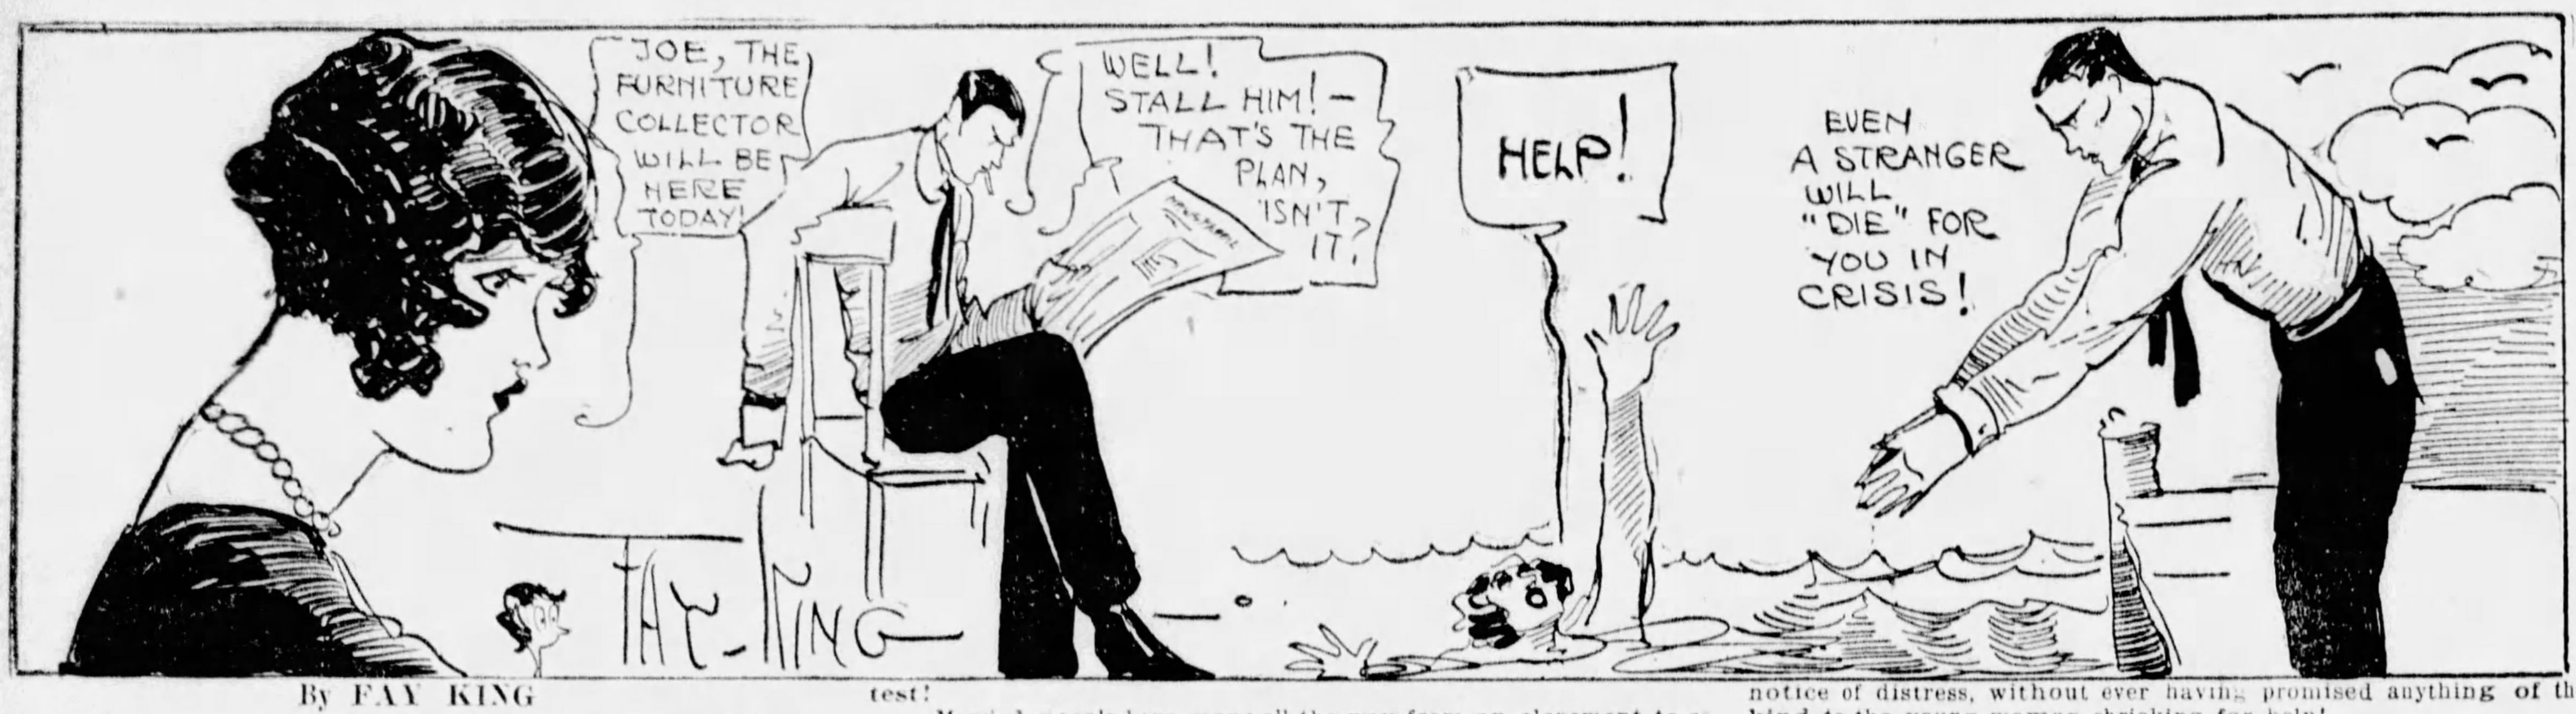
Fay King Discovers "I'll Die for You" an Empty Pledge of Courtship



JOE, THE FURNITURE COLLECTOR WILL BE HERE TODAY!
WELL! STALL HIM! — THAT'S THE PLAN, ISN'T IT?
HELP!
EVEN A STRANGER WILL "DIE" FOR YOU IN CRISIS!
FAY-KING

By FAY KING

"I'D DIE for you, sweetheart!" is still the most popular bromide of courtship!

Perhaps it has lasted so well because it is so rarely put to the test!

Married people have gone all the way from an elopement to a golden wedding anniversary without either being called upon to die for the other!

On the other hand, strangers have risked death at a moment's notice of distress, without ever having promised anything of the kind to the young woman shrieking for help!

Many girls have found to their sorrow that the young man who so willingly promised to die an untimely death for her, is not so quick with the timely payments on the furniture!

THE PRODUCE MARKET

The demand for fruit and vegetables at the local wholesale produce district was liberal today. The quotations were about unchanged.

Poultry was about steady, with demand fair, supplies liberal and quotations unchanged.

The cheese market was steady. Butter and eggs were firm. No change was made in the quotations on these markets.

Car-lot supplies were liberal, a total of 528 cars being on track. Arrivals included 13 cars of apples, 4 cabbage, 16 cantaloupes, 8 celery, 24 grapes, 1 lemons, 4 lettuce, 3 onions, 8 peaches, 4 pears, 22 potatoes, 9 sweet potatoes, 9 watermelons, 5 prunes, 2 peas and 9 cucumbers.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—The raw sugar market was easier early today with a sale reported of 20,000 bags of Philippines afloat to an output refiner at 4.11c delivered.

The issuance of 250 September notices in the raw sugar futures market had an unsettling effect and caused declines of 1 to 2 points in near months under commission house selling, but a firmer tone developed on covering and buying by trade interests. The early loss was recovered and at midday prices were 1 to 2 points net higher. Aside from the September and December positions, trading was on a limited scale with operators inclined to await developments in Cuba relative to the restriction program.

The refined market was unchanged at 5.65c for fine granulated with moderate withdrawals, but little new business reported.

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

SCHUMANN'S "Symphony No. 4," in D Minor, will be played under the direction of Willem Van Hoogstraten during the Lewisohn Stadium Concert to be broadcast through the NBC System, including KDKA, at 8:30 o'clock tonight. After an intermission, during which Rosalie Wolf, soprano, will sing a short song group from the NBC studios, the program will be resumed from the stadium with Bach's "Air for the Strings," from his Suite No. 3, which is well known and widely played in many different combinations today.

A rhythmic arrangement of Grieg's piece, "At the Carnival," from "Sketches of Norwegian Life," will be played during the Rhythmic Ripples, to be broadcast through KDKA at 8 o'clock. A concert arrangement of Greer's "Caressing Butterfly," Schertzinger's "Marcheta" and "Pagliaccique," arranged by Louis Kitzman from Leoncavallo's opera, "I Pagliacci," will be other features of the program.

A well-balanced program of selections from the classics will be broadcast as the regular Eveready hour over the NBC system, including WCAE, at 9 o'clock. Gounod's tragic-comic "Funeral March of a Marionette," the Cuban and Oriental numbers from Victor Herbert's Suite of Serenades, and Tschaikowsky's "Waltz of the Flowers" will be the musical highlights. Other features will include Sir Edward Elgar's march, "Pomp and Circumstance," the novelty descriptive piece, "In a Clock Store," and selections from "The Dollar Princess" as a xylophone solo by Joe Green. Besides the more important numbers, the Eveready Salon Orchestra, under the direction of Nat Shilkret, will offer a group of symphonic arrangements of popular dance tunes.

The La Palina hour, over WJAS at 9 o'clock, will feature the La Palina Boys in another of their specialties, and an orchestra, quartet and soloists in a group of popular numbers. At 10 o'clock "Myrtle Ferns" will be given by Hank Simmons' Dramatic Comedy Company aboard the show boat "Maybelle."

At 6 o'clock, over KDKA, a recital will be presented by Bertha Tanner Richards, soprano, well known to Pittsburgh and Allegheny county inhabitants. The singer has returned to Pittsburgh from New York, where she is now living, for a short vacation.

Airships and Submarines WILL Guarantee Peace;

"Anti-War Pacts" and Other Scraps of Paper WON'T!

THE man in the light soft hat is Secretary Davis, head of the War Department. With Major General Hines he is inspecting a battery of heavy cannon planted on the edge of the Pacific at San Francisco and SUPPOSED to protect our country.

General Hines PROBABLY knows, and Secretary Davis CERTAINLY knows, that such "coast defense" is a ridiculous, out-of-date waste of money.

The Secretary must have felt particularly disgusted when told that waste of the people's money on such obsolete cannon "is part of a ten-year programme of armament on the Coast." That means part of a ten-year plan to squander public funds for the benefit of gentlemen that manufacture cannon and think they need the money.

It is necessary to talk plainly about these things, that the people may think about them, and find a way to make the Government realize that the flying machine really exists and that it makes foolish coast defense cannon and battleships, that cost fifty millions each, worthless and wasteful.

* * *

This cannon is probably able to send a shell 30 miles out to sea. Suppose it could shoot 60 miles or 100 miles. What good would THAT do?

The other day, from the deck of the Ile de France, 450 miles out, an airplane was launched, luckily bringing mail—NOT T-N-T or poison gas.

The flying machine reached New York 15 hours ahead of the ship from which it had been launched. Had it come from an enemy vessel, launched secretly, as it might have been, it could have wrecked the lower part of New York, or, veering to the south, it could have wiped out the White House and the Capitol.

That fact ought to interest the President and Congressmen who spend the people's money in the Capitol building.

Nobody knows better than Secretary Davis how stupidly money is wasted when this country pays for coast defense cannon of this kind and for men to manage them.

Europeans are not going to send ships to our shores within range of these guns!

Mr. Davis, Secretary of War, Inspects One of Our Foolish Out-of-Date Popguns on the Pacific Coast

If they did send ships, they would be submarines that would enter San Francisco harbor, blow up shipping, bomb the city, release airplanes and go away again.

No nation is fool enough to send floating targets at which these silly guns could be aimed successfully.

The other day a California aviator, Colonel Goebel, flew without stopping from the Pacific to the Atlantic in less than nineteen hours.

Does that suggest any unpleasant possibility to dignified dodoes that run the Government and its futile defense department?

Does it not suggest to high-powered intellects that we ought to have a separate air force control, and cultivate to the limit the only two weapons that could possibly be useful in modern war—AIRPLANES and SUBMARINES?

Has anybody in our Government read about recent experiments in Britain?

Two hundred airplanes of the SEPARATE AND DISTINCT BRITISH AIR FORCE made an "attack" in mimic warfare on London, with searchlights, high-power machine guns, sound detectors and anti-aircraft guns theoretically defending the city. Military authorities of Europe, that ought to know something about war, having been through it, declared that absolute defense of London against airplanes is now shown to be impossible. The British have concentrated on air defense ever since the first German airship came zooming over their great city. But the problem is not solved. ONLY aircraft can fight off aircraft.

Colonel Goebel flew from the Pacific to the Atlantic in 19 hours without stopping. Who doubts that the nations of Europe, or of Asia, in case of war aimed at this country, would aim nonstop flights at our cities?

Already they can send ships loaded with destructive airplanes, launch them 500 or 1,000 miles away from our coast, and send them on their destroying errand.

After bombarding our cities with high explosives and deadly poison gases, they would simply fly over the Canadian border, land there and be "interned," assuming Canada to be neutral.

THIS COUNTRY NEEDS AIRSHIPS, and then more airships. It should patrol the oceans on all our coasts with planes and submarines to watch for enemy ships carrying planes in time of war.

This country does NOT need popguns, like the one Secretary of War Davis is examining here so solemnly.

The country does not need expensive battleships that are merely targets for air bombs and absolutely worthless.

It is a crime against the people to spend their money on such nonsense, and a greater crime against the safety of the country to depend upon such nonsense for defense.

Secretary Davis, let us hope, will join with others in asking President Coolidge, or the President that succeeds him, to make of our air force a real weapon of defense, controlled by a separate department, independent of all others, except the President himself, and more powerful than that of any other nation.

Airships and submarines will guarantee peace. "Anti-war pacts" and other scraps of paper won't.

Let's Support Splendid Move to Get Out Vote

A non-partisan movement to get out the vote in Allegheny county in the election, November 6, is being sponsored by various civic clubs. The organizations engaged in the campaign deserve the congratulations of the citizens—and more, they deserve the fullest co-operation.

A number of eligible voters find much to criticize in the running of our local government and their criticisms at times are sound. But such criticisms take on a hollow sound when it is discovered that many of the protesting citizens do not take the trouble to vote.

What helps to keep bad politicians in power is the lethargy of men and women who will not take the trouble to vote for good ones.

In sponsoring a movement to make all citizens conscious of their privilege—and duty—our local civic organizations are doing something notable for good government.

The best way to register support or disapproval of governmental methods is to mark your ballot. Criticism, not backed by the ballot, falls on deaf ears.

Check Up on Conditions At Our Swimming Pools

Pittsburgh citizens will expect the local authorities to see there is no repetition of the attack on two girls in one of the municipal swimming pools. Parents send their sons and daughters to these pools and they have every right to expect that the local authorities will afford complete protection.

The fact that the regular attendant at a local pool was supplanted by a relative who had no official status is sufficient reason to inquire if this practice is general in the city pools.

Let only the authorized guards serve at the pools and let the men in charge of these guards be positive they are of the highest character.

It is disquieting to read that a man supposed to guard the lives of our children is arrested for molesting them.

This may be a good time, before serious consequences have come, to make a check up of conditions at our swimming pools.

Actors and Talkies

No Good Invention Hurts Anybody.

Talking movies giving complete plays, perhaps with color added by the Eastman process, will be sent "on the road," and troupes of live actors will stay home.

The Actors' Equity Association looks for a slump with hard times coming for actors, but that's a mistake.

No great invention ever hurt anybody. The best actors will make more money in talking moving pictures than they ever made. The second-class men will do as well or better.

First and second-class will be able to rest and exercise while the film does the work.

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Chicago's New Heavens

CHICAGO, it seems, is to lead the western continent in the possession of a great planetarium—that new German instrument for the popular diffusion of astronomical knowledge, which within a few years past has been set up in many cities of Central Europe, such as Berlin, Leipsig, Jena, Vienna and others, to the great delight and edification of thousands of native and foreign visitors. Rome is to have one, and I should think Paris and London would each want one. No peace pact among the nations can be so pacifying to human passions as universal study of the starry heavens. And no books, or charts, or celestial globes can teach astronomy as fast, graphically, or as marvelously, as these great inverted domes, in which thousands may sit together while the seeming sky that arches over them is filled with the complicated motions of stars, planets, moons, comets, and other heavenly bodies represented with a realism, and a truth to nature, surpassing all that one could have imagined to be possible.

There you SEE the reason why the moon alters her shape as she changes her place in the sky; there you SEE the mysterious Procession of the Equinoxes which performs its wonderful function before your eyes, because the mechanism of the planetarium is able to hasten the centuries and the millenniums and in the course of an hour to carry the pole of the heavens through its vast 26,000-year revolution around the pole of the ecliptic. These terms are then no longer strange to you, but become as naturally descriptive of familiar phenomena as the words sunrise, moon and sunset.

The planetarium frees you from the fetters of mathematics, and becomes a graphic substitute for the scientific imagination. What the mathematical astronomer has worked out through generations of devoted intellectual service, the unlearned spectator, sitting comfortably under the dome of the planetarium, beholds spread over his head, self-explained.

The planetarium can carry you to the North or South Pole in a moment, when it is full flight there, in the middle of the polar winter. Then you may see the north star shining directly over your head and the starry sky, with planets and moon, turning horizontally around you. Another shift of the dome will show the sun rising on the horizon of the pole at the spring equinox, and then slowly spiraling up the sky, until it arrives at the summer solstice and for a time circles horizontally around the zenith at an elevation of 23½ degrees.

The planetarium is also able to show the sky as it appeared thousands of years ago, and as it will appear thousands of years in the future. It presents to you the heavens that the Chaldean shepherds saw when they watched and named the constellations; the heavens that the Egyptian priests studied when the star Alpha Draconis was the pole star, and the great pyramid of Cheops was constructed with its wonderful north-pointing passage, running through its masonry like a telescope tube hundreds of feet long, aimed at that very star. In short, it is possible with this astonishing instrument to present before the spectator not only the existing facts and scenes of astronomy, with the heavens appearing as they did to the eyes of the ancient philosophers and founders of the elements of science in the remotest times—in Greece, Egypt, Babylon, India and China.

These are costly instruments. Only great municipalities and generous millionaires are able to pay for them. Chicago is to put her planetarium on an island at the edge of the lake, near the Field Museum. New York might place one on the rocky heights of upper Manhattan, or over on the royal palisades. There is no doubt that this great peace gift of science will before long spread its benefactions from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Isn't It So?

No woman has any respect for a man who refuses to argue with her.

A man is seldom interested in the weight of another man's burden.

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

Have Mercy on Ugliness

THE homely person has burden enough to bear without having it alluded to at home or by others outside.

It is not the fault of the one with ugly features that he is so unattractive.

Every person who is so afflicted has many hours of regret.

The cross is heavy enough—why make it harder?

There is always the thought that the fates have been unkind and, while others have so much, they have so little of grace of form or of face.

And it is bound to sting harder if mentioned.

But the unfortunate possessor of coarse or unsightly features can overcome the handicap by studying how to make others forget it.

Some of the most popular and interesting persons possible to meet are those with no physical charm.

They have charm of another kind—charm of mind and personality.

They have such interesting thoughts, they are so kind, so thoughtful of others; they speak with pleasing voice, they never intrude—virtues that the handsome face very often does not possess.

Snubs and hard treatment make people ugly of mind; so help the homely girl and boy by treating them as if they were as good looking as they want to be.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELS

Sanctuary

EACH man, if he but wills it so, can build
To suit his need a refuge safe and sure,
A calm retreat where disorders all are stilled
And only issues formed of good endure.

It is as though some Eastern monarch went
From out the desert wastes of dust and heat
Into a flower-filled courtyard, where are blent
Laughter and song, with odors fresh and sweet.

Each man such haven, if he wills, can know,
Remote and passionless, though wild seas roll
And life's fierce tempests with mad fury blow;
But he must build it wisely in his soul.

Great Passages from the Bible

The Two Great Commandments

(Matthew 22; 16-21, 35-40)

AND they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men.

Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?

But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a penny.

And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

They say unto him, Caesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's.

Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

This is the first and great commandment.

And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

Tales that are Told

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

IT USED to be that girls that worked in people's kitchens didn't know so much as they do now. Why, 50 years ago they didn't even have radio to fall back on, and there was a lot of things they missed in their learning. So it might have been about that time that the lady said to the cook, "Say, Susan, you didn't wash these fish at all, did you?"

"No, of course not," she says. "Didn't the man say they were fresh right out of the water, and they'd been there ever since they was born? I wouldn't be washing them and wasting my time."

A Nasty Knock

FRANK SWINNERTON, English writer, said rather sourly to a New York reporter at the end of an unsuccessful lecture tour:

"You brag about your 'little theater' and 'village playhouse' movement. You pretend that these movements elevate the stage. Bah!

"I was to lecture in a New England village one night, and got there early in the morning. As I was taking a stroll after lunch I heard roars of laughter, peal on peal of merriment, coming from a large hall in the main street. The sound was so jolly and contagious that I couldn't help laughing myself.

"'Ha, ha, ha!' And I went into the hall and said to the young man at the box office:

"'Ha, ha, ha! What's going on inside?'

"'Our village playhouse company,' said he, 'is giving a matinee.'

"'And what farce,' I chuckled, 'are they playing?'

"'What say?' said the box office young man, for a regular storm of laughter had drowned my voice.

"'What merry farce—ha, ha, ha!—are they playing?' I repeated.

"'They ain't playin' no farce,' said the young man. 'They're playin' the tragedy of Macbeth.'"

O. O. McINTYRE

In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 28.—Kansas City seems to have entirely recovered from the recent political hoop-de-doo. A few weather-stained Hoover banners survive; otherwise one would never know of the history-making exercises held here so recently. The weather is hot, coats rare and perspiration profuse.

A messenger boy went crying through the station, "Telegram for Mr. Billie Burke."

"She isn't a he," I called to him, pleased with my worldliness. "And you ain't so he-looking yourself," he replied, which was rather snappy, but was it nice?

Kansas City interests me more than most cities. It was long the goal of youthful day dreams. On a farm 30 miles away I spent hours in lazy contemplation of becoming a reporter on the Star. And visualizing a headline in the county weekly: "Local Boy Now Big City Journalist."

The Kansas City of that period was encompassed in breakfast at the Coates House; cattlemen with their pistol holsters showing; the glass bar at the Elks' Club filled with running water and live fish; the stock yards; high stepping carriage horses and prize Holstein heifers.

I heard elders talk of the Kansas City "boom" and that things would never be the same. There was an El Dorado rush and the usual boom deflation. But the gloomy predictions failed. The only remaining touch of the K. C. I knew is the custom of sitting in front of hotels in sidewalk chairs.

The ramshackle old union station, so long an eyesore, is gone. It was fretted on all sides with cheap-john stores, labor agencies collecting human cargoes for Kansas wheat fields and Montana mines, pawn shops and other tawdry mumbo-jumbo of commercial riff-raff.

In its stead has arisen a labyrinthine temple of marble which for the size of the city is the most magnificent station in America. The boulevards and parks are world models. Kansas City has an insular smugness. It is the most sufficiently unto itself city anywhere. And there are dandy reasons for its pride.

Kansas City has red-corpuscled enthusiasm for fine bulls, sleek geldings and rare porkers. They discuss the fine points of a Poland China hog with the gusto of an art connoisseur over a rare bit of jade. And it would not be surprising if many could instantly recognize the proper bead on a glass of well aged Bourbon.

Peculiarly enough the flat "r" of the middle west is missing here. The old settlers were chiefly Virginians and Kentuckians and the pleasant inflections of the South have been handed down. "You all," "sho'ly," and the dropping of the final "r" are pronounced.

It is one of the few cities where dogs are permitted on street cars. I saw several passengers alight and their pooches trotted after them.

What New York knows as "a front" has no significance. Rich farmers drive in from fertile acres wearing cheap broad-brimmed straw hats, overalls and blue work shirts. Kansas City knows they will likely spend more in a day than dressed up slickers in a week and treats them accordingly. This is not to imply K. C. is a dowdily dressed city. But to judge a man by his clothes here would be utterly I don't know what.

Before starting for the train I told the taxi driver to drive some place for a bite to eat. "Plain or fancy?" he inquired. I replied my tastes were modest, and we drew up in front of one of those roadside ptomaine parlors. "Tell him to make you an Ajax," called the driver. An "Ajax" is a raw hamburger sandwich sprinkled with garlic and onions and covered with a rich brown gravy, and is another reason why I shall always adore Kansas City.
